Agronomic Crops Mirza Hasanuzzaman, 2019-11-23 Agronomic crops have provided food beverages fodder fuel medicine and industrial raw materials since the beginning of human civilization More recently agronomic crops have been cultivated using scientific rather than traditional methods However in the current era of climate change agronomic crops are suffering from different environmental stresses that result in substantial yield loss To meet the food demands of the ever increasing global population new technologies and management practices are being adopted to boost yields and maintain productivity under both normal and adverse conditions Further in the context of sustainable agronomic crop production scientists are adopting new approaches such as varietal development soil management nutrient and water management and pest management Researchers have also made remarkable advances in developing stress tolerance in crops However the search for appropriate solutions for optimal production to meet the increasing food demand is still ongoing Although there are several publications on the recent advances in these areas there are few comprehensive resources available covering all of the recent topics This timely book examines all aspects of production technologies management practices and stress tolerance of agronomic crops

Lineages of the Global City Shiben Banerji, 2025-07-08 The forgotten history of the occult foundations of the early twentieth century global city War revolution genocide rebellion slump The economic and political turmoil of the early twentieth century seemed destined to rip asunder the ties that bound colonizers and the colonized to one another The upheaval represented an opportunity and not just to nationalists who imagined new homelands or to socialists who dreamed of international brotherhood For modernists in the orbit of various occultisms the crisis of empire also represented an opportunity to reveal humanity's fundamental unity and common fate Lineages of the Global City recounts a continuous if also contentious transnational exchange among modernists and occultists across the Americas Europe South Asia and Australia between 1905 and 1949 At stake were the feelings and affect of a new global subject who would perceive themselves as belonging to humanity as a unified whole and the urban environment that would foster their subjectivity The interventions in this debate which drew in the period's most renowned modernists took the form of a succession of plans for cities suburbs and communes as well as experiments in building drawing printmaking filmmaking and writing Weaving together postcolonial feminist and Marxist insight on subject formation Shiben Banerji advances a new way of understanding modernist urban space as the design of subjective effects
