South Africa The Struggle For A New Order:

South Africa Marina Ottaway, 2010-12-01 The unbanning of the African National Congress and the release of Nelson Mandela in February of 1990 cleared the way for negotiations toward a new post apartheid political order in South Africa But three years later the main parties have made little progress toward a compromise while violence escalates in the townships In this revealing study Marina Ottaway examines the new conflicts emerging in South Africa the factors influencing them and the probable outcome She shows that the black on white conflict that has made the country a pariah in the past has evolved into a much more complex state of affairs and explains that the transition is likely to take an unprecedented form Beginning with a brief history of the events since Mandela's release Ottaway provides a vivid account of the evolving conflict over apartheid She discusses the complexity of conflict resolution in a country where internal and external currents work against each other and where the struggle for power transcends any strides toward peace Ottaway thoroughly addresses the issues involved in South Africa's transition from apartheid She explains that the abolition of the pervasive system has more far reaching implications than originally thought South Africa explores the effects that the international climate of the 1990s has had on the country's transition Ottaway contends that the international community rejects apartheid but is unsympathetic to black demands for redistribution and has condemned the white government's vision of separate development but accepts ethnic nationalism as inevitable She describes the dramatic effects the new world order has had on South Africa and assesses what those changes will mean to the country's difficult transition

South Africa's Weapons of Mass Destruction Helen E. Purkitt, Stephen F. Burgess, 2005-05-11 South Africa's Weapons of Mass Destruction offers an in depth view of the secret development and voluntary disarmament of South Africa's nuclear biological and chemical weapons program Project Coast Helen E Purkitt and Stephen F Burgess explore how systems used for nuclear biological and chemical weapons in South Africa were acquired and established beyond the gaze of international and domestic political actors On the basis of archival evidence from Project Coast and their own extensive interviews with military and political officials Purkitt and Burgess consider what motivates countries to acquire and build such powerful weaponry and examine when and how decisions are made to dismantle a military arsenal voluntarily Questions such as how to destroy weapons safely and keep them from reappearing on international markets are considered along with comparative strategies for successful disarmament in other nation states

State, 1995

Constitutionalism and Transitional Justice in South Africa Andrea Lollini, 2011 Over the last fifteen years the South African postapartheid Transitional Amnesty Process implemented by the Truth and Reconciliation Commission TRC has been extensively analyzed by scholars and commentators from around the world and from almost every discipline of human sciences Lawyers historians anthropologists and sociologists as well as political scientists have tried to understand describe and comment on the shocking South African political decision to give amnesty to all who fully disclosed their politically motivated crimes committed during the apartheid era Investigating the postapartheid transition in South Africa from a multidisciplinary perspective involving constitutional law criminal law history and political science this book explores the overlapping of the postapartheid constitution making process and the Amnesty Process for political violence under apartheid and shows that both processes represent important innovations in terms of constitutional law and transitional justice systems Both processes contain mechanisms that encourage the constitution of the unity of the political body while ensuring future solidity and stability From this perspective the book deals with the importance of several concepts such as truth about the past publicly shared memory unity of the political body and public confession

Broadcasting the End of Apartheid Martha Evans, 2014-07-15 South Africa came late to television when it finally arrived in the late 1970s the rest of the world had already begun to boycott the country because of apartheid While the ruling National Party feared the integrative effects of television they did not foresee how exclusion from globally unifying broadcasts would gradually erode their power South Africa was barred from participating in some of television's greatest global attractions including sporting events such as the Olympics and contests such as Miss World With the release of Nelson Mandela from prison came a proliferation of large scale live broadcasts as the country was permitted to return to international competition and its re-admittance was played out on television screens across the world These events were pivotal in shaping and consolidating the country's emerging post apartheid national identity Broadcasting the End of Apartheid assesses the socio-political effects of live broadcasting on South Africa's transition to democracy Martha Evans argues that just as print media had a powerful influence on the development of Afrikaner nationalism so the liveness of television helped to consolidate the post apartheid South African national identity

The Era of the New Order Pasquale De Marco, 2025-04-13 In a world teetering on the precipice of tyranny the once great nation of Britannia has succumbed to the machinations of a totalitarian regime Democracy once the bedrock of their society has been systematically dismantled replaced by an iron fist that brooks no dissent The architects of this dystopian order preyed upon the populace s deepest fears exploiting them to consolidate their power and silence any opposition Under the suffocating weight of oppression the media has become a mere mouthpiece for the regime spewing propaganda and misinformation to maintain the illusion of control The unyielding gaze of surveillance cameras scrutinizes every move stifling individuality and creativity History itself has been distorted and rewritten erasing the inconvenient truths that challenge the regime s authority Minorities and marginalized groups face relentless persecution their voices silenced in the deafening echo of conformity Yet amidst the darkness embers of resistance flicker Underground movements composed of courageous individuals who dare to defy the regime emerge from the shadows Acts of civil disobedience though small and seemingly insignificant serve as beacons of hope reminding the people of their inherent power The arts literature and culture become vessels of dissent subtly challenging the regime s narrative and inspiring quiet acts of rebellion This book delves into the depths of this dystopian world exploring the insidious machinations of power the resilience of the human spirit and the enduring struggle for freedom and dignity Through a series of thought provoking essays and analyses it examines the erosion of civil liberties the dangers of historical amnesia and the importance of maintaining a vigilant citizenry With its incisive insights and unflinching examination of the human condition under oppression this book serves as a powerful reminder of the fragility of democracy and the eternal struggle against tyranny It is a clarion call for vigilance a testament to the indomitable nature of the human spirit and an exploration of the depths to which humanity can sink when freedom is surrendered If you like this book write a review on google books

Transforming Violent Political Movements Kevin E. Grisham, 2014-03-21 This book explores the factors that influence violent rebellious political organisations to transform into other entities such as political parties criminal organisations and terrorist organisations From the end of the Second World War until 1990 many events in the world centred on the bipolar struggle between the United States and the USSR Although there were numerous civil wars occurring during the Cold War era many of these conflicts went virtually unnoticed unless they were linked to the Cold War struggle for ideological dominance In the aftermath of the fall of the Soviet Union the number of intra state conflicts was prevalent around the globe Along with the occurrence of civil wars a variety of violent political movements also developed Examining cases from Latin America Africa Europe and Asia this book addresses how violent political movements transform during and after conflict into new types of organisations using the collective political violence transformative CPVT model The study uses a combination of pre existing literature from the fields of sociology and political science archival research and interviews with movement members former and active conducted by the author In studying the Provisional IRA and Sinn F in the Spear of the Nation MK and the African National Congress ANC the Abu Sayyaf Group and the Revolutionary Armed Forces of Colombia FARC EP Transforming Violent Political Movements paints a picture of organisations that have to respond to their environments to survive This book will be of much interest to students of political violence terrorism war and conflict studies security studies and IR Elements of Peacemaking Revolutions Sapir Handelman,2021-09-24

Intractable conflict is a protracted violent and long time struggle wherein generation after generation is socially conditioned to continue fighting To break the chain of destruction a revolutionary peacemaking process is required This book serves as an introduction to the study of peacemaking revolutions which are necessary to build a peaceful and well functioning society in desperate intractable conflict situations The challenge of peacemaking revolution is to turn opposing parties into a peacemaking community A peacemaking community offers political platforms to involve the different societal elements of the opposing parties in the struggle for change It offers a consensus building process that approaches the conflict from different sides dimensions and directions This book provides a fresh perspective to the study of destructive social conflicts their transformation and resolution It will serve to provoke a critical discussion among those who are interested in the new emerging study of peacemaking revolutions Autonomy and Ethnicity Yash P. Ghai,2000-10-12 This book first published in 2000 deals with one of the most urgent problems of contemporary times the political organisation of multi ethnic states Most major conflicts of our time are internal to the state and revolve around the claims of access to or the redesign of the state Responses to ethnic conflicts have ranged from oppression and ethnic cleansing to accommodations of ethnic claims through affirmative policies special forms of representation power sharing and the integration of minorities One of the most sought after and resisted devices for conflict management is autonomy Within an overarching framework that examines different understandings of ethnic consciousness and the variety of territorial autonomies the authors examine the experiences of spatial distribution of power in Canada India China South Africa Ethiopia PNG Spain the former Yugoslavia Cyprus Sri Lanka and Australia Comparative Democratization and Peaceful Change in Single-Party-Dominant Countries M. Rimanelli,2016-01-26 One of the more positive international trends as of late has been the transformation of several countries from authoritarian based dictatorships and single party systems into multi party democracies characterized by peaceful political transitions In this volume a group of experts are gathered to analyse this progression on a comparative level The scholars examine previously right wing regimes in Brazil Argentina and South Africa former Communist states in Russia Poland Hungary and Czechoslovakia and single party dominant democracies in Italy Japan Mexico and Israel The essays reveal how the dramatic collapse of the USSR functioned as a crucial catalyst in allowing pent up domestic pressures for change to emerge in a less charged international environment In addition the chapters study the historical and current evolution of these countries focusing on their success in developing long term pluralistic structures and gauging whether these recent trends are more overnight fads than long lasting advancements Funding Virtue Marina Ottaway,2000 The United States and many other international donors have embraced civil society aid as a key tool of democracy promotion This collection of essays analyzes civil society aid in five regions South Africa the Philippines Peru Egypt and Romania focusing on crucial issues and dilemmas Robben Island and Prisoner Resistance to Apartheid Fran Lisa Buntman, 2003-10-27 Table of contents The Uncertain Promise of Southern Africa York W. Bradshaw, Stephen N. Ndegwa, 2000 In the 1970s and 1980s Indiana University Press published a series of books edited by Gwendolen Carter and others on economic and political conditions in Southern Africa during the apartheid era The Uncertain Promise of Southern Africa is a return to that successful format in the post apartheid era Leading scholars analyze the economic political social and cultural conditions in Southern Africa and the prospects for the region The first part of the book examines the current political and development situation in six countries South Africa Namibia Botswana Zimbabwe Angola and Mozambique The second part focuses on issues of enduring importance in the region education health gender the law intra and inter regional power relations international commerce and popular culture Multiparty Democracy and Political Change John Mukum Mbaku, Julius O. Ihonvbere, 2018-12-20 First published in 1998 This book is written by seasoned scholars of African Studies and it intended to make a significant contribution to the debate on democracy and democratization in the continent It contains a rich mixture of analytical ideas and views on the transition to accountable participatory and democratic governance structures in Africa It provides both students of African political economy and policymakers in the continent and in depth analysis of the post independence experience of African countries with institutional reforms Specifically it looks at the struggles of Africans since independence to provide themselves with more appropriate and viable governance structures and economic systems that enhance the ability to entrepreneurs to create wealth The Book breaks new ground in that it places significant emphasis on the reconstruction of the neo colonial state as an important first step to a successful transition to democratic and more accountable governance structures The New Order of War Bob Brecher, 2010 At the Interface Probing the Boundaries seeks to encourage and promote cutting edge interdisciplinary and multi disciplinary projects and inquiry By bringing people together from differing contexts disciplines professions and vocations the aim is to engage in conversations that are innovative imaginative and creatively interactive Localising Memory in Transitional Justice Mina Rauschenbach, Julia Viebach, Stephan Parmentier, 2022-05-30 This collection adds to the critical transitional justice scholarship that calls for transitional justice from below and that makes visible the complex and oftentimes troubled entanglements between justice endeavours locality and memory making Broadening this perspective it explores informal memory practices across various contexts with a focus on their individual and collective dynamics and their intersections reaching also beyond a conceptualisation of memory as mere symbolic reparation and politics of memory It seeks to highlight the hidden unwritten and multifaceted in today s memory boom by focusing on the memorialisation practices of communities activists families and survivors Organising its analytical focal point around the localisation of memory it offers valuable and new insights on how and under what conditions localised memory practices may contribute to recognition and social transformation as well as how they may at best be inclusive or exclusive of dynamic and diverse memories Drawing on inter and multi disciplinary approaches this book brings an in depth and nuanced understanding of local memory practices and the dynamics attached to these in transitional justice contexts It will be of much interest to students and scholars of memory and genocide studies peace and conflict studies transitional justice sociology and anthropology

Legal Visions of the 21st Century Antony Anghie, Garry Sturgess, 1998-10-29 Wouter de Vos

New Centers of Global Evangelicalism in Latin America and Africa Stephen Offutt, 2015-02-26

This book shows that new centers of Christianity have taken root in the global south Although these communities were previously poor and marginalized Stephen Offutt illustrates that they are now socioeconomically diverse internationally well connected and socially engaged Offutt argues that local and global religious social forces as opposed to other social economic or political forces are primarily responsible for these changes

(Re)Constructing Memory: Textbooks, Identity, Nation, and State James H. Williams, Wendy D. Bokhorst-Heng, 2016-07-08

This book engages readers in thirteen conversations presented by authors from around the world regarding the role that textbooks play in helping readers imagine membership in the nation Authors voices come from a variety of contexts some historical some contemporary some providing analyses over time But they all consider the changing portrayal of diversity belonging and exclusion in multiethnic and diverse societies where silenced invisible marginalized members have struggled to make their voices heard and to have their identities incorporated into the national narrative The authors discuss portrayals of past exclusions around religion ethnicity sexual orientation as they look at the shifting boundaries of insider and outsider This book is thus about who we are not only demographically but also in terms of the past especially how and whether we teach discredited pasts through textbooks The concluding chapters provides ways forward in thinking about what can be done to promote curricula that are more inclusive critical and positively bonding in increasingly larger and more inclusive contexts
