*Members of the Subcommittee on the State-of-the-Art Report.
†Deceased.

The use of FRP as reinforcement for concrete structures has been growing rapidly in recent years. This state-of-the-art report summarizes the current state of knowledge on these materials. In addition to the material properties of the constituents, i.e., resins and fibers, design philosophies for reinforced and prestressed elements are discussed. When the available data warrant flexure, shear, and bond behavior, and serviceability of the members has been examined. Strengthening of existing structures with FRPs and field applications of these materials are also presented.

Keywords: composite materials; concrete; concrete construction; design; external reinforcement; fiber reinforced plastic (FRP); fibers; mechanical properties; polymer resins; prestressed concrete; reinforced concrete; reinforcement; research; structural analysis; structural elements; structural research; testing; test methods.

ACI Committee Reports, Guides, Standard Practices, and Commentaries are intended for guidance in designing, planning, executing, or inspecting construction and in preparing specifications. Reference to these documents shall not be made in the Project Documents. If items found in these documents are desired to be part of the Project Documents, they should be phrased in mandatory language and incorporated in the Project Documents.

CONTENTS OF FULL REPORT

1—Introduction and history

- 1.1—Introduction
- 1.2—History of the US pultrusion industry
- 1.3—Evolution of FRP reinforcement in the USA
- 1.4—FRP Materials

2—FRP composites: An overview of constituent materials

- 2.1—Introduction
- 2.2—Importance of the polymer matrix
- 2.3—Introduction to matrix polymers
- 2.4—Polyester resins

This state of the art report summarizes the results of an extensive search and review of available literature on the mechanical properties of concrete with particular reference to high performance concrete for highway applications Included in the review and discussion are the behavior of plastic concrete as well as the strength and deformation characteristics of hardened concrete Both short term and long term effects are considered Based on the review of the available information research needs are identified It is concluded that much research is needed to develop data on the strength and durability properties of concrete which develops high strength particularly very early strength Perspectives in Civil Engineering Jeffrey S. Russell, 2003-01-01 This report contains 27 papers that serve as a testament to the state of the art of civil engineering at the outset of the 21st century as well as to commemorate the ASCE's Sesquicentennial Written by the leading practitioners educators and researchers of civil engineering each of these peer reviewed papers explores a particular aspect of civil engineering knowledge and practice Each paper explores the development of a particular civil engineering specialty including milestones and future barriers constraints and opportunities The papers celebrate the history heritage and accomplishments of the profession in all facets of practice including construction facilities special structures engineering mechanics surveying and mapping irrigation and water quality forensics computing materials geotechnical engineering hydraulic engineering and transportation engineering While each paper is unique collectively they provide a snapshot of the profession while offering thoughtful predictions of likely developments in the years to come Together the papers illuminate the mounting complexity facing civil engineering stemming from rapid growth in scientific knowledge technological development and human populations especially in the last 50 years An overarching theme is the need for systems level approaches and consideration from undergraduate education through advanced engineering materials processes technologies and design methods and tools These papers speak to the need for civil engineers of all specialties to recognize and embrace the growing interconnectedness of the global infrastructure economy society and the need to work for more sustainable life cycle oriented solutions While embracing the past and the present the papers collected here clearly have an eye on the future needs of ASCE and the civil engineering profession State-of-the-art Report on Fiber Reinforced

Reinforced Cementitious Composites, Second Edition Arnon Bentur,Sidney Mindess,2006-11-22 Advanced cementitious composites can be designed to have outstanding combinations of strength five to ten times that of conventional concrete and energy absorption capacity up to 1000 times that of plain concrete This second edition brings together in one volume the latest research developments in this rapidly expanding area The book is split into two parts The first part is concerned with the mechanics of fibre reinforced brittle matrices and the implications for cementitious systems In the second part the authors describe the various types of fibre cement composites discussing production processes mechanical and physical properties durability and applications Two new chapters have been added covering fibre specification and structural applications Fibre Reinforced Cementitious Composites will be of great interest to practitioners involved in modern concrete technology and will also be of use to academics researchers and graduate students Fibre Reinforced Concrete:

Improvements and Innovations II Pedro Serna,Aitor Llano-Torre,José R. Martí-Vargas,Juan Navarro-Gregori,2021-09-04 This volume highlights the latest advances innovations and applications in the field of fibre reinforced concrete FRC as presented by scientists and engineers at the RILEM fib X International Symposium on Fibre Reinforced Concrete BEFIB held in Valencia Spain on September 20 22 2021 It discusses a diverse range of topics concerning FRC technological aspects nanotechnologies related with FRC mechanical properties long term properties analytical and numerical models structural design codes and standards quality control case studies Textile Reinforced Concrete Geopolymers and UHPFRC After the symposium postponement in 2020 this new volume concludes the publication of the research works and knowledge of FRC in the frame of BEFIB from 2020 to 2021 with the successful celebration of the hybrid symposium BEFIB 2021 The contributions present traditional and new ideas that will open novel research directions and foster multidisciplinary collaboration between different specialists Fibre Reinforced Cement and Concretes R.N. volume consists of papers presented at the International Conference on Recent Developments in Fibre Reinforced Cements and Concretes held at the School of Engineering University of Wales College of Cardiff UK 18 20 September 1989 Fibre Reinforced Cement and Concrete R.N. Swamy,1992-07-23 This book presents the latest research development on fibre reinforced cementitious materials especially those related to ageing and durability The book forms the Proceedings of the International Symposium held at Sheffield in July 1992 the latest in a series of RILEM symposia on this subject organised by RILEM Technical Committee 102 AFC Ageing and Durability to Fibre Cement Composites Fibre Reinforced Concrete:

Improvements and Innovations Pedro Serna,Aitor Llano-Torre,José R. Martí-Vargas,Juan Navarro-Gregori,2020-11-05 This volume highlights the latest advances innovations and applications in the field of fibre reinforced concrete FRC and discusses a diverse range of topics concerning FRC rheology and early age properties mechanical properties codes and standards long term properties durability analytical and numerical models quality control structural and Industrial applications smart FRC s nanotechnologies related to FRC textile reinforced concrete structural design and UHPFRC The contributions present improved traditional and new ideas that will open novel research directions and foster multidisciplinary collaboration between different specialists Although the symposium was postponed the book gathers peer reviewed papers selected in 2020 for the RILEM fib International Symposium on Fibre Reinforced Concrete BEFIB Precast tunnel segments in fibre-reinforced concrete fib Fédération Internationale du Béton,2017-08-01 With the publication of this bulletin fib Commission 1 is initiating a new series of documents related to the use of structural concrete in underground construction where structural concrete plays a major and increasingly important role The usage of underground space is more than ever a key issue of urban planning and fib decided to start addressing the issues related to the design and construction of concrete structures in this particular environment In this context one the most significant applications of structural concrete is tunnel lining for which the properties of reinforced concrete are particularly well suited through compressive strength water tightness ductility and durability Reinforced concrete tunnels linings have mostly been traditionally cast in situ but the development of Tunnel Boring Machines has lead to the invention of precast concrete segmental lining technology which is nowadays one of the most promising applications of Fibre Reinforced Concrete FRC Thanks to the courage and dedication of innovative designers and contractors a number of large tunnels have already been built around the World with FRC precast linings and this report presents the experience acquired with these projects and also provides guidance about the way to apply 2010 fib Model Code recommendations on FRC to these structures The main drivers of this evolution from RC to FRC are a better ductility more durability and easier fabrication and construction process As Commission 1 chair I am very grateful to Alberto Meda and to all members of this task group for opening the way to this new field of underground structures within our commission and to have efficiently produced a document that will be useful to our members and to the construction community around the World
