That Indonesia s ongoing occupation of West Papua continues to be largely ignored by world governments is one of the great moral and political failures of our time West Papuans have struggled for more than fifty years to find a way through the long night of Indonesian colonization However united in their pursuit of merdeka freedom in its many forms what holds West Papuans together is greater than what divides them Today the Morning Star glimmers on the horizon the supreme symbol of merdeka and a cherished sign of hope for the imminent arrival of peace and justice to West Papua Morning Star Rising The Politics of Decolonization in West Papua is an ethnographically framed account of the long bitter fight for freedom that challenges the dominant international narrative that West Papuans quest for political independence is fractured and futile Camellia Webb Gannon s extensive interviews with the decolonization movement s original architects and its more recent champions shed light on complex diasporic and intergenerational politics as well as social and cultural resurgence In foregrounding West Papuans perspectives the author shows that it is the body politic s unflagging determination and hope rather than military might or influential allies that form the movement s most unifying and powerful force for independence This book examines the many intertwining strands of decolonization in Melanesia Differences in cultural performance and political diversity throughout the region are generating new fruitful trajectories Simultaneously Black and Indigenous solidarity and a shared Melanesian identity have forged a transnational grassroots power base from which the movement is

Uneven Connections Robert J. Foster, 2024-03-28 In the first years of the 21st century economic liberalisation began to transform telecommunications services throughout the Pacific Islands Government regulators corporate executives and everyday consumers hopefully imagined that opening mobile phone markets to competition would result in greater access lower costs and accelerated development Uneven Connections examines the ways in which liberalisation took hold in Papua New Guinea PNG when a unit of the Caribbean based mobile network operator Digicel Group Ltd seized the opportunity to compete with the state sponsored incumbent The book highlights how mobile phones entered the lives of urban and rural Papua New Guineans after Digicel's arrival in 2007 In so doing it describes a moral economy in which companies consumers and state agents continually negotiate who owes what to whom In what ways have these various actors invented and negotiated new forms of both freedom and constraint Uneven Connections advances understanding of how a so called digital revolution in PNG unfolded resulting in outcomes that often confounded the expectations of policy makers and ordinary citizens alike It assesses the extent to which some of the promises of this revolution have been redeemed and identifies the challenges faced by companies consumers and state agents in establishing and experiencing novel forms of uneven connectivity The book provides a short and selective history of mobile phones in PNG ending with the sale of Digicel's Pacific operations to the Australian company Telstra in 2022
