Buildings of Empire Ashley Jackson, 2013-11-28 Buildings of Empire takes the reader on an exciting journey through thirteen territories of the British Empire From Dublin Castle to the glass and steel of Sir Norman Foster's Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank skyscraper these buildings capture the essence of the imperial experience painting an intimate portrait of the biggest empire the world has ever seen the people who made it and the people who resisted it as well as the legacy of the imperial project throughout the world Ashley Jackson visits classic examples of the buildings that the British governed from the forts they often brutally imposed their rule from the railway stations they travelled from the banks they traded from the educational establishments they spread their values from as well as the grand colonial hotels they stayed in the sporting clubs and botanical gardens where they took their leisure and the monumental exhibition spaces in which they celebrated the achievements of settlement and imperial endeavour The history of these buildings does not end with the empire that built them Their story in the aftermath of empire highlights the continuing legacy of many of the structures and institutions the British left behind as well as the sometimes unexpected role that these former symbols of alien rule have played in the establishment of new national identities in the years since independence The Columbia History of American Television

Leighton, 2016-09-23 One of the most popular of all Ripper suspects Montague Druitt appears on the surface an unlikely killer Born into a comfortable bourgeois family he was educated at New College Oxford qualified for the Bar and played cricket for a number of strong club sides But there was another side to the agreeable Mr Druitt He moved in the artistic and aristocratic circles that overlapped with London's secretive homosexual culture was summarily dismissed from his post at a boys school and a few weeks later was found drowned in the Thames just months after the Jack the Ripper murders Six years later Chief Constable Sir Melville Macnaughten named Druitt as the murderer and gave the unhappy barrister a kind of immortality D J Leighton has dug deep into the background to Druitt's unhappy life and uncovered a web of intriguing connections linking the eldest son of the heir to the throne the Cambridge Apostles Sir Arthur Conan Doyle Virginia Woolf and the cricketing legend Prince Kumar Ranjitsinhji The book is a fascinating period piece that deftly weaves together the criminal sporting aristocratic and homosexual worlds of late nineteenth century London in search of the truth behind Macnaughten's surprising allegations This book is an excellent piece of period crime history with a Jack the Ripper setting It is a colourful Victorian underworld story mixing high society with scandal the golden age of amateur cricket and murder It is the authoritative debunking of the case for Druitt as Jack the Ripper Inside Japanese Classrooms Nancy Sato, 2003-12-16

This detailed ethnographic study of fifth and sixth grade classrooms offers new insights into Japanese culture as many aspects of daily social life are embedded in the educational system Additionally this book provides new perspectives on educational reform in the U S since many current issues and programs focus on notions of community collaboration and systemic reform all of which are central to understanding Japanese teaching learning processes in schools The Producer, 1929 North Korea Quarterly, 1995 The 1904 Anthropology Days and Olympic Games Susan Brownell, 2008-12-01 One of the more problematic sport spectacles in American history took place at the 1904 World's Fair in St Louis which included the third modern Olympic Games Associated with the Games was a curious event known as Anthropology Days organized by William J McGee and James Sullivan at that time the leading figures in American anthropology and sports respectively McGee recruited Natives who were participating in the fair's ethnic displays to compete in sports events with the scientific goal of measuring the physical prowess of savages as compared with civilized men This interdisciplinary collection of essays assesses the ideas about race imperialism and Western civilization manifested in the 1904 World's Fair and Olympic Games and shows how they are still relevant A turning point in both the history of the Olympics and the development of modern anthropology these games expressed the conflict between the Old World emphasis on culture and New World emphasis on utilitarianism Marked by Franz Boas's paper at the Scientific Congress the events in St Louis witnessed the beginning of the shift in anthropological research from nineteenth century evolutionary racial models to the cultural relativist paradigm that is now a cornerstone of modern American anthropology Racist pseudoscience nonetheless reappears to this day in the realm of sports Promoting All-Round Education for Girls Patricia P. K. Chiu, 2020-06-02 Promoting All Round Education for Girls presents the history of Heep Yunn School one of the oldest girls schools in Hong Kong Amalgamated from two British mission schools founded in the 1880s for destitute girls and daughters of Christian parents and renamed Heep Yunn School in 1936 the institution has witnessed and responded to the dramatic changes of Hong Kong over the years By the time of the outbreak of the Second World War Heep Yunn had expanded to offer a full Chinese middle school course for girls based upon Christian principles of all round education The school expanded rapidly after the war and became a bilingual institution to meet the demand for English language education Eventually English would become the primary medium of instruction soon after the introduction of nine year universal education in 1978 Heep Yunn strives to provide a full fledged all round education in the midst of political and education reforms The school opted to switch its status from a government aided school to a direct subsidy scheme school in the early 2010s so as to retain a larger degree of autonomy This history of Heep Yunn School documents the concerted efforts of the school council staff students alumnae and parents to achieve the evolving visions of Christian education for girls as Hong Kong grew from a colonial trading port to a global financial centre in the twenty first century Promoting All Round Education for Girls convincingly charts the shifting purposes and practices of girls education in Hong Kong The text moves seamlessly between the history of the school and the wider context of Hong Kong's history Patricia P K Chiu illustrates how the school's educational policy evolved according to the wider strategies and shifts that relate models of femininity and nation building Joyce Goodman University of Winchester This solidly referenced work provides a balanced and detailed outlook on the unique
