Boadu-Ayeboafah, 2006-06-06 HWM, 2006-07 Singapore's leading tech magazine gives its readers the power to decide with its informative articles and in depth reviews Mobile Messaging Technologies and Services Gwenaël Le Bodic, 2003-06-13 Mobile messaging is practically the first data communication service in the wireless domain. It is a major advance on the conventional practice of providing only voice communication service over the wireless interface. Thus mobile messaging is the initial step to bring the Internet to wireless terminals and has considerable importance both for mobile communication and the Internet. Mobile Messaging provides an in depth description of messaging technologies supported by mobile networks. It covers the Short Message Service (SMS), Enhanced Messaging Service (EMS) through to the more complex and emerging Multimedia Messaging Service (MMS). The Short Message System (SMS) has proved to be incredibly popular and is supported by most GSM, TDMA and CDMA mobile networks. This volume focuses on the Short Message Service introduced by the European Telecommunications Standard Institute (ETSI) for GSM and GPRS networks. On the basis of ETSI standard, the 3rd Generation Partnership Project (3GPP) is currently the organisation responsible for maintaining the SMS technical specifications. In its most basic form, the Short Messaging Service allows users to exchange short messages composed of a limited amount of text and it is expected that up to 100 Billion short messages could be exchanged monthly by the end of 2002. The Enhanced Message Service (EMS) an application level extension of SMS supersedes basic SMS features by allowing elements such as images, animations, formatted text and monophonic melodies to be inserted in short or concatenated messages. Recently the 3GPP has been focusing on the development of the Multimedia Message Service (MMS). MMS features include the exchange of messages containing polyphonic melodies, large images, video elements, sometimes organised with a multimedia presentation language such as SMIL or XHTML. MMS will be supported by 2.5G and 3G networks. MMS specifications have reached a fairly mature stage and MMS commercial solutions are appearing on the market. Unlike EMS, MMS has been specified by the 3GPP as a service independent from the underlying network technologies. In parallel to the 3GPP standardisation process, other organisations have specified network specific implementations of MMS such as the WAP implementation defined by the WAP Forum. In order to develop applications using Short Enhanced and Multimedia messaging technologies, engineers have to become familiar with the use of technical specifications produced by various standard development organisations such as the 3GPP, the WAP Forum and the IETF and this is the first book to pull this vast array of material together. Provides an in depth description of the different messaging services and messaging technologies. Presents an introduction to mobile networks. Features numerous practical implementation examples. Provides a unique, easy to follow presentation of messaging services and mobile networks within a single publication. Essential reading for content providers, service providers, network operators and telecommunications manufacturers, researchers, postgraduate students, marketing and standardisation personnel , Achieving the Circular Economy Jenny Palm,Nancy Bocken,2021-05-20

Urbanisation and climate change are pushing cities to find novel pathways leading to a sustainable future The urban context may be viewed as a new experimentation space to accelerate the transition to a circular economy Urban symbiosis and the circular economy are emerging concepts attracting more and more attention within the urban context Moreover new business models are emerging around sharing and peer to peer practices which are challenging existing roles of actors in society These developments are having an important impact on the flows of resources and the use of the city infrastructure and each research area has taken a different perspective in the analysis of such impacts This Special Issue aims to explore what a circular city could constitute and how and why cities engage in circularity This Special Issue includes seven high quality papers on the theories and practices of circular cities Actors concepts methods tools the barriers to and enablers of circular cities are discussed and a solid base and inspiration for the future development of circular cities are provided

Managing Open Innovation Technologies Jenny S. Z. Eriksson Lundström, Mikael Wiberg, Stefan Hristinski, Mats Edenius, Pär J. Ågerfalk, 2014-07-08 Open innovation increases the profit of companies and organizations via the input and the adoption of new ideas that are transformed into new processes products and services Yet how do we ensure that adopters of such innovations focus on relevant problems and use appropriate methods How should we manage open innovation technologies How can we exploit distributed knowledge and inventions And how can we promote them successfully on the market With valuable lessons to be learned from academic research and industrial experiences of e g Intel Nokia Philips Healthcare small municipalities e learning platforms and user communities this book focuses on some of the key dimensions of open innovation and open innovation technologies It is divided into three themes theme 1 deals with open innovation as it is in use today including theoretical underpinnings and lessons from related research fields Theme 2 analyzes the use of open innovation in organizations today in order to extract best practices Theme 3 presents forward looking theoretical research as well as practical future uses of open innovation Each chapter addresses the particular topics by presenting experiences and results gained in real life projects and or by empirical research and clearly states its purpose and how readers are supposed to benefit from it Overall the objectives of this book are to advance and disseminate research on systematic open innovation and to make its results available to practitioners Thus the intended target audience includes the international academic community industrial enterprises and public authorities

Turbulence characterises the current global scene This book uses complementary theoretical approaches to understand and help prescribe policies to re frame the regional development problem in turbulent times These approaches are evolutionary complexity evolutionary economic geography emergence theory and resilience theory From below they address the four major crises creating a perfect storm for societies and economics involving the climate change crisis the energy crisis the banking and financial crisis and the global economic crisis This book analyses and proposes ways in which regional economies in particular are having to be reframed to address these crises First many must evolve in new ways possibly moving back from the service economy towards a new greener form of manufacturing of goods as well as services Accordingly regional economies are innovating in new ways Amongst these are the quest for relatedness within their own regional orbits and promoting modularity as a mode of analysis and a policy stance to stimulate innovation across industry and geographical borders Finally regional economies and societies are discovering that from a resilience perspective they must find answers to the higher levels of governance with which they increasingly struggle In this respect regional economies are in transition and regional processes are emergent The transition seeks to address the four crises involving re balancing re directing and re framing future policy and practice This book describes many of the novel framings involved in understanding the new ways in which this major task is being addressed in theory policy and everyday practice
