Education Elizabeth E. Heilman,Ramona Fruja Anthor,Matthew T. Missias,2010 The preparation of social studies teachers is crucial not only to the project of good education but even more broadly to the cultivation of a healthy democracy and the growth of a nation of citizens. This one-of-a-kind resource features ideas from over 100 of the field's most thoughtful teacher educators reflecting on their best practices and offering specific strategies through which future teachers can learn to teach, thus illuminating the careful planning and deep thinking that go into the preparation of the social studies teachers. While concentrating on daily teaching realities such as lesson planning and meeting national, state, or provincial standards, each contributor also wrestles with the most important current issues on educating teachers for today's increasingly diverse, complex, and global society. Features of this unique teaching resource include Volume sections that are arranged by both disciplinary organization and approach or activity; thoughtful introductory section essays that conceptualize each theme, providing a conscientious theoretical overview and analysis of each individual section; rich and concrete examples of best practice from some of the field's most diverse and highly regarded scholars and teacher educators; an index that identifies the appropriate teaching level and teacher education context and links the strategies and ideas that are presented in the essay to the relevant INTASC and NCSS standards for quick reference in classroom planning as well as institutional development and implementation. A much-needed addition to the field, this comprehensive volume will be of value to any teacher interested in social studies or diversity education across age groups and educational contexts.
