The Other Black Church Joseph L. Tucker Edmonds, 2020-12-02 The Other Black Church Alternative Christian Movements and the Struggle for Black Freedom examines the movements led by Father Divine Charles Mason and Albert Cleage later known as Jaramogi Abebe Agyeman as alternative Christian movements in the middle of the twentieth century that radically re envisioned the limits and possibilities of Black citizenship These movements not only rethink the value and import of Christian texts and reimagined the role of the Black Christian prophetic tradition but they also outlined a new model of protest that challenged the language and logic of Black essentialism economic development and the role of the state By placing these movements in conversation with the long history of Black theology and Black religious studies this book suggests that alternative Christian movements are essential for thinking about African American critiques of and responses to the failures of U S based democracy These prophets of Black theological thought and their attention to the limits of the state and traditional Black religious formations are most fully appreciated when studied in light of their conversations and interactions with other key Black prophetic and theological figures of the mid twentieth century Ultimately The Other Black Church will use those conversations and archives from these movements to highlight their protest of the racial state to explore the limits of the Black church and to argue for their continued significance for thinking about the variety and vibrancy of Black protest specifically Black religious protest during the twentieth century

Greene,2015-11-11 In No Depression in Heaven Alison Collis Greene demonstrates how the Great Depression and New Deal transformed the relationship between church and state Grounded in Memphis and the Delta this book traces the collapse of voluntarism the link between southern religion and the New Deal and the gradual alienation of conservative Christianity from the state At the start of the Great Depression churches and voluntary societies provided the only significant source of aid for those in need in the South Limited in scope divided by race and designed to control the needy as much as to support them religious aid collapsed under the burden of need in the early 1930s Hungry homeless and out of work Americans found that they had nowhere to turn at the most desolate moment of their lives Religious leaders joined a chorus of pleas for federal intervention in the crisis and a permanent social safety net They celebrated the New Deal as a religious triumph Yet some complained that Franklin Roosevelt cut the churches out of his programs and lamented their lost moral authority Still others found new opportunities within the New Deal By the late 1930s the pattern was set for decades of religious and political realignment More than a study of religion and politics No Depression in Heaven uncovers the stories of men and women who endured the Depression and sought in their religious worlds the spiritual resources to endure material deprivation Its characters are rich and poor black and white mobile sharecroppers and wealthy reformers enamored of the federal government and appalled by it Woven into this story of political and social transformation are stories of southern men and women who faced the greatest economic disaster of the twentieth century and tried to build a better world than the one they inhabited

The Rise to Respectability Calvin White,2015-10-01 The Rise to Respectability documents the history of the Church of God in Christ COGIC and examines its cultural and religious impact on African Americans and on the history of the South It explores the ways in which Charles Harrison Mason the son of slaves and founder of COGIC embraced a Pentecostal faith that celebrated the charismatic forms of religious expression that many blacks had come to view as outdated unsophisticated and embarrassing While examining the intersection of race religion and class The Rise to Respectability details how the denomination dealt with the stringent standard of bourgeois behavior imposed on churchgoers as they moved from southern rural areas into the urban centers in both the South and North Rooted in the hardships of slavery and coming of age during Jim Crow COGIC s story is more than a religious debate Rather this book sees the history of the church as interwoven with the Great Migration class tension racial animosity and the struggle for modernity all representative parts of the African American experience

Church Planters Richard N. Pitt,2022 Millions are leaving churches half of all churches do not add any new members and thousands of churches shutter their doors each year These numbers suggest that American religion is not a growth industry Yet more than 1000 new churches are started in any given year In Church Planters sociologist Richard Pitt uses a series of in depth interviews with church planters to understand what moves people who might otherwise be satisfied working for churches to the riskier role of starting one
