Smart Power And U S National Strategy:

Smart Power and U.S. National Strategy Francisco R. Wong-Diaz, 2013 The publication of this monograph coincides with the major strategic reassessment of U S national security interests and future military posture taking place at the national level The strategic environment of today requires astute statecraft to formulate and execute grand strategy strategy that effectively blends all forms of power and uses them smartly Though there is no consensus on what constitutes smart use of U S power the concept of smart power is a dominant theme in policy circles Smart power however defined is directly relevant to the SOF community With a smaller footprint than conventional forces SOF are both a cost effective and less visible instrument of national power SOF are expected to combine both hard and soft power approaches instinctively to achieve strategic level effects Using case studies from around the world the author expertly draws the links between the strategic level projection of power by states and their consequences on the ground

Strategic Communication Christopher Paul, 2011-04-07 This volume in the Contemporary Military Strategic and Security Issues series presents a concise introduction to the evolution key concepts discourse and future options for improved strategic communication in today s U S government Strategic Communication Origins Concepts and Current Debates is a groundbreaking study the first book explicitly focused on strategic communication as it is currently used and discussed in the U S government Written specifically for those who are new to strategic communication this incisive book clarifies the definitional debate explores the history of the term and its practice and embraces a broad practical definition But that is only the beginning Moving to the realities of the issue author Christopher Paul reviews dozens of government reports on strategic communication and public diplomacy released since 2000 examining specific proposals related to improving strategic communication in the U S government and explaining the disagreements Most important he offers consensus and clarity for the way ahead discussing how disparate elements of the government can be coordinated to master and win the war of ideas through fully integrated and synchronized communications and actions U.S. Army War College Key Strategic Issues List Army War College (U.S.). Strategic Studies Institute,2009 The purpose of the Key Strategic Issues List KSIL is to provide military and civilian researchers a ready reference for issues of special interest to the Department of the Army and the Department of Defense DoD Unlike other lists that generally reflect issues which are operational or tactical in nature the focus of the KSIL is strategic It highlights topics that senior Army and DoD leaders should consider in providing military advice and formulating military strategy At present the U S military is engaged in a changing situation in Iraq and an increasing presence in Afghanistan as well as efforts to restore balance in force sizing and structure With the publication of the 2009 KSIL the Strategic Studies Institute and the U S Army War College invite all researchers to contribute to informing America s leaders of current and emerging challenges

US Strategy in Africa David J Francis,2010-02-25 This book outlines the construction interpretations and understanding of US strategy towards Africa in the early twenty first century No single issue or event in the recent decades in Africa has provoked so much controversy and unified hostility and opposition as the announcement by former President George W Bush of the establishment of the United States Africa Command AFRICOM The intensity and sheer scale of the unprecedented unity of opposition to AFRICOM across Africa surprised many experts and lead them to ask why such a hostile reaction occurred This book explores the conception of AFRICOM and the subsequent reaction in two ways Firstly the contributors critically engage with the creation and global imperatives for the establishment of AFRICOM and present an analytical outline of African security in relation to and within the context of the history of US foreign and security policy approaches to Africa Secondly the book has original chapter contributions by some of the key actors involved in the development and implementation of the AFRICOM project including Theresa Whelan the former US Deputy Assistant Secretary for African Affairs This is not only an attempt to contribute to the academic and policy relevant debates based on the views of those who are intimately involved in the design and implementation of the AFRICOM project but also to show in their own words that America has no clandestine agenda for Africa This book will be of interest to students of US foreign policy national security strategic studies international security and African politics David J Francis is Chair of African Peace Conflict Studies in the Department of Peace Studies at the University of Bradford

The New US Strategy towards Asia William T Tow,Douglas Stuart,2014-12-17 Barack Obama s rebalancing or pivot strategy intended to demonstrate continued US commitment to the Asia Pacific region in a variety of military economic and diplomatic contexts was launched with much fanfare in 2011 Implicit in the new strategy is both a focus on China engagement with and containment of and a heavy reliance by the United States on its existing friends and allies in the region in order to implement its strategy This book explores the impact of the new strategy on America s regional friends and allies It shows how these governments are working with Washington to advance and protect their distinct national interests while at the same time avoiding any direct confrontation with China It also addresses the reasons why many of these regional actors harbour concerns about the ability of the US to sustain the pivot strategy in the long run Overall the book illustrates the deep complexities of the United States exercise of power and influence in the region

Electric Power and Energy in China Zhenya Liu,2013-12-31 The acute energy problems facing China today are characterized by their own histories and realities Some have come about because of China s energy endowment and stage of development while others have been created by a combination of domestic and global factors Some are the results of an accumulation of longstanding contradictions while others are new challenges posed by the new order There are no miracle cures to solve these problems instantly What is needed is a tireless enquiry with goals planning and procedures guided by a clear energy strategy With China s increasing dependence on foreign energy sources and the global energy situation and greenhouse gas issue exerting an increasingly prohibiting effect on China s energy development energy diplomacy has become an important component of Chinese diplomatic affairs Based on a broad energy outlook this book studies and analyzes China s energy issues and energy strategies from the perspective of electric power Discusses a variety of issues including energy transportation and allocation end user consumption markets early warning and emergency technical innovation As a leading player in the power and energy area China s strategies attracts global attention Proposes the innovative idea of Macro Energy Perspective As a key player in China s energy industrial circle the author s perspective can help global audiences to understand China s energy strategies better Electric Power and Energy in China is ideal for government energy policy makers engineers scientists and enterprise managers to understand China s strategy in electric power and energy It is also a good reference for energy economics researchers consultants and university students

Foreign Aid Reform Susan B. Epstein,2010-06 In Jan 2006

Sec of State Rice announced the transformational development initiative to bring coordination and coherence to U S aid programs She created a new Bureau which developed a Strategic Framework for Foreign Assistance to align aid programs with strategic objectives The Framework became a guiding force in the FY 2008 and FY 2009 budgets as well as the FY 2010 budget request Numerous studies have addressed various concerns and provided recommendations regarding U S foreign aid policy funding and structure Of the 16 recommendations only enhancing civilian agency resources has the support of all of the studies covered in this report This report is a review of selected studies written between 2001 and 2008 Table

Invigorating Defense Governance Kathleen H. Hicks,2008 The Art of Peace Juliana Geran Pilon,2017-07-05 Sun Tzu author of The Art of War believed that the acme of leadership consists in figuring out how to subdue the enemy with the least amount of fighting a fact that America s Founders also understood and practiced with astonishing success For it to work however a people must possess both the ability and the willingness to use all available instruments of power in peace as much as in war US foreign policy has increasingly neglected the instruments of civilian power and become overly dependent on lethal solutions to conflict The steep rise in unconventional conflict has increased the need for diplomatic and other non hard power tools of statecraft The United States can no longer afford to sit on the proverbial three legged national security stool military diplomacy development where one leg is a lot longer than either of the other two almost forgetting altogether the fourth leg information especially strategic communication and public diplomacy The United States isn t so much becoming militarized as DE civilianized According to Sun Tzu self knowledge is as important as knowledge of one s enemy if you know neither yourself nor the enemy you will succumb in every battle Alarminglly the United States is deficient on both counts And though we can stand to lose a few battles the stakes of losing the war itself in this age of nuclear proliferation are too high to contemplate China Agenda Setting in South Asia: Skills of Smart Power Sudip Pandit,2019-09-17

Academic Paper from the year 2018 in the subject Politics Other International Politics Topics Tribhuvan University Department of Conflict Peace and Development Studies language English abstract In setting of today s international system the Chinese foreign policy in South Asia is increasingly influenced due to the determinants of geopolitical and political economy outlooks This paper attempts to explore Chinese agenda setting in South Asia in terms of soft and hard power policies China has been expanded its geopolitical and economic interest in South Asia by means of investment aid military assistance economic cooperation and trade ties By using as an instrument of smart power adroit behavior of using soft and hard power collectively has become a vehicle to promote the Chinese national interests in South Asia Based on the analysis of various determinants concerning soft and hard power this paper contextualized that China is competently functioning its skills of smart power in realm of South Asia
