Hensley,Philip Steer,2018-12-04 Ecological Form brings together leading voices in nineteenth century ecocriticism to suture the lingering divide between postcolonial and ecocritical approaches Together these essays show how Victorian thinkers used aesthetic form to engage problems of system interconnection and dispossession that remain our own The authors reconsider Victorian literary structures in light of environmental catastrophe coordinate natural questions with sociopolitical ones and underscore the category of form as a means for generating environmental and therefore political knowledge Moving from the elegy and the industrial novel to the utopian romance the scientific treatise and beyond Ecological Form demonstrates how nineteenth century thinkers conceptualized the circuits of extraction and violence linking Britain to its global network Yet the book's most pressing argument is that this past thought can be a resource for reimagining the present

Making Peace with the World Richard Sitler,2010-03-10 Photo documentary of Peace Corps volunteers serving communities around the world

Benchere in Wonderland Steven Gillis,2015-08-17 What is the role of art in the world And what is the responsibility of the artist After the death of his wife Michael Benchere a well respected sculptor and once famous architect looks for ways to redefine the meaning of his life through the purpose of his art Determined to create a sculpture that celebrates nothing more than the pure beauty of art Benchere heads into the Kalahari desert where he is followed quite unexpectedly by a ragtag mix of people Over the course of his months in the desert Benchere must address not only the relationship of his art to the world at large but his own relationship to the world and how our responsibilities our loves and dreams don t ever fade in time but in effect become evermore defined

Criticism, Crisis, and Contemporary Narrative Paul Crosthwaite,2011-01-05 The etymological affinity between criticism and crisis has never been more resonant than it is today when social life is increasingly understood as defined by a succession of overlapping global crises financial and economic crises environmental crises geopolitical crises terrorist crises public health crises But what is the role of literary and cultural criticism in conceptualizing this atmosphere of perpetual crisis If as Paul de Man maintained criticism necessarily exists in a state of crisis in what ways is this condition intensified at a time when the social formations within which criticism operates and the cultural artefacts that it takes as its objects are themselves pervaded by actual and imagined states of emergency This book the first sustained response to these questions demonstrates the capacity of critical thought working in dialogue with key narrative texts to provide penetrating insights into a contemporary landscape of global manufactured risk Written by an international team of specialist scholars the essays in the collection draw on a wide variety of contemporary theoretical fictional and cinematic sources ranging from Giorgio Agamben Jacques Derrida and Fredric Jameson to Cormac McCarthy Ian McEwan and Lauren Beukes to Ghost and the James Bond and National Treasure series Appearing in the midst of a phase of extraordinary turbulence in the fabric of our interconnected and interdependent world the book makes a landmark intervention in debates concerning the cultural ramifications of globalization

Shakespeare's Face Stephanie Nolen, 2011-04-13 On May 11 2001 Globe and Mail reporter Stephanie Nolen announced a stunning discovery to the world an attractive portrait held by an Ontario family for twelve generations which may well be the only known portrait of Shakespeare painted during his lifetime Shakespeare's Face is the biography of a portrait a literary mystery story and the furious debate that has ensued since its discovery A slip of paper affixed to the back proclaims Shakespere This likeness taken 1603 Age at that time 39 ys But is it really Shakespeare who peers at us from the small oil on wood painting The twinkling eyes reddish hair and green jacket are not in keeping with the duller traditional images of the bard But they are more suggestive of the humorous and humane man who wrote the greatest plays in the English language Shakespeare's Face tells the riveting story of how the painting came to reside in the home of a retired engineer in a mid sized Ontario town The painting is reputed to be by John Sanders of Worcester England As a retirement project the engineer whose grandmother kept the family treasure under her bed embarked on authenticating the portrait the forensic analyses that followed have proven it without doubt to the period In a remarkable publishing coup Knopf Canada has gathered around Stephanie Nolen's story a group of the world's leading Shakespeare scholars and art and cultural historians to delve into one of the most fascinating literary mysteries of our times Is this the face of genius Excerpt from Chapter 1 of Shakespeare's Face by Stephanie Nolen By the late afternoon I was beginning to go a little cross eyed I had examined countless documents and read the test results from the painting's painstaking forensic analysis I now had everything I needed to write my story except for one crucial item Is he here I asked almost in a whisper The owner laid the package carefully on the cluttered table He gently pulled back the kraft paper wrapping underneath which was a layer of bubble wrap Then he peeled back this second layer to reveal his treasure I was caught off guard by how small the portrait was and how vivid The colours in the paint seemed too rich to be 400 years old Except for the hairline cracks in the varnish the face could have been painted yesterday And there was nothing austere or haughty about it nothing of the great man being painted for posterity It was a rogue's face a charmer's face that looked back at me with a tolerant mischievous slightly world weary air It was painted on two pieces of solid board so expertly joined that the seam was barely visible A date Ano 1603 was painted in small red letters in the top right hand corner The right side had been nibbled by woodworms I stood and gazed quelling an instinctive urge to pick the portrait up and hold it in my hands And as my professional skepticism crumpled for a moment I found myself wanting desperately to believe that this was indeed Shakespeare's face Media Relations and the Modern First Lady Lisa M. Burns, 2020-02-06 Media Relations and the Modern First Lady From Jacqueline Kennedy to Melania Trump examines the communication strategies first ladies and their teams have used to manage press and public interest in their private lives to promote causes close to their hearts and to shape their public image Starting with Jacqueline Kennedy who was the first to have a staffer with the title press secretary each chapter explores the relationship between a first lady and the media the role played by her press secretary and communication staff in cultivating this relationship and the first lady's media coverage Contributors exploring the following questions How effective were the media relations and communication strategies of this first lady and her team What worked and what did not Was the first lady a communication asset to her husband's administration And what can we learn from their media relations strategies Along with contributing to the scholarship on presidential spouses the contributions to this volume also highlight the important role media relations plays in strategic political communication Scholars of communication media studies gender and women's studies political science and public relations will find this book particularly useful Key to Red Workbook Susan Wise Bauer, 2018-12-04 The Key to the Red Workbook gives clear thoroughly explained answers to all exercises in the Red Workbook the second of four non sequential books in the Grammar for the Well Trained Mind series providing detailed well designed exercises in the correct use of English grammar The Key along with the accompanying Red Workbook and the Core Instructor Text make up Grammar for the Well Trained Mind a complete course that takes students from basic definitions A noun is the name of a person place thing or idea through advanced sentence structure and analysis all the grammar skills needed to write and speak with eloquence and confidence This innovative program combines the three essential elements of language learning understanding and memorizing rules prescriptive teaching repeated exposure to examples of how those rules are used descriptive instruction and practice using those rules in exercises and in writing practical experience Each year parents and teachers go through the dialogue rules and examples in the Core Instructor Text students follow along in the Workbook This repetition solidifies the concepts definitions and examples in the student's mind There are four Student Workbooks one for each year Each Student Workbook contains the same rules and examples but four completely different sets of exercises and assignments allowing students to develop a wide ranging knowledge of how the rules and examples are put to use in writing Each Key to the Workbooks provides not only answers but also explanations for the parent instructor and guidance as to when the answers might be ambiguous as in English they often are All of the rules covered along with the repeated examples for each are assembled for ongoing reference in the Comprehensive Handbook of Rules This will become the student's indispensable guide to writing through high school into college and beyond Step by step instruction takes students from the most basic concepts through advanced grammatical concepts such as modal and hortative verbs and multiple functions of noun clauses Extensive diagramming exercises reinforce the rules and help technical and visual learners to understand and use the English language effectively Each step of the diagramming process is illustrated and thoroughly explained to the student Text for examples and exercises are drawn from great works of literature as well as from well written nonfiction texts in science mathematics and the social sciences Regular review is built into each year of work The Key accompanies the second of four non sequential workbooks each containing new exercises that allow students to practice and apply the grammar principles under study
