Albert Psychiatre spécialiste de la gestion du stress au travail Arts and Business Elena Raviola, Peter Zackariasson, 2016-10-04 Arts and Business aims at bringing arts and business scholars together in a dialogue about a number of key topics that today form different understandings in the two disciplines Arts and business are many times positioned as opposites Where one is providing symbolic and aesthetic immersion the other is creating goods for a market and markets for a good They often deal and struggle with the same issues framing it differently and finding different solutions This book has the potential of offering both critical theoretical and empirical understanding of these subjects and guiding further exploration and research into this field Although this dichotomy has a well documented existence it is reconstructed through the writing out of business in art and vice versa This edited volume distinguishes itself from other writings aimed at closing the gap between art and business as it does not have a firm standpoint in one of these fields but treating them as symmetrical and equal The belief that by giving art and business an equal weight the editors also create the opportunity to communicate to a wider audience and construct a path forward for art and business to coexist Information Systems Management Daniel Alban, Philippe Eynaud, Jean-Loup Richet, Claudio Vitari, 2024-05-29 Information Systems Management is intended to sensitize the heads of organizations to the issues raised by information systems IS Through its pedagogical presentation this book ensures that issues related to IS are not left solely to the experts in the field This book combines and analyzes three key concepts in IS science governance urbanization and alignment While governance implies the implementation of a certain number of means bodies and procedures to manage IS more effectively urbanization involves visualization methods to enable the manager to take into account the different levels of the organization of an IS and their coherence Finally alignment assesses the ability of the IS to make a significant

Global Brands Teresa da Silva Lopes, 2007-09-24 In a world focused on science and new technology brands help to explain why several of the world's multinational corporations have little to do with either. Rather, they are old firms with little critical investment in patents or copyrights. For these firms, the critical intellectual property is trademarks. Global Brands first published in 2007 explains how the world's largest multinationals in alcoholic beverages achieved global leadership, considers the predominant corporate governance structures for such firms, and looks at why these firms form alliances with direct competitors. Brands also determine the waves of mergers and acquisitions in the beverage industry. Global Brands contrasts with existing studies by providing a new dimension to the literature on the growth of multinationals through the focus on brands using an institutional and evolutionary approach based on original and published sources about the industry and the firms. Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, 1969-02. The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security. Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists, the Bulletin's iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world. Indigenous Experience Today Marisol de la Cadena, Orin Starn, 2020-05-18. A century ago, the idea of indigenous people as an active force in the contemporary world was unthinkable. It was assumed that native societies everywhere would be swept away by the forward march of the West and its own peculiar brand of progress and civilization. Nothing could be further from the truth. Indigenous social movements wield new power, and groups as diverse as Australian Aborigines, Ecuadorian Quichuas, and New Zealand Maoris have found their own distinctive and assertive ways of living in the present world. Indigenous Experience Today draws together essays by prominent scholars in anthropology and other fields examining the varied face of indigenous politics in Bolivia, Botswana, Canada, Chile, China, Indonesia, and the United States, amongst others. The book challenges accepted notions of indigeneity as it examines the transnational dynamics of contemporary native culture and politics around the world. Resources in education, 1991.
