

A painting of a secret garden. A stone archway frames a view of a lush garden with a spiral path, pink flowers, and a small stream. The scene is bathed in soft, golden light, suggesting a magical or hidden place. The title 'THE SECRET GARDEN' is written in a large, ornate, golden font across the top of the archway.

Mortal Secrets Frank Tallis, 2024-03-26 A chronicle of Vienna's Golden Age and the influence of Sigmund Freud on the modern world by a clinical psychologist whose mystery novels form the basis of PBS's Vienna Blood series Some cities are like stars When the conditions are right they ignite and burn with such fierce intensity that they outshine every other city on the planet Vienna was one such city and at the beginning of the twentieth century was the birthplace of the modern mind and the way we live today Long coffee menus and celebrity interviews are Viennese inventions Modern buildings were appearing in Vienna long before they started appearing in New York and the idea of practical modern home design originated in the work of Viennese architect Adolf Loos The place however where one finds the most indelible and profound impression of Viennese influence is inside your head How we think about ourselves has been largely determined by Vienna's most celebrated resident Sigmund Freud In Mortal Secrets Frank Tallis brilliantly illuminates Sigmund Freud and his times taking readers into the mind of one of the most influential thinkers of the twentieth century chronicling the evolution of psychoanalysis and opening up Freud's life to embrace the Vienna he lived in and the lives of the people he mingled with from Gustav Klimt to Arnold Sch nberg Egon Schiele to Gustav Mahler Mortal Secrets is a thrilling book about a heady time in one of the world's most beautiful cities and its long shadow that extends through the twentieth century up until the present day The Theosophist, 1899 The Vital Issue, 1914 A European Version of Victorian Fiction Allan

Conrad Christensen, 2023-04-12 In this first systematic assessment of Ruffini's literary achievement the seven novels that are apparently so different from each other emerge as an aesthetically coherent and individualized contribution to the mid Victorian fictional canon Composed in English by an Italian exile resident in Paris they describe interactions among men and women of many nationalities and trace interesting European journeys and pilgrimages during the early days of mass tourism While thus documenting such phenomena as expanding rail networks holiday resorts and health spas the novels dramatize more importantly the inadequacy of narrowly local and intolerant perspectives The protagonists must gain a broadly cosmopolitan vision and sense of mutuality as they pursue the common quest for self integration and for a purpose in life A patriotic commitment like that which had engaged Ruffini in his youthful Mazzinian phase cannot now offer that purpose and the narratives convey strong scepticism about other ideals such as romantic love too More positively the stories contain many dedicated physicians who practice a holistic medicine and who thereby substitute for the often sinister priests of a corrupt religious establishment Ministering to the humanity that Ruffini typically portrays as sick or wounded and tormented by misanthropy and guilt they are the chief mitigators of the bleakness of the modern condition Cassell's Weekly, 1923
