Hall, 2021-04-07 Japan's nationalist right have used the internet to organize offline activism in increasingly visible ways Hall investigates the role of internet mediated activism in Japan's ongoing historical and territorial disputes He explores the emergence of two right wing activist organizations Nihon Bunka Channel Sakura and Ganbare Nippon which have played a significant role in pressure campaigns against Japanese media outlets campaigns to influence historical memorials and campaigns to assert Japan's territorial claim to the Senkaku Diaoyu Islands Taking a multi disciplinary approach he analyses how activists maintained cohesion raised funds held protests that regularly drew hundreds to thousands of participants and used fishing boats to land activists on disputed islands Detailing events that took place between 2004 and 2020 he demonstrates how skilled social actors built cohesive grassroots protest organizations through the creation of shared meaning for their organization and its supporters A valuable read both for scholars seeking insight into the dynamics surrounding Japan's history disputes and territorial issues as well as those seeking to compare Japanese right wing internet activism with its counterparts elsewhere The Times Index, 2009 Indexes the Times Sunday times and magazine Times literary supplement Times educational supplement Times educational supplement Scotland and the Times higher education supplement The Economist, 2002 New Challenges and Perspectives in Conservation Breeding Programs Eliana Pintus, José Luis Ros-Santaella, William Holt, Pierre Comizzoli, 2025-05-21 Conservation Breeding Programs CBPs remain essential tools to preserve animal biodiversity and save threatened species from extinction Despite the advances made during the last decades CBPs have been carried out only on a small number of species mostly mammals and birds There is therefore an urgent need to develop and complement in situ and ex situ strategies to also preserve other vertebrates like fish amphibians and reptiles in which the biodiversity loss because of climate change or other anthropogenic activities is even more dramatic One of the main factors that limits CBPs success is the lack of knowledge of the animal reproductive biology and behavior which is precisely known for instance in less than 4% of mammals the majority of which are terrestrial species Such knowledge is beneficial not only to enhance but also to control animal fertility that is especially warranted for the management of overabundant or invasive species which represent a further major threat for biodiversity The goal of this Research Topic is to bring together studies that deal with different aspects of animal reproduction both in captive and wild populations This includes both ex situ and in situ approaches such as the management of animal reproduction in captive populations and their reintroduction release into the wild Other approaches such as assisted reproductive technologies and biobanking greatly contribute to the success of conservation breeding This Research Topic also welcomes studies exploring the effects of biotic e g inbreeding diseases stress and abiotic e g anthropogenic activities housing and veterinary care factors on reproductive biology of all vertebrates classes with a special interest to fish amphibians and reptiles As a comprehensive knowledge of animal reproduction and behavior plays a key role for the development and success of breeding programs descriptive studies on reproductive anatomy and physiology of wild or captive species either endangered or overabundant are welcomed The Research Topic also accepts manuscripts that deal with ethical aspects of animal welfare in CBPs and population management of invasive or overabundant species
