This book provides keys to decrypt current political debates on the environment in light of the theories that support them and provides tools to better understand and manage environmental conflicts and promote environmentally friendly behaviour As we work towards global sustainability at a time when efforts to conserve biodiversity and combat climate change correspond with land grabs by large corporations food insecurity and human displacement While we seek to reconcile more than human relations and responsibilities in the Anthropocene we also struggle to accommodate social justice and the increasingly global desire for economic development These and other challenges fundamentally alter the way social scientists relate to communities and the environment This book takes as its point of departure today s pressing environmental challenges particularly the loss of biodiversity and the role of communities in protected areas conservation In its chapters the authors discuss areas of tension between local livelihoods and international conservation efforts between local communities and wildlife and finally between traditional ways of living and modernity The central premise of this book is while these tensions cannot be easily resolved they can be better understood by considering both social and ecological effects in equal measure While environmental problems cannot be seen as purely ecological because they always involve people who bring to the environmental table their different assumptions about nature and culture so are social problems connected to environmental constraints While nonhumans cannot verbally bring anything to this negotiating table aside from vast material benefits that society relies on the distinct perspective of this book is that there is a need to consider the role of nonhumans as equally important stakeholders albeit without a voice This book develops an argument that human environmental relationships are set within ecological reality and ecological ethics and rather than being mutually constitutive processes humans have obligate dependence on nature not vice versa This would enable an ethical position encompassing the needs of other species and giving simultaneous without one being subordinated to another consideration to justice for humans and non humans alike The book is accessible to both social scientists and conservation specialists and intends to contribute to strengthening interdisciplinary collaborations in the field of conservation Energy Research Abstracts ,1986 Condensed Matter Nuclear Science - Proceedings Of The 11th International Conference On Cold Fusion Jean-paul Biberian,2006-02-15 The International Conference on Condensed Matter Nuclear Science is held annually on a different continent every time This volume documents the proceedings of the 11th conference held in Marseilles France It includes articles that indicate the current position of the condensed matter nuclear science field With an extensive collection of articles this volume is indispensable since very few papers related to this field are published in scientific journals Big, Bold and Blue James Fitzsimons,Geoff Wescott,2016-07-01 The world s oceans cover about 70% of our planet To safeguard the delicate ecological and environmental functions of the oceans and their remarkable biodiversity networks of marine protected areas are being created In some of these areas human activity is restricted to non exploitative activities and in others it is managed in a sustainable way Australia is at the forefront of marine conservation with one of the largest systems of marine protected areas in the world Big Bold and Blue Lessons from Australia s Marine Protected Areas captures Australia s experience sharing important lessons from the Great Barrier Reef and many other extraordinary marine protected areas It presents real world examples leading academic research perspectives on government policy and information from indigenous sea country management non governmental organisations and commercial and recreational fishing sectors The lessons learnt during the rapid expansion of Australia s marine protected areas both positive and negative will aid and advise other nations in their own marine conservation efforts The book is ideal reading for marine planners and managers across the globe academic institutions where research on marine environments occur government agencies across the world implementing and creating policy around MPA development non government organisations involved in lobbying for MPA expansion and fisheries agencies and industry stakeholders Aspect Beginner Game Heather Gunn,2014-06-23 Gather your friends for two adventures in one Whether new to roleplaying games or just new to Aspect this is the perfect starting point The Aspect Beginner Game contains TWO learn as you go adventures Choose from sixteen characters and embark on epic adventure just add dice and imagination Includes three double sided encounter maps 64 character standees player character sheets and quick start rules Urban Wetlands in Latin America Carolina Rojas Quezada,2024-11-12 This book is about the contribution of urban wetlands in livable cities Urban wetlands are very valuable blue green infrastructure spaces for human settlements yet they are disappearing as a result of urbanization This phenomenon is worldwide but is particularly intense in Latin America Although international literature has made an effort to document the multiple ecosystem services provided by these ecosystems such as water and air cleansing flood mitigation and recreation among others we want to draw attention to the fact that the loss of urban wetlands affects the sustainability of cities and future generations Therefore and given the weakness of public policies implemented in the region for their protection it is essential to highlight good practices mechanisms and strategies aimed at Protection Conservation Innovation Restoration and work with the Community all of this hand in hand with the 17 Sustainable Development Goals The book offers a comprehensive coverage combining the need to protect and conserve urban wetlands from the pressures of urban growth as well as highlighting successful experiences of regulation and of course applied research aimed at nature based solution design for flood management and wastewater treatment restoration areas green infrastructure plans as well as experiences of collective work with communities in contexts of political tensions for the defense of wetlands Federal Register ,1979-11 Transformative Politics of Nature Andrea Olive,Chance Finegan,Karen F. Beazley,2023-10-02 Transformative Politics of Nature highlights the most significant barriers to conservation in Canada and discusses strategies to confront and overcome them Featuring contributions from academics as well as practitioners the volume brings together the perspectives of both Indigenous and non Indigenous experts on land and wildlife conservation in a way that honours and respects all peoples and nature Contributors provide insights that enhance understanding of key barriers important actors and strategies for shaping policy at multiple levels of government across Canada The chapters engage academics environmental conservation organizations and Indigenous communities in dialogues and explorations of the politics of wildlife conservation They address broad and interrelated themes organized into three parts barriers to conservation transformation through reconciliation and transformation through policy and governance Taken together the essays demonstrate the need for increased social political awareness of biodiversity and conservation in Canada enhanced wildlife conservation collaborative networks and increased scholarly attention to the principles policies and practices of maintaining and restoring nature for the benefit of all peoples species and ecologies Transformative Politics of Nature presents a vision of profound change in the way humans relate to each other and with the natural world

Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature Anna Lorraine Guthrie,1915 An author subject index to selected general interest periodicals of reference value in libraries Handbook of Climate Services Walter Leal Filho,Daniela Jacob,2020-01-17 This book explores climate services including projections descriptive information analyses assessments and an overview of current trends Due to the pressures now being put on the world s climate it is vital to gather and share reliable climate observation and projection data which may be tailored for use by different groups In other words it is essential to offer climate services But despite the growth in the use of these services there are very few specialist publications on this topic This book addresses that need Apart from presenting studies and the results of research projects the book also offers an overview of the wide range of means available for providing and using climate services In addition it features case studies that provide illustrative and inspiring examples of how climate services can be optimally deployed
