South Africa Defence Force 2015:

South Africa's Post-Apartheid Military Lindy Heinecken, 2020-01-01 This timely book examines how the South African National Defence Force has adapted to the country's new security political and social environment since 1994. In South Africa's changed political state, how has civilian control of the military been implemented and what does this mean for defence in a democracy? This book presents an overview of the security environment, how the mission focus of the military has changed and the implications for force procurement, force preparation, force employment and force sustainability. The author addresses other issues such as the effect of integrating former revolutionary soldiers into a professional armed force, the effect of affirmative action on meritocracy, recruitment and retention, military veterans looking at the difficulties they face in reintegrating back into society and finding gainful employment, gender equality and mainstreaming, the rise of military unions and why a confrontational instead of a more corporatist approach to labour relations has emerged, HIV/AIDS and the consequences this holds for the military in terms of its operational effectiveness. In closing, the author highlights key events that have caused the SANDF to become lost in transition and transformation, spelling out some lessons learned. The conclusions she draws are pertinent for the future of defence security and civil-military relations of countries around the world.

Reforming Civil-Military Relations in New Democracies Aurel Croissant, David Kuehn, 2017-03-20 This book addresses the challenge of reforming defense and military policy making in newly democratized nations. By tracing the development of civil-military relations in various new democracies from a comparative perspective, it links two bodies of scholarship that thus far have remained largely separate: the study of emerging or failed civilian control over armed forces on the one hand and work on the roots and causes of military effectiveness to guarantee the protection and security of citizens on the other. The empirical and theoretical findings presented here will appeal to scholars of civil-military relations, democratization and security issues as well as to defense policy makers.

Private Military and Security Contractors Gary Schaub, Jr., Ryan Kelty, 2016-06-16 In Private Military and Security Contractors, PMSCs, a multinational team of scholars and experts address a developing phenomenon: controlling the use of privatized force by states in international politics. Robust analyses of the evolving multi-layered tapestry of formal and informal mechanisms of control address the microfoundations of the market, such as the social and role identities of contract employees, their acceptance by military personnel and potential tensions between them. The extent and willingness of key states—South Africa, the United States, Canada, the United Kingdom and Israel—to monitor and enforce discipline to structure their contractual relations with PMSCs on land and at sea is examined, as is the ability of the industry to regulate itself. Also discussed is the nascent international legal regime to reinforce state and industry efforts to encourage effective practices, punish inappropriate behavior and shape the market to minimize the hazards of loosening states' oligopolistic control over the means of legitimate organized violence. The volume presents a theoretically informed synthesis of micro and macro levels of analysis, offering new insights into the challenges of Researching the Military Helena Carreiras, Celso Castro, Sabina Frederic, 2016-03-02 Researching the Military focuses on the experiences of researchers who study the military around the world It explores the historical social institutional and personal factors that frame research and scrutinize the way knowledge in this area impacts society and policy More than merely analyzing research experiences yet necessarily including them it is also about the experiences of researchers their position with regard to the object of their studies the institutional context where they work and the way their research impacts the academic and policy making fields in the respective countries The common theme to the various chapters is reflexivity a conscious effort at addressing the conditions of research and the position of the researcher and the research participants in that interface By collecting diverse experiences of researchers from across the world this volume aims to enhance reflexivity in the field of military studies and to encourage the exchange of knowledge between the academic field and the military arena This book will be of much interest to students of military studies research methods sociology social anthropology and security studies in general South Africans versus Rommel David Brock Katz, 2017-11-15 After bitter debate South Africa a dominion of the British Empire at the time declared war on Germany five days after the invasion of Poland in September 1939 Thrust by the British into the campaign against Erwin Rommel s German Afrika Korps in North Africa the South Africans fought a see saw war of defeats followed by successes culminating in the Battle of El Alamein where South African soldiers made a significant contribution to halting the Desert Fox s advance into Egypt This is the story of an army committed somewhat reluctantly to a war it didn t fully support ill prepared for the battles it was tasked with fighting and sent into action on the orders of its senior alliance partner At its heart however this is the story of men at war Policing and Boundaries in a Violent Society Guy Lamb, 2022-01-31 This book explores how social and territorial boundaries have influenced the approaches and practices of the South Africa Police Service SAPS By means of a historical analysis of South Africa this book introduces a new concept police frontierism which illuminates the nature of the relationships between the police policing and boundaries and can potentially be used for future case study research Drawing on a wealth of research this book examines how social and territorial boundaries strongly influenced police practices and behaviour in South Africa and how social delineations amplify and distort existing police prejudices against those communities on the other side of the boundary Focusing on cases of high density police operations public order policing and the recent policing of the COVID 19 lockdown this book argues that poor economic conditions combined with an increased militarisation of the SAPS and a decline in public trust in the police will result in boundaries continuing to fundamentally inform police work in South Africa This book will be of interest to scholars and students interested in policing in post colonial societies characterised by high levels of violence as well as police work and police militarization Military Operations in Response to Domestic Emergencies and Global Pandemics Lindy Heinecken, Christian Leuprecht, 2025-07-24 This open access book provides a comparative analysis of the deployment of the military in domestic operations the use of the armed forces during the COVID 19 pandemic and the impact of that deployment on civil military relations in 26 countries worldwide The book examines the legal and constitutional regulations under which the military can serve in domestic roles and the extent of domestic deployment before the COVID 19 pandemic It focuses on the roles in which the military served during the pandemic the resources available and the readiness and effectiveness of the military response The volume addresses whether or not the pandemic response was securitized the extent of civilian oversight and control the accountability measures in place and the impact of the COVID 19 deployment on the military's image. The volume captures the lessons learnt from the COVID 19 deployment and the implications for future force design structure and organizational transformation. Since almost all countries used their military in some capacity to respond to the COVID 19 pandemic, this volume offers an opportunity to compare use of the armed forces to provide domestic humanitarian assistance and disaster response.

Military Psychology for Africa Gideon Van Dyk, 2016-03-17 Military Psychology for Africa is the first textbook of its kind from Africa. Selected authors with competent military psychology knowledge, skills, expertise, and experience each contributed a chapter to this unique book. The book empowers academics, students, and military fellows to apply this knowledge at academic institutions and military units during operations and in presenting short courses. The book will also equip soldiers with new knowledge for advancing peace on the continent and abroad.

Air Power in the Indian Ocean and the Western Pacific Howard M. Hensel, 2020-06-04 This book examines the security dynamics of the Indian Ocean and the Western Pacific, concentrating upon an analysis and evaluation of the air power capabilities of the various powers active in the two regions. The volume is designed to help improve understanding of the heritage and contemporary challenges confronting the global community in the Indian Ocean and the Western Pacific, as well as to illuminate the policies of the various powers involved in the affairs of these regions and the military capabilities that are available in support of those policies. The 16 individual chapters examine both the traditional and the non-traditional threats that confront the various Indian Ocean and Western Pacific powers and assess the roles played by land-based and naval fixed-wing and rotary-wing manned and unmanned aircraft, as well as by offensively and defensively capable ballistic and cruise missiles in addressing these challenges. In doing so, the various chapters analyze and evaluate the air power doctrine, capabilities, deployment patterns, and missions of the respective states. In addition, they assess the future issues, challenges, and responses involving air power as it acting in concert with other military instruments seeks to contribute to securing and promoting the interests of the state. This book will be of much interest to students of air power, strategic studies, Asian and Middle Eastern politics, and International Relations.

Silencing the Guns in Africa Antonio Garcia Jacob, 2025-03-14 The scholarship of this book is drawn from local and international experts by framing critically a number of discourses on matters of security, conflict, violence, and peace on the African continent. It is indeed a breath of fresh air to the scientific community, largely because it contributes to the on-going debates on security issues. Dr Ntsikelelo Benjamin Breakfast, Director of the Center for Security, Peace, and Conflict Resolution at Nelson Mandela University. This book makes a deep contribution to scholarly literature on conflict studies, peacekeeping, and peacebuilding in Africa. Written largely from the perspective of the applied social sciences, it is empirically rich and offers refreshing insights into social behaviour in military contexts. This is a timely contribution because current public discourse in South Africa is centred on the gains and missed opportunities of thirty years of democracy, and new lenses are welcome. Many of the chapters reflect South African experiences. This is to be welcomed as it demonstrates that scholars and practitioners from the country are reflecting on the complexities of South African experiences of defence and security matters in contemporary times Dr Sandy Africa Director of Research at Mapungubwe Institute for Strategic Reflection MISTRA This volume brings together the voices of scholars and practitioners a diverse group of writers who are passionate about and committed to creating a safer more prosperous and peaceful Africa Each with their own specialism this work combines many different world views and approaches Conflict in Africa is an impossibly broad topic to cover in a single edited publication and so we focus on a select number of case studies expositions and themes The Handbook of European Defence Policies and Armed Forces Hugo Meijer,Marco Wyss,2018-06-22
