Recreation for Older Adults Judith A. Sorg-Elliott, Jerold E. Elliott, 1999 This book has been written for the recreation professional and anyone else who works with older adults in the field of recreation It provides low cost client intensive recreation programming ideas for older adults regardless of the level at which they are able to function Anyone working with people with disabilities may utilize these ideas but they have been designed and tested for use with older adults A majority of the activities in this book are designed for use with clients who must have individual attention from a staff member in order to participate The activities are designed for older adults who may or may not be physically frail but who exhibit many signs of confusion memory loss and or disorientation The authors philosophy evident throughout the book is that any recreational activity can and should benefit the client and even those programs that are designed simply to provide a fun filled afternoon or evening should have a goal and carry equal weight in the overall programming schedule

The Seven Deadly Virtues and Other Lively Essays Lynn Z. Bloom, 2008 This volume contains eye opening essays from a pioneering voice in creative nonfiction and composition studies Inspirational educator and writer Bloom brings to fore the trials and triumphs she has experienced in coming of age as a scholar teacher wife mother grandmother and most especially a writer A pioneer in composition studies and a chronic nonconformist Bloom is a lifelong advocate of opportunity authenticity and expression Taking a stance in favor of bold creativity in living teaching and the act of writing that ties both together she warns against the snares and sneers of the seven deadly virtues duty rationality conformity efficiency order economy and punctuality that so often subvert the mission of education and the potential of expressive communication Ranging from the comic to the confessional Bloom's memoir interweaves the pleasures and problems of a forbidden marriage and complex family the joys of cooking and travel the struggles to become a professor in an era that rejected women faculty and the risks of heeding the siren call of creative nonfiction These fifteen essays probe the assumptions and values ethical intellectual social aesthetic and inevitably political of what Bloom has found to be the most complicated challenging satisfying aspects of her loves and labors
