Rethinking the Approach to Groundwater and Food Security Marcus Moench, Jacob J. Burke, Yarrow Moench, 2003-01-01 This study attempts to re frame the current thinking on groundwater development and the implications for food security

Groundwater is important in agriculture as it provides a reliable fallback when rainfeeding fails It is therefore instrumental in managing risk and optimizing food production However accessing groundwater has become habit and turned to dependency Resources limits on many key aquifers have been exceeded and competition for groundwater has become intense This study highlights the role of adaptive strategies in dealing with aquifer management and indicates directions of research and management

World Music Pedagogy, Volume VI: School-Community Intersections Patricia Shehan Campbell,Chee Hoo Lum,2019-04-11 World Music Pedagogy Volume VI School Community Intersections provides students with a resource for delving into the meaning of world music across a broad array of community contexts and develops the multiple meanings of community relative to teaching and learning music of global and local cultures It clarifies the critical need for teachers to work in tandem with community musicians and artists in order to bridge the unnecessary gulf that often separates school music from the music of the world beyond school and to consider the potential for genuine collaborations across this gulf The five layered features of World Music Pedagogy are specifically addressed in various school community intersections with attention to the collaboration of teachers with local community artist musicians and with community musicians at a distance who are available virtually The authors acknowledge the multiple routes teachers are taking to enable and encourage music learning in community contexts such as their work in after school academies museums and libraries eldercare centers places of worship parks and recreation centers and other venues in which adults and children gather to learn music make music and become convivial through music This volume suggests that the world s musical cultures may be found locally can be tapped virtually and are important in considerations of music teaching and learning in schools and community contexts Authors describe working artists and teachers scenarios vignettes and teaching and learning experiences that happen in communities and that embrace the role of community musicians in schools all of which will be presented with supporting theoretical frameworks

Mediating Climate Change Dr Julie Doyle,2013-01-28 Climate change has been a significant area of scientific concern since the late 1970s but has only recently entered mainstream culture and politics However as media coverage of climate change increases in the twenty first century the gap between our understanding of climate change and climate action appears to widen In this timely book Julie Doyle explores how practices of mediation and visualisation shape how we think about address and act upon climate change

Through historical and contemporary case studies drawn from science media politics and culture Mediating Climate Change identifies the representational problems climate change poses for public and political debate It offers ways forward by exploring how climate change can be made more meaningful through for example innovative forms of climate activism the reframing of meat and dairy consumption media engagement with climate events and science and artistic experimentation Doyle argues that cultural discourses have problematically situated nature and the environment as objects externalised from humans and culture Mediating Climate Change calls for a more nuanced understanding of human environmental relations in order for us to be able to more fully imagine and address the challenges climate change poses for us all To the

Secretary Mary Thompson-Jones, 2016-07-12 A former American diplomat reveals a disconnect between Washington policymakers and those who work in US embassies When the world awoke on November 28 2010 and read the first of the 251 287 State Department cables made public by WikiLeaks Italian Foreign Minister Franco Frattini warned It will be the September 11th of world diplomacy The WikiLeaks scandal certainly stirred tempers around the world but it was not the implosion that many leaders expected rather it shed a new spotlight on the work of the U S foreign service In To the Secretary Mary Thompson Jones explores the most fascinating and overlooked of these cables to offer an unparalleled window into the day to day work of U S diplomats demystifying the lives of those who implement America's foreign policy across the globe From the story of Bulgaria's Aleksis the Tractor Petrov to disappearing ballot ink in Ukraine a Honduran coup d'etat or disaster relief for a devastated Haiti To the Secretary depicts the work of ambassadors and foreign service officers through their firsthand narratives dealing with crises corruption and testy world leaders Negotiating distinctly un-American customs and corridors of power these shrewd brokers in embassies from Argentina to Zimbabwe worked tirelessly to promote American diplomacy in a world frequently hostile to the United States To the Secretary also reveals the disconnect that diplomats face at home guided by conflicting approaches from multiple Washington stakeholders intent on their own agenda often unaware of realities on the ground In an honest assessment of America's foreign policy challenges Thompson Jones describes the deepening gulf between decision makers in Washington and their diplomats in the field From misinterpreted analyses of anti-Americanism to Washington's unwillingness to send resources to support diplomatic activities that could make a difference To the Secretary shows what policymakers can learn from diplomats abroad and how this can strengthen America's place in an unstable world Barbed Wire Jayita Sengupta, 2020-11-29 The book is an anthology of creative and critical responses to the many partitions of India within and across borders By widening and reframing the question of partition in the subcontinent from one event in 1947 to a larger series of partitions the book presents a deeper perspective both on the concept of partition in understanding South Asia and understanding the implications from survivors victims and others The imagery of the barbed wire in the title is used precisely to confront the jaggedness of experiencing and surviving partition that still haunts the national literary religious and political matrices of India The volume is a compilation of short stories poems articles news reports and memoirs with each contributor bringing forth their perception of partition and its effects on their life and identity The many narratives amplify the human cost of partitions examining the complexities of a bruised nation at the social psychological and religious levels of consciousness The book will appeal to anyone interested in literary studies history politics sociology cultural studies and comparative literature Introducing Human Geographies Paul J. Cloke, Phil Crang, Mark A. Goodwin, 2005 A comprehensive stimulating and innovative introduction to human geography Scattered Lives of 'Stateless' People Nasir Uddin, 2025-11-24 This book offers a comprehensive exploration of the Rohingya people across South and Southeast Asia focusing on the often overlooked experiences of over 12 million Rohingya apart from over half a million living in Myanmar and 13 million in Bangladesh residing in SAARC and ASEAN countries including India Pakistan Nepal Malaysia Indonesia and Thailand It addresses the ongoing fear of further genocidal attacks among those still in Rakhine State and delves into the complex political dynamics and regional responses to the crisis The book discusses the post 2017 realities of these refugees exploring their survival strategies coping mechanisms and aspirations for a better future It presents the current conditions faced by the Rohingya including identity crises educational challenges social integration issues discrimination and citizenship dilemmas in Myanmar Bangladesh India Pakistan Nepal Indonesia Malaysia and Thailand By illuminating their experiences it highlights the resilience of the Rohingya their struggles with scarcity and discrimination and their unwavering hope for a better future providing an essential foundation for understanding their complex realities Nasir Uddin is a Cultural Anthropologist and a Professor of Anthropology at the University of Chittagong Qatar and the 2022 FIFA World Cup Paul Michael Brannagan, Danyel Reiche, 2022-03-28 This book offers the first full academic analysis of the Qatar 2022 FIFA World Cup Adopting an international relations perspective the authors critically interrogate the politics and controversy that has surrounded arguably the most controversial sports event ever In doing so this text offers up an imperative examination of Qatar's desired objectives through their investment in global sport and sports events as well as provides readers with an academic explanation on why major event hosts such as Qatar receive so much international scrutiny in the pre event stage of the event hosting process On the back of this international scrutiny this text also provides the first full analysis on how such negative scrutiny has forced Qatar to implement various social political changes at home Culture and Politics in South Asia Dev Nath Pathak, Sasanka Perera, 2017-07-20 This volume looks at the politics of communication and culture in contemporary South Asia It explores languages signs and symbols reflective of current mythologies that underpin instances of performance in present day India and its neighbouring countries From gender performances and stage depictions to protest movements folk songs to cinematic reconstructions and elections to war torn regions the chapters in the book bring the multiple voices embedded within the grand theatre of popular performance and the cultural landscape of the region to the fore Breaking new ground this work will prove useful to students and researchers in sociology and social anthropology art and performance studies political studies and international relations communication and media studies and culture studies Media Asia ,1998 The Journey to Inclusion Xuan Thuy Nguyen,2015-12-22 This book offers insight on the politics of inclusion in Vietnam through a Foucauldian and post colonial perspective on disability and education Drawing on a socio historical analysis of the inclusion of disabled people in Vietnam in the twenty first century the book guides readers through a history of the present By reflecting on the treatment of disabled people in Vietnamese social history the book argues that this journey to inclusion calls for critical reflections on the challenges and possibilities for policies to transform exclusion for disabled people The book unveils the problematics of social and educational institutions in governing disability and difference through a critical reflection on discourses and power in the global and local juncture in relation to its engagement with disability in the global South The intersection between the global politics of disability rights and development and the local politics of inclusion in Vietnam shapes the cultural politics of education The ways inclusive education is historically constructed within this socio historical condition reflects the challenges of inclusive thought and action for transforming injustice Going beyond deconstructive politics The Journey to Inclusion argues for a re positioning of the relationships between the global North and South as an alternative approach to inclusion It suggests that critical research must construct a politics of engagement with subjugated voices and representations in transnational national and local contexts A reflexive critical and inclusive dialogue that engages with Southern knowledge offers a political platform for reframing justice in the twenty first century Green Web-II Medani P. Bhandari,2022-09-01 This second edition of the book Green Web II Standards and Perspectives from the IUCN Program Policy Development in Environment Conservation Domain with reference to India Pakistan Nepal and Bangladesh investigates the IUCN s role in global biodiversity conservation policy as well as in national program development in India Pakistan Nepal and Bangladesh It explores how nature protection priorities and approaches are promoted or addressed by IUCN and how environment conservation policies are created and maintained in states of South Asia with different capacities It also evaluates IUCN s competency in biodiversity climate change nature conservation and environmental policy formulation at the global regional and country levels This book adds to our knowledge firstly by contributing to a small but growing body of work on the sociology of international organizations International Governmental Organizations IGOs have previously been mainly the subject of political science Secondly it critically explores one of the largest and most active nature conservation organizations in the world Thirdly it also explores how IUCN actually goes about building protectoral programs with individual member nations Finally the research also shows the historical development of global institutions and IUCN s activities with member nations in helping to define or redefine the concept of global governance The outcomes of this research will also be beneficial for global collaboration networking and for the identification of common concerns among the many environmental and conservational organizations at the international and national level In this broader sense the research outcomes might be beneficial to constituencies of the global North as well as global South because of the nature and coverage of IUCN and its role in conservation policy formation This effort may serve as a model for additional research on international organizations Technical topics discussed in the book include The Motivation for Environmental Conservation How personal efforts make a difference The Role of International Environment Conservation Organizations The Political Economy of Organizations Network theory Institutional theory Stakeholder theory Governance theory Governance performance and Competitiveness Popularity indices Knowledge creation and diffusion Conservation commons Towards Elimination of Dog Mediated Human Rabies Salome Dürr,Anna Sophie Fahrion,Lea Knopf,Louise Taylor,2017-10-06 Rabies is an ancient zoonotic viral disease that still exerts a high impact on human and animal health The disease is almost 100% fatal after clinical signs appear and it kills tens of thousands of people per year worldwide particularly in Africa and many parts of Asia Although the disease in humans can be prevented by timely post exposure prophylaxis its access and affordability is limited in rabies endemic countries With 99% of infections in humans caused by rabid domestic dog bites controlling the infection in this reservoir population has been proven to be most effective to reduce and eliminate human rabies cases In this context this Research Topic invited contributions on the control and elimination of dog mediated human rabies Publications on epidemiological educational policy related and economic aspects of dog and human rabies surveillance implementation of control in dogs and humans and scientific documentation of success stories were consolidated We hope that these articles contribute to reaching the ambitious goal set by key players in global health of the elimination of dog mediated human rabies by 2030 Annual Review of United Nations Affairs Clyde Eagleton,1994 Contains the proceedings of the 1st Institute for Annual Review of United Nations Affairs New York University 1949
