Vaal University Of Technology:

Advances in Computer, Information, and Systems Sciences, and Engineering Khaled Elleithy, Tarek Sobh, Ausif Mahmood, Magued Iskander, Mohammad A. Karim, 2007-06-06 The conference proceedings of International Conference on Industrial Electronics Technology not only the reviewing submissions and registration processes but also the actual conference. Conference participants, authors, presenters, and attendees only needed an internet connection and sound available on their computers in order to be able to contribute and participate in this international ground breaking conference. The on line structure of this high quality event allowed academic professionals and industry participants to contribute work and attend world class technical presentations based on rigorously refereed submissions live without the need for investing significant travel funds or time out of the office. Suffice to say that CISSE received submissions from more than 50 countries for whose researchers this opportunity presented a much more affordable dynamic and well planned event to attend and submit their work to versus a classic on the ground conference. The CISSE conference audio room provided superb audio even over low speed internet connections, the ability to display PowerPoint presentations and cross platform compatibility, the conferencing software runs on Windows, Mac, and any other operating system that supports Java. In addition, the conferencing system allowed for an unlimited number of participants which in turn granted CISSE the opportunity to allow all participants to attend all presentations as opposed to limiting the number of available seats for each session. The implemented conferencing technology starting with the submission review system and ending with the online conferencing capability allowed CISSE to conduct a very high quality fulfilling event for all participants. Information Literacy in Academic Libraries delves into the core challenges and solutions surrounding this critical educational imperative. This book illuminates the role of academic libraries as bastions of information literacy instruction. The capacity of students and information consumers to seek, evaluate, and utilize information is paramount for informed decision making ethically and legally. Regardless of whether or not students were brought up in the digital age, many lack the fundamental information literacy skills required for higher education. This deficiency manifests in academic malpractices such as plagiarism, which compromise the integrity of educational institutions. Moreover, this imperative work contends that the Fourth Industrial Revolution (4IR) is not a distant concept but a present reality. The recent global upheaval caused by the Coronavirus pandemic accelerated the adoption of new technologies, necessitating a swift reassessment of our collective ability to navigate this everchanging digital and information landscape. Focusing on media literacy, data literacy, and digital literacy with information literacy as the overarching domain, this book serves as a beacon for educators, librarians, and policymakers.

Tourism and Hospitality for Sustainable Development Emmanuel Ndhlovu, Kaitano Dube, Tawanda Makuyana, 2024-09-12. The travel and hospitality industry in the 21st century cannot be conceived, planned, advertised, run, or researched without the use of digital technology and innovation. Sustainable development in this sector cannot be achieved without considering the Fourth Industrial Revolution. The use of technology not only enhances the industry's profitability but also helps it to respond effectively to pressing global sustainability issues such as pandemics, climate change, energy crises, workforce shortages, and hyperinflation. Furthermore, technology allows the sector to fully evaluate its current and future economic, social, and environmental impacts, addressing the needs of tourists, businesses, the environment, and destinations. However, implementing technology is not a simple process and involves various opportunities, costs, and challenges that differ depending on the geopolitical and socio-economic context. With the drive towards disability inclusion, digitalisation, technological innovations, and inventions can play a significant role in universal design and reasonable accommodation for older people and populations with disabilities in the Global North and South, such as forms one of the key pillars of accessible tourism and hospitality. In the context of the above and in response to the thoughtful need for new and sustained study of the developments interrelationships potentialities of the topic and synergies this edited book explores the trends opportunities challenges and complexities of digitalisation and technology integration in the tourism and hospitality industry as well as strategic shifts that will contribute to emerging research streams The book comprises contributions that generate theoretical insights empirical findings and evidence based recommendations by focusing on emerging and forecasted technologies used in the tourism and hospitality industry such as blockchains robots Artificial Intelligence Virtual Reality big data and analytics The aim is to provide a better understanding of how disruptive technologies and digitalisation are currently being utilised and how they currently and potentially influence various stakeholder groups as well as their future possibilities and impossibilities The third volume in a three volume set primarily covers how these new technologies impact consumers and employees of tourism related services Chemistry for a Clean and Healthy Planet

The relationship between research on the one hand and policy practice on the other hand is complicated and collaboration between scholars in research on higher education RHE and institutional research IR practitioners is often lacking This book marks a collaborative effort of a diverse range of South African RHE and IR scholars and asks the overarching questions What do we know about the utilisation of South African research on higher education SARHE and its subset of research known as Institutional Research How and by whom is this research used The book begins by looking at the historical underpinnings of SARHE and delineating the shape and size of this body of research This is followed by a series of case studies on South African Higher Education institutions and governmental bodies investigating how when and by whom are research on higher education and institutional research used in the decision making of these organisations This book is the first of its kind in South Africa and sets out to lay the groundwork for further research into the use uptake and utilisation of RHE and IR in this country Aviation Industry Trends - Technology Advancements, Regulations, and Sustainability Zindoga Mukandavire,Hannah Al Ali,Kaitano Dube,2025-10-12 Aviation Industry Trends Technology Advancements Regulations and Sustainability The 5th International Aviation Management Conference 2024 offers readers a comprehensive guide to sustainable aviation s current and future landscape Emerging from the 5th International Aviation Management Conference IAMC the proceedings provide an in depth understanding of the transformative developments reshaping the skies and how the industry is responding to the demands of governance in an era of technological sophistication The book examines the aviation industry s pivot towards sustainability and strategies intended to meet the ambitious goal of carbon neutrality It covers cutting edge advancements in aircraft technology exploring the electrification of planes the potential of hybrid systems and the growing realm of autonomous flight It looks at the groundbreaking improvements in aerodynamics the use of advanced lightweight materials and the revolutionary engine designs that set new fuel efficiency standards This volume is an essential read for industry professionals policymakers students researchers and aviation enthusiasts It provides a global view of how the industry can thrive while grounding its practices in ecological stewardship and regulatory compliance Research Universities in Africa Cloete, Nico,Bunting, Ian,2018-11-09 From the early 2000s a new discourse emerged in Africa and the international donor community that higher education was important for development in Africa Within this zeitgeist of converging interests a range of agencies agreed that a different collaborative approach to linking higher education to development was necessary This led to the establishment of the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa Herana to concentrate on research and advocacy about the possible role and contribution of universities to development in Africa This book is the final publication to emerge from the Herana project The project has also published more than 100 articles chapters reports manuals and datasets and many presentations have been delivered to share insights gained from the work done by Herana. Given its prolific dissemination it seems reasonable to ask whether this fourth and final publication will offer the reader anything new. This book is certainly different from previous publications in several respects. First it is the only book to include an analysis of eight African universities based on the full 15 years of empirical data collected by the project. Second, previous books and reports were published mid-project. This book has benefited from an extended gestation period allowing the authors and contributors to reflect on the project without the distractions associated with managing and participating in a large scale project. For the first time some of those who have been involved in Herana since its inception have had the opportunity to at least make an attempt to see part of the wood for the trees. Different does not necessarily mean new. An emphasis on the newness of the data and perspectives presented in this book is important because it shows that it is more than a historical record of a donor funded project. Rather each chapter in this book brings to a lesser or greater extent something new to our understanding of universities research and development in Africa. Sustainable Development Goals for Society Vol. 1 Godwell Nhamo, Muchaiteyi Togo, Kaitano Dube, 2021-06-16. Written by 43 authors from Africa, Europe and Latin America this book presents 19 topics addressing poverty in the context of Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), leadership in implementing SDGs and SDGs in service delivery and local government. As the world has gone past five years of implementing the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and the intertwined 17 SDGs, new opportunities in research continue to open up. Hence documenting some of the initiatives put in place around the world regarding the implementation of the SDGs is one of the aims of this publication. With 10 years remaining the book further enhances the desire to scale up SDGs implementation. The selection of case studies from the selected regions also provides a balance in terms of how the SDGs are being rolled out for economic growth, environmental stewardship and social protection. The ambition remains even with the challenge brought by the COVID 19 pandemic that preoccupied the whole of 2020 spilling over to 2021. There is no doubt that resources have been diverted but the world must stay on the course to 2030 and beyond. Therefore the book is relevant for several stakeholders including the academics, development partners, government officials and other individuals that are involved in making sure no one is left behind in the lead to 2030.

Universities in Transition Bo Göransson, Claes Brundenius, 2010-12-16. Globalization, the information age and the rise of the knowledge based economy are significantly transforming the way we acquire, disseminate and transform knowledge. And as a result, knowledge production is becoming closer and more directly linked to economic competitiveness. This evolution is also putting new and urgent demands on academic institutions to adjust to the changing needs of society and economy. In particular, there is growing pressure on the institutions of higher education and research in developed economies to find and affirm their new role in the national innovation system. Their counterparts in developing economies need to define their role in supporting emerging structures of the innovation system. This book examines the role of universities and national research institutes in social and economic development processes. Featuring contributions that showcase initiatives and innovations
