Starr, of the Desert (Classic Reprint) B. M. Bower, 2018-01-18 Excerpt from Starr of the Desert Peter finished refilling the prescription on which he was working and went out to see if he were needed in front He sold a lipstick to a pert miss who from sheer instinct made eyes at him and he wished that Helen May had such plump cheeks though he thanked God she had not the girl s sophisticated eyes yes a bungalow out there against the hills ought to do a lot for Helen May He glanced up at the great clock and unconsciously compared his cheap watch with it saw that in ten minutes he would be free for the day and bethought him to telephone the doctor and make sure of the appointment He knew that Helen May had seen the doctor at noon since she had given Peter her word that she would go and since she never broke a promise He would find out just what the doctor thought About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www

Daffodils were selling at two bits a dozen in the flower stand beside the New Era Drug Store. Therefore Peter Stevenson knew that winter was over and that the weather would probably settle. There would be the spring fogs of course, and fog did not agree with Helen May, since that last spell of grippe. Peter decided that he would stop and see the doctor again and ask him what he thought of a bungalow out against the hills behind Hollywood, something cheap of course and within the five-cent limit on the street cars, something with a sleeping porch that opened upon a pleasanter outlook than your neighbor's back yard. If Helen May would then form the habit of riding to and from town on the open end of the cars, that would help considerably. In fact, the longer the ride, the better it would be for Helen May. The air was sweet and clean out there toward the hills. It would be better for Vic too. It would break up that daily habit of going out to see the boys as soon as he had swallowed his dinner.
