Solitary Reaper Question And Answers:

Wordsworth and the Zen Mind John G. Rudy, 1996-03-28 This book demonstrates that Zen thought and art provide both a generative and a formative context for understanding the spirituality of the English poet William Wordsworth 1770 1850 Combining methods of modern literary scholarship with the philosophical initiatives of the Kyoto School the text crosses disciplines as well as cultures offering a nonmonotheistic nonpantheistic philosophical ground upon which to study what Wordsworth calls the tranquil soul and the one Presence that underlies the great whole of life Anticipating a variety of audiences the discourse progresses from general introductory level discussions of Zen philosophy and literature to the more technical philosophical idiom of the Kyoto School employing intertextual readings of a variety of Wordsworthian and Zen documents to broaden and deepen the East West dialogue as it has been unfolding since the pioneering work of D T Suzuki and Kitaro Nishida An important aspect of this study is its twofold purpose to situate Wordsworth more centrally in the evolving global community of intercultural and interreligious communication and to demonstrate the unique flexibility and universality of Zen as a medium of spiritual growth and aesthetic understanding

Therefore our attention has been drawn to the connection of his poetry with philosophy phenomenology since as Emanuel Levinas once stated the whole of philosophy is only a meditation of Shakespeare Therefore this book throws the Whitmanesque self into a typically phenomenological context silhouetting the notion of selfhood against the views of Martin Heidegger Maurice Merleau Ponty and Emanuel Levinas Moreover the book differentiates between the overall understanding of subjectivity and selfhood The former corresponds to the representative capacities of the Cartesian cogito which in itself is detached from the world of life On the other hand selfhood is defined though the idea of commitment to the overall mattering of the world which in itself is not reduced to the materialist or idealist understanding Rather the world is what phenomenology following Husserl calls Lebenswelt which corresponds to the general way in which the self finds itself attuned to the horizon of its existence

Reforming Literature Education in Malaysia 1957 – 2020 Jia Wei Lim, 2024-08-12

Lim traces the complexities in construction and implementation of a school subject namely Literature in English in Malaysia through a focused and grounded narrative where tensions regarding identity reader response and conceptualisations about literature play out in a postcolonial context The book demonstrates the need to think about school subjects as abstract concepts negotiated at various levels be it during curriculum construction or in the classroom These conceptualisations of the subject are further influenced by contemporary concerns and sociopolitical changes over time As such the scope of this book ranges from pre independence Malaysia then Malaya from the 1950s till the current phase of the subject s development in the 21st century The volume illustrates the complex interplay of historical cultural and social influences on the conceptualisation of English literature as a school subject in Malaysia Lim traces examines and interprets its development as an elective subject in the context of post secondary Malaysian education and engages with current trends in education such as internationalization and standardized assessment Lim also highlights the importance of teacher and student lived experiences to argue that personal conceptualisations of the school subject are actualized and negotiated in classroom discourse Offering unique insights into studying Literature in English in a postcolonial context the book will appeal to researchers students and practitioners in the fields of history of education curriculum reform and literature education
