Javier Marías's Debt to Translation Gareth Wood, 2012-05-03 Javier Marías has explained many times that working as a translator of literary works from English into Spanish helped shape him as a writer. This study explores those claims by analysing two things: firstly his translations themselves and secondly seeing how those translations have left discernible traces in his own fiction.

The Man of Feeling Javier Marías, 2014-10-07 A story of love and memory from the most subtle and gifted writer in contemporary Spanish literature. The Boston Globe and the award-winning international bestselling author of The Infatuations. On a train journey from Paris to Madrid, a young opera singer becomes fascinated by those in his compartment: a middle-aged businessman, his alluring wife, and their male traveling companion. Soon his life of constant travel, luxury hotels, rehearsal and performance will become entangled with these three people, and the singer will find himself fatefully consumed by Natalia's beauty. The Man of Feeling is the haunting story of the birth and death of a passion told in retrospect. Intricately interweaving desire and memory, it explores the nature of love and asks whether we can ever truly recall something that no longer exists.

Tomás Nevinson Javier Marías, 2024-04-16 The final novel from Spain's most acclaimed writer, a novel about a charismatic half-Spanish, half-English man who is recruited by British intelligence. Javier Marías's best work, El País's Retired spy Tom's Nevinson, once an agent for the British Secret Service, now living a quiet life in his hometown Madrid, is approached by his former handler Bertram Tupra with an offer to bring him back in from the cold for one last assignment. The mission: to go undercover again in a small Spanish town to find out which of three women who moved there a decade ago is in fact a terrorist trained by the IRA on the run after masterminding several deadly attacks. Everything about the assignment is shadowy, from exactly who is in charge to the question of what justice Nevinson will need to mete out once he unmask the terrorist. But lured by the appeal of being back on the inside, he accepts the job. Nevinson soon becomes intimately involved with each of the three women. How or whom to choose? Under increasing pressure, he must choose and then act. Charting a world in which right and wrong, good and evil are irreparably blurred, Javier Marías takes us on a journey of rare and unforgettable suspense in this, the final novel written before his untimely passing.

The Infatuations Javier Marías, 2014-04-22 INTERNATIONAL BESTSELLER NATIONAL BOOK CRITICS CIRCLE FINALIST From the award-winning internationally bestselling Spanish author of A Heart So White comes an immersive, provocative novel propelled by a seemingly random murder. Sometimes startling, sometimes hilarious and always intelligent, Marías has a penetrating empathy. The New York Times Book Review: Each day before work, María Dolz stops at the same café. There she finds herself drawn to a couple who is also there every morning. Observing their seemingly perfect life helps her escape the listlessness of her own. But when the man is brutally murdered, María approaches the widow to offer her condolences. What began as mere observation turns into an increasingly complicated entanglement. Invited into the widow's home, she meets and falls in love with a man who sheds disturbing new light on the crime. As María recounts this story, we are given a murder mystery brilliantly encased in a metaphysical enquiry, a novel that grapples with questions of love and death, chance and coincidence and above all with the slippery essence of the truth and how it is told Thus Bad Begins Javier Marías, 2016 Named a Best Book of the Year by the Boston Globe and Los Angeles Times From the internationally acclaimed author of The Infatuations comes the mesmerizing story of a couple living in the shadow of a mysterious unhappy history a novel about the cruel tender punishments we exact on those we love Madrid 1980 Juan de Vere nearly finished with his university degree takes a job as personal assistant to Eduardo Muriel an eccentric once successful film director Urbane discreet irreproachable Muriel is an irresistible idol to the young man But Muriel's voluptuous wife Beatriz inhabits their home like an unwanted ghost and on the periphery of their lives is Dr Jorge Van Vechten a family friend implicated in unsavory rumors that Muriel now asks Juan to investigate As Juan draws closer to the truth he uncovers only more questions What is at the root of Muriel's hostility toward his wife How did Beatriz meet Van Vechten What happened during the war Mar as leads us deep into the intrigues of these characters through a daring exploration of rancor suspicion loyalty trust and the infinitely permeable boundaries between the deceptions perpetrated on us by others and those we inflict upon ourselves

Berta Isla Javier Marías, 2019-08-06 WINNER OF SPAIN'S NATIONAL CRITICS AWARD From the award winning internationally bestselling author of The Infatuations comes a gripping novel of intrigue and missed chances at once a spy story and a profound examination of a marriage founded on concealment A masterly premise worthy of a Hitchcock adaptation The New York Times Book Review When Berta Isla was a schoolgirl she decided she would marry Tom's Nevinson the dashing half Spanish half English boy in her class with an extraordinary gift for languages But when Tom's returns to Madrid from his studies at Oxford he is a changed man Unbeknownst to her he has been approached by an agent from the British intelligence services and he has unwittingly set in motion events that will derail forever the life they had planned With peerless insight into the most shadowed corners of the human soul Mar as plunges the reader into the growing chasm between Berta and Tom's and the decisions that irreversibly change the course of the couple's fate Berta Isla is a novel of love and truth fear and secrecy buried identities and the destinies we bring upon ourselves A Writing Life Bernadette Brennan, 2017-04-03 This is literary critique and biography at its finest Australian Financial Review Helen Garner is one of Australia's most important and most admired writers She is revered for her fearless honesty in the pursuit of her craft But Garner also courts controversy not least because she refuses to be constrained by the rules of literary form She has never been afraid to write herself into her nonfiction and many of her own experiences help to shape her fiction But who is the I in Helen Garner's work Bernadette Brennan's A Writing Life is the first full length study of Garner's forty years of work a literary portrait that maps all of her books against the different stages of her life Brennan has had access to previously unavailable papers in Garner's archive and she provides a lively and rigorous reading of the books journals and correspondence of one of Australia's most beloved women of letters Dr Bernadette Brennan is an academic and researcher in contemporary Australian writing literature and ethics She is the author of a number of publications including a monograph
