Macroeconomic Developments and Prospects in Low-Income Developing Countries - 2016 International Monetary Fund. Strategy, Policy, & Review Department, International Monetary Fund. Fiscal Affairs Dept., International Monetary Fund. Monetary and Capital Markets Department, International Monetary Fund. Asia and Pacific Dept, 2016-11-23 This paper is the third in a series assessing macroeconomic developments and prospects in low income developing countries LIDCs The first of these papers IMF 2014a examined trends during 2000 2014 a period of sustained strong growth across most LIDCs The second paper IMF 2015a focused on the impact of the drop in global commodity prices since mid 2014 on LIDCs a story with losers countries dependent on commodity exports notably fuel and winners countries with a more diverse export base where growth remained robust The overarching theme in this paper s assessment of the macroeconomic conjuncture among LIDCs is that of incomplete adjustment to the new world of lower for long commodity prices with many commodity exporters still far from a sustainable macroeconomic trajectory Chapter 1 The analysis of risks and vulnerabilities focuses on financial sector stresses and medium term fiscal risks pointing to the actions including capacity building needed to manage and contain these challenges over time Chapter 2 With 2016 the first year of

the march towards the 2030 development goals the paper also looks at how infrastructure investment can be accelerated in LIDCs given that weaknesses in public infrastructure such as energy transportation systems in LIDCs are widely seen as a key constraint on medium term growth potential Chapter 3 With the sharp adjustment in commodity prices now into its third year some of the key messages of the paper are familiar a many commodity exporters notably fuel producers remain under significant economic stress with sluggish growth large fiscal imbalances and weakened foreign reserve positions b countries with a more diversified export base are generally doing well although several have been hit by declines in remittances conflict natural disasters and the contractionary impact of macroeconomic stabilization programs c widening fiscal imbalances in both commodity and diversified exporters have resulted in rising debt levels with severe financing stress emerging in some cases and d financial sector stresses have emerged in many LIDCs with expectations that these strains will increase in many commodity exporters over the next 12 18 months Key messages on financial sector oversight on medium term fiscal risks and on tackling infrastructure gaps are flagged below Read Executive Summary in Arabic Chinese French Spanish

Democracy, Elections, and Constitutionalism in Africa Charles M. Fombad, Nico Steytler, 2021-03-18 The third wave of democracy that reached African shores at the end of the Cold War brought with it a dramatic decline from 1990 onwards in dictatorships military regimes one party governments and presidents for life Multiparty democracy was at the core of the constitutional revolutions that swept through most of Africa in those watershed years However that wave is either losing momentum or receding or being reversed in its entirety This volume examines democracy and elections in Africa a focus motivated by two concerns First after 30 years it is important to take stock of the state of constitutional democracy on the continent The democratic gains of the 1990s and 2000s seem to be falling by the wayside with the evidence mounting that regimes are concealing authoritarianism under the veneer of elections doing so in an international context where populist regimes are on the rise and free and fair multiparty elections are consequently no longer a given It is becoming a battle to protect and retain constitutional democracy The second reason for this volume s focus on democracy and elections is that multiparty democracy is essential for the proper functioning of the state in addressing the major problems facing Africa internal conflict inequality and lack of development and poor governance and corruption The focus of this volume is thus on how competitive politics or multiparty democracy can be realized and how through competition such politics could lead to better policy and practice outcomes

Towards a Sustainable Future United Nations Publications,2016 This report aimed at policy makers from Asia and the Pacific provides a historical perspective on regional energy connectivity and its implementation challenges as well as outlining an action plan for accelerated regional energy integration to bring shared benefits to ESCAP s member States The report concludes that energy connectivity can increase the supply and reduce the cost of energy while lowering its social and environmental costs and addressing the challenges of energy security Regional cooperation in energy has been evolving mainly through five subregional clusters South East Asia Central Asia South Asia North East Asia and the Pacific A great many resources have been spent on bringing the subregions together however overall results remain below the potential One of the main reasons for the slow progress is the decision making process for cross border projects Energy markets do not connect by themselves in the next few decades actions will be needed to build physical energy networks institutional connectivity and most importantly trust between nations to meet the Region s two most important challenges overcoming energy poverty and mitigating climate change Governments policymakers and experts must work together in partnership with the private sector to provide sustainable energy for all by 2050 by connecting Asian energy networks and building institutions of integration ESCAP is in a unique position to lead such a transformative partnership for ensuring that regional energy connectivity creates incentive structures and institutions to deliver cost effective energy for the entire Region It is
