Solplaatjie University Application Form:

Sol Plaatje's Mhudi Sabata-mpho Mokae, Brian Willan, 2021 Sol Plaatje's Mhudi is the first full length novel in English to have been written by a black South African and is widely regarded as one of South Africa's most important literary works. Set in the 1830s it tells the tale of Mhudi and Ra Thaga a romantic story set against a violent backdrop of war between Barolong and Matebele complicated by the intrusions of Boer trekkers with whom the Barolong form an alliance. It is notable among other things for the way Plaatje uses the past to explore the roots of the oppression and injustice suffered by his people a century later when the book was written. Tropentag 2025-International Research on Food Security, Natural Resource Management and Rural Development. Reconciling land system changes with planetary health Eric Tielkes, 2025-08-28 Tropentag 2025 in Bonn themed Reconciling Land System Changes with Planetary Health brings together researchers, practitioners, policymakers and students to advance sustainable agriculture, food security, natural resource management and rural development in the tropics. The conference addresses the critical challenge of ensuring food and nutrition security while protecting ecosystems, halting biodiversity loss and responding to climate change requiring integrated interdisciplinary approaches. The scientific program covers topics such as land use, agricultural resilience, biodiversity, water and soil stewardship, socio-economic change, governance, innovation and technology while recognizing the importance of power dynamics, cultural contexts and diverse knowledge systems. Tropentag also highlights participatory approaches engaging local communities and co-producing knowledge to ensure solutions are scientifically sound, policy relevant and socially meaningful. The conference fosters open discussion, cross-disciplinary collaboration and a shared commitment to aligning land system transformation with planetary health. Participants and sponsors are acknowledged for their contributions with the hope that Tropentag 2025 inspires new ideas, debate and lasting collaborations. National Youth Development Agency Annual Report South Africa.

National Youth Development Agency, 2016 Layered Double Hydroxides (LDHs) Roberto Pizzoferrato, Maria Richetta, 2021-04-01 Layered Double Hydroxides (LDHs) certainly do not represent a newcomer to the scientific community yet they continue to attract a strong and general interest among a vast and multifaceted range of researchers. This persistent modernity is definitely due to some peculiar characteristics of these materials which allow researchers and engineers to play with different aspects of two worlds: organic and inorganic, crystalline and molecular, solid and liquid, cationic and anionic. A virtually infinite number of possible chemical combinations takes advantage of their layered structure to express an unrivaled collection of remarkable properties. The capture and/or release of organic and inorganic species, versatile low cost catalytic activity and blending with other compounds to build up a variety of hybrid composites are just some of the many effects investigated to date. As a result, the applications encompass almost all aspects of our life ranging from renewable energy production to water purification including biomedical applications gas sensing drug delivery and food packaging and safety This Special Issue highlights some of the recent research lines and shows that remarkable progress has been and is still being made in all these aspects to allow the consideration of LDHs as one of the most interesting and versatile inorganic materials

Impact of Thermal Conductivity on Energy Technologies Aamir Shahzad, 2018-09-05 This book is intended to provide a deep understanding on the advanced treatments of thermal properties of materials through experimental theoretical and computational techniques This area of interest is being taught in most universities and institutions at the graduate and postgraduate levels Moreover the increasing modern technical and social interest in energy has made the study of thermal properties more significant and exciting in the recent years This book shares with the international community a sense of global motivation and collaboration on the subject of thermal conductivity and its wide spread applications in modern technologies This book presents new results from leading laboratories and researchers on topics including materials thermal insulation modeling steady and transient measurements and thermal expansion The materials of interest range from nanometers to meters bringing together ideas and results from across the research field

Corrupted Jonathan D Jansen, 2023-02-01 In South African higher education the images of dysfunction are everywhere Student protests Violence Police presence Rubber or real bullets Class disruptions Burning tyres Damaged buildings Injury and sometimes death Reports of wholesale corruption Year after year often in the same set of universities the problem of routine instability seems insoluble The financial academic and reputational costs of ongoing dysfunction are high especially for those universities caught up in the never ending struggle to overcome apartheid legacies Any number of explanations have been ventured including a lack of resources shortage of capacity rural location corrupt officials and endemic conflict Corrupted takes a deeper look at dysfunction in an attempt to unravel the root causes in a sample of South African universities At the heart of the problem lies the vexed issue of resources or more pertinently the relationship between resources and power who gets what and why Whatever else it aspires to be commonly a place of teaching learning research and public duty a university in an impoverished community is also a rich concentration of resources around which corrupt staff students and those outside of campus all vie for access Taking a political economic approach Jonathan Jansen describes the daily struggle for institutional resources and offers accessible sensible insights He argues that the problem won't be solved through investments in capacity building alone because the combination of institutional capacity and institutional integrity contributes to serial instability in universities Rather durable solutions would include the depoliticisation of university councils and appointments of academics with integrity and capacity to manage and lead these fragile institutions This groundbreaking and long overdue study will offer a promising way forward for universities to better serve their communities and the country more broadly

The ANC and the Liberation Struggle in South Africa Thula Simpson,2018-10-03 The history of the ANC which is the oldest liberation movement on the African continent is one that has generated a great deal of interest amongst historians in recent years Gone are the days when the history of African nationalism could be relegated to the margins of the study of the South African past Instead with the ANC having ascended to the helm of political power a position it has maintained for over twenty years there can be no question that its history occupies an important and permanent place in the history of the nation This volume gathers together some of the most important contributions to the literature on the ANC's role in South Africa's struggle for liberation Besides important themes such as gender ethnicity and healthcare contributions from leading historians also address why the ANC decided to engage in armed struggle what role the South African Communist Party played in making this decision how the ANC External Mission contributed to the upsurge of mass protest in South Africa in the 1970s and 1980s and the ANC's contribution relative to the other components of the liberation struggle in ensuring the eventual demise of the old racial order The chapters in this book were originally published in the South African Historical Journal the Journal of Southern African Studies and African Studies

Bulletproof Jennifer Wenzel, 2010-07-15 In 1856 and 1857 in response to a prophet's command the Xhosa people of southern Africa killed their cattle and ceased planting crops the resulting famine cost tens of thousands of lives Much like other millenarian anticolonial movements such as the Ghost Dance in North America and the Birsa Munda uprising in India these actions were meant to transform the world and liberate the Xhosa from oppression Despite the movement's momentous failure to achieve that goal the event has continued to exert a powerful pull on the South African imagination ever since It is these afterlives of the prophecy that Jennifer Wenzel explores in Bulletproof Wenzel examines literary and historical texts to show how writers have manipulated images and ideas associated with the cattle killing harvest sacrifice rebirth devastation to speak to their contemporary predicaments Widening her lens Wenzel also looks at how past failure can both inspire and constrain movements for justice in the present and her brilliant insights into the cultural implications of prophecy will fascinate readers across a wide variety of disciplines

Pandemic Re-Awakenings Guy Beiner, 2021-11-16 Pandemic Re-Awakenings offers a multi level and multi faceted exploration of a century of remembering forgetting and rediscovering the influenza pandemic of 1918-1919 arguably the greatest catastrophe in human history Twenty three researchers present original perspectives by critically investigating the hitherto unexplored vicissitudes of memory in the interrelated spheres of personal communal medical and cultural histories in different national and transnational settings across the globe The volume reveals how even though the Great Flu was overshadowed by the commemorative culture of the Great War recollections of the pandemic persisted over time to re-emerge towards the centenary of the Spanish Flu and burst into public consciousness following the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic The chapters chart historiographical neglect while acknowledging the often unnoticed dialogues between scientific and historical discourses probe silences and trace vestiges of social and cultural memories that long remained outside of what was considered collective memory
