And by the time the Walters gather for a summer wedding, the stakes have never been higher for Lizzy for her family and for love. A Hopeless Romantic With her life in tatters around her, Laura Foster agrees to go on vacation with her parents. After a few days of visiting craft shops and touring the stately homes of England, Laura is ready to tear her hair out. And then she crosses paths with Nick, the sexy, rugged estate manager. She finds she shares more than a sense of humor with him; in fact, she starts to think she could fall for him. But is Nick all he seems? Or has Laura got it wrong again? Will she open her heart only to have it broken again? The Love of Her Life Kate Miller, a Londoner turned New Yorker, is in love with the pace and rhythm of Manhattan. But deep down, she knows that there is something someone more to love. But when her father becomes ill, Kate realizes it's time to return and face the friends and the memories she left behind. What really happened before Kate left London? Can she pick up the pieces and allow herself to love life again? Love Always When Natasha Kapoor returns to her grandparents' idyllic coastal home for her beloved grandmother's funeral, her life is at a turning point. at mid century treated farm women as consumers not producers New technologies as promoted by agricultural extension agents and by home appliance manufacturers were expected to create separate spheres of work in the field and in the house These innovations however enabled women to work as operators of farm machinery or independently in the rural community

Jellison finds that many women preferred their productive roles on and off the farm to the domestic ideal emphasized by contemporary prescriptive literature A variety of visual images of farm women from advertisements and agricultural publications serve to contrast the publicized view of these women with the roles that they chose for themselves The letters interviews and memoirs assembled by Jellison reclaim the many contributions women made to modernizing farm life
