Celebrating Seafood

Every May, a festival of fun, food, art and history comes to the Norfolk towns of Cromer and Sheringham: The Crab and Lobster Festival. It's an exciting weekend of cookery competitions, food tasting, live music and, above all, crabs and lobsters. You could even win a giant painted crab or lobster!

At the festival, you have the chance to eat crabs and lobsters from any of the restaurants nearby and also learn how to cook them yourself. The festival has a large cookery theatre where you can watch chefs prepare and cook delicious seafood. In addition, for those who prefer to find their own crabs, there is the crabbing competition. The team which gets the most crabs wins!

The festival is not just about seafood. It also celebrates the history of fishing and the environment. Local fishermen come to the festival every year to share the art of fishing with tourists. Finally, many scientists also come to the festival. They give details about how we can take better care of the local environment so that everyone can enjoy it for years to come. Organised by local volunteers, the Crab and Lobster Festival is a fun celebration of the sea that raises money for charity and attracts thousands of tourists to the beautiful Norfolk coast.

Shane Bjornlie,2016-07-15 The transformation from the classical period to the medieval has long been associated with the rise of Christianity This association has deeply influenced the way that modern audiences imagine the separation of the classical world from its medieval and early modern successors The role played in this transformation by Constantine as the first Christian ruler of the Roman Empire has also profoundly shaped the manner in which we frame Late Antiquity and successive periods as distinctively Christian The modern demarcation of the post classical period is often inseparable from the reign of Constantine The attention given to Constantine as a liminal figure in this historical transformation is understandable Constantine s support of Christianity provided the religion with unprecedented public respectability and public expressions of that support opened previously unimagined channels of social political and economic influence to Christians and non Christians alike The exact nature of Constantine's involvement or intervention has been the subject of continuous and densely argued debate. Interpretations of the motives and sincerity of his conversion to Christianity have characterized with various results explanations of everything from the religious culture of the late Roman state to the dynamics of ecclesiastical politics. What receives less frequent attention is the fact that our modern appreciation of Constantine as a pivotal historical figure is itself a direct result of the manner in which Constantine's memory was constructed by the human imagination over the course of centuries. This volume offers a series of snapshots of moments in that process from the fourth to the sixteenth century.

Hamric, Judith A. Spross, Charlene M. Hanson, 2008-07-02 Covering all advanced practice competencies and roles this book offers strategies for enhancing patient care and legitimizing your role within today's health care system. It covers the history of advanced practice nursing, the theory behind the practice and emerging issues. Offering a comprehensive exploration of advanced practice nursing, this edition also adds a focus on topics including the APN scope of practice, certification and the ethical and legal issues that occur in clinical practice. The development of all major competencies of advanced practice nursing is discussed: direct clinical practice, consultation, coaching, guidance, research, leadership, collaboration and ethical decision making. Advanced practice competencies are discussed in relation to all advanced practice nursing and blended CNS/NP roles: case manager, acute care nurse practitioner, highlighting the shared aims and distinctions of each role. In-depth discussions on educational strategies explain how competencies develop as the nurse's practice progresses. A chapter on research competencies demonstrates how to use evidence-based research in practice and how to promote these research competencies to other APNs. A conceptual framework shows the clear relationship between the competencies, roles and challenges in today's health care environment. Practical strategies are provided for business management, contracting and marketing. Comprehensive information covers the essential competencies of the new Doctor of Nursing Practice degree. More exemplars, case studies provide real-life scenarios showing APN competencies in action. A new chapter shows how to provide reliable and valid data to substantiate your impact and justify equitable reimbursement for APN services, also enhancing your skills in quality improvement strategies, informatics and systems thinking. Information on telehealth considerations covers the new sources of electronic healthcare information available to patients and describes how to counsel them on using reliable resources.
