Wind, Sea and Swell Harald Ulrik Sverdrup, Walter Heinrich Munk, 1952 Wind and Wave Forcing of Longshore Currents Across a Barred Beach Dennis James Whitford, 1988 Previous investigations of longshore currents have included simplifying assumptions and restriction such as a planar beach a steady and depth uniform flow spatially variant bed shear stress and turbulent momentum exchange and the exclusion of surface wind stress These assumptions are quantitatively investigated by calculating the relative importance of each term in the longshore momentum balance with an emphasis on the relative importance of wind forcing across the barred nearshore Wind and wave forcing of longshore currents across a barred beach are examined using both a numerical model and field measurements A local momentum balance was measured at various locations across the surf zone during the SUPERDUCK experiment held at the USACE CERC Field Research Facility Duck N C in October 1986 A moveable sled was instrumented with pressure current and wind sensors to measure the various terms in the longshore momentum equation Stability dependent atmospheric drag coefficients for the surf zone are determined from wind stress measurements acquired just beyond the surf zone and wind speed measurements acquired from an anemometer atop the 9 m sled mast Breaking waves were visually identified and electronically marked on the data tapes Keywords Ocean currents Air water interactions Nearshore surf zone Wind stress Theses EDC Mariners Weather Log ,1992 U.S. Naval Weather Service Numerical Environmental Products
