

The good wife's guide

- Have dinner ready. Plan ahead, even the night before, to have a delicious meal ready, on time for his return. This is a way of letting him know that you have been thinking about him and are concerned about his needs. Most men are hungry when they come home and the prospect of a good meal (especially his favourite dish) is part of the warm welcome needed.
- Prepare yourself. Take 15 minutes to rest so you'll be refreshed when he arrives. Touch up your make-up, put a ribbon in your hair and be fresh-looking. He has just been with a lot of work-weary people.
- Be a little gay and a little more interesting for him. His boring day may need a lift and one of your duties is to provide it.
- Clear away the clutter. Make one last trip through the main part of the house just before your husband arrives.
- Gather up schoolbooks, toys, paper etc and then run a dustcloth over the tables.
- Over the cooler months of the year you should prepare and light a fire for him to unwind by. Your husband will feel he has reached a haven of rest and order, and it will give you a lift too. After all, catering for his comfort will provide you with immense personal satisfaction.
- Prepare the children. Take a few minutes to wash the children's hands and faces (if they are small), comb their hair and, if necessary, change their clothes. They are little treasures and he would like to see them playing the part. Minimise all noise. At the time of his arrival, eliminate all noise of the washer, dryer or vacuum. Try to encourage the children to be quiet.
- Be happy to see him.
- Greet him with a warm smile and show sincerity in your desire to please him.
- Listen to him. You may have a dozen important things to tell him, but the moment of his arrival is not the time. Let him talk first - remember, his topics of conversation are more important than yours.
- Make the evening his. Never complain if he comes home late or goes out to dinner, or other places of entertainment without you. Instead, try to understand his world of strain and pressure and his very real need to be at home and relax.
- Your goal: Try to make sure your home is a place of peace, order and tranquillity where your husband can renew himself in body and spirit.
- Don't greet him with complaints and problems.
- Don't complain if he's late home for dinner or even if he stays out all night. Count this as minor compared to what he might have gone through that day.
- Make him comfortable. Have him lean back in a comfortable chair or have him lie down in the bedroom. Have a cool or warm drink ready for him.
- Arrange his pillow and offer to take off his shoes. Speak in a low, soothing and pleasant voice.
- Don't ask him questions about his actions or question his judgment or integrity. Remember, he is the master of the house and as such will always exercise his will with fairness and truthfulness. You have no right to question him.
- A good wife always knows her place.

Burke, 2011-03-25 Interpreting Life depicts one Christian woman s struggle to determine her place in the home and church as the traditional roles of the 1950s gave way to the chaos created by the social movements of the 1960s and 1970s Burke s lengthy journey brought her from a state of confusion to a conscious awareness of the effects of her cohort conservative religious beliefs and close relationships on her personal and spiritual development From childhood she worshipped with a church where submission scriptures in the New Testament were taken literally and women were not allowed to participate in any public leadership roles such as leading prayers and songs teaching adults or preaching As society changed and women gradually acquired leadership roles in other organizations these church practices became more stifling preventing many conservative women from using their God given talents Because of her marriage to a minister where she felt her family was living in a glass house it became exceedingly frustrating to adhere to traditional religious values Throughout this process their marriage relationship was repeatedly challenged but their commitment to each other and the church helped them resolve their differences and work together to reinterpret women s roles in the church Journal writing was the technique used to make sense of the contradictions and internal conflict experienced as this Christian woman attempted to remain faithful to her religious beliefs and yet develop to her full potential Excerpts from over thirty years of writing reveals the strategies Burke employed to remain positive and productive as family and church priorities took precedent over her own dreams

Vampires Don't Sleep Alone Del Howison,Elizabeth Barrial,2014-01-16 The secret to a successful relationship is openness You have to know each other where you came from what interests you have in common and if you share the same tastes Can you live with each others quirks and tics Do you love him for who he is or what he knows Does he love you as one might love a banquet Dating a vampire can be a slippery slope but it can also be an interesting and fulfilling period in your life There are challenges to overcome for sure like the possible age difference of hundreds or even thousands of years But what s a few years between lovers So what if he wants to feed from your circle of friends What difference does it make that he has had more sexual partners during his existence than the number of people you ll meet in your lifetime You re going to need help and this book has the answers Knowledge is power Give him a taste of you but maintain control Remember not even vampires sleep alone

The Political Theory of I Love Lucy Leslie Dale Feldman,2019-01-18 This book looks at how the classic television series fits into the cultural milieu of mid century America I Love Lucy incorporates key themes of the 1950s American political scene and classic American values of family social mobility community individualism and work keeping in mind that Luck as Machiavelli said is the arbiter of half of what we do As the beloved American TV queen Lucy Ricardo is a psychologically complicated character conflicted between her role as a 1950s housewife and her wish to be a star She is an icon of social mobility going from a small New York City apartment to a country house in a swanky suburb and an example of the transitional woman who wants to have it all Is she a feminist Is she a conformist Does she prefer the country to the city Whether she is working on the chocolate factory assembly line baking bread or achieving the American dream Lucy is always speeding it up
