Since nothing does, she comes up with the name Lornge and the parrot becomes the newest member of the Dumbello family. But there's something odd about Lornge. He never sleeps. Or as he puts it, I tell no lies nor shut my eyes. It's summer and school's out. Chester's favorite time of year because the other kids can't bother him about his unusual mother. But he feels trapped in a tug of war between his aunt Dolly who wants Chester to visit and his mom who doesn't want him to go. Then one night Lornge takes him to the planet Alert where sleeping is against the law. Chester is adopted by a family named Quick, boasting a mother and a father, and meets all kinds of strange and interesting people. He goes to school but before long he is convicted of being a shuteye and gets thrown in jail. Suddenly his home in Lucy, Mississippi is looking a whole lot better. This is a wildly inventive novel about a boy who yearns to run away only to discover that there's no place like home. This ebook features an illustrated personal history of M. E. The Journal Book for Teachers of At-risk College Writers Susan Gardner, Toby Fulwiler, 1999. Educators across the grades and across the curriculum have long recognized the usefulness of journals to help student writers. But what about basic writers, learning disabled students, and nontraditional and returning students? One of the values of journal writing is its accessibility, yet no one has seemed to consider how at-risk students might benefit. With this new collection, the first of its kind, Susan Gardner and Toby Fulwiler provide much needed advice. The authors of these essays are all experienced teachers of at-risk writers, both at two- and four-year colleges. They know the at-risk students they are describing. Some readers will recognize the students as basic writers in basic writing courses. Others will find chapters written by writing center directors who serve a variety of students we might term as at-risk. There are also chapters from educators who work specifically with Deaf students, ADHD students, and learning disabled students. Each one describes uses of the journal and the adjustments to the assignment that make the journal such an accessible and instructive writing genre.
