

TIME'S DECADENCE

A woman's face is superimposed over a misty forest scene. The woman has dark hair and is looking slightly to the side. The forest has tall, thin trees and a ground covered in fallen red and orange leaves. The overall color palette is warm, with a lot of orange, yellow, and brown tones.

Italian Futurism and the Development of English Literary Modernism Robyn Jakeman, 2025-11-13 Revisiting the place of Italian Futurism in English literary modernism this book draws on a range of overlooked historical and archival sources to reassess how English writers engaged with Futurist ideas It suggests that Futurism offered a compelling response to a cultural tension that had emerged in the late nineteenth century the growing separation between art and life and considers how English modernists adapted aspects of Futurist thought in order to navigate and reshape fin de siècle cultural discourses It begins with an analysis of Italian Futurism's transnational affiliations its position in the European cultural field and a reassessment of its reception in England and goes on to re-evaluate three key modernist figures the Poetry Bookshop proprietor and editor Harold Monro the Vorticist impresario Wyndham Lewis and the poet and artist Mina Loy In doing so this study not only offers an expanded account of the Futurist movement in England and Anglophone contexts but also contributes to ongoing efforts to develop a more interconnected and nuanced understanding of early modernist historiography The New Age, 1923 English Literature in Transition, 1880-1920, 2005 The Outside Thing Hannah Roche, 2019-05-28 In a lecture delivered before the University of Oxford's Anglo-French Society in 1936 Gertrude Stein described romance as the outside thing that is always a thing to be felt inside Hannah Roche takes Stein's definition as a principle for the reinterpretation of three major modernist lesbian writers showing how literary and affective romance played a crucial yet overlooked role in the works of Stein Radclyffe Hall and Djuna Barnes The Outside Thing offers original readings of both canonical and peripheral texts including Stein's first novel Q.E.D. Things As They Are Hall's Adam's Breed and The Well of Loneliness and Barnes's early writing alongside Nightwood Is there an inside space for lesbian writing or must it always seek refuge elsewhere Crossing established lines of demarcation between the in and the out the real and the romantic and the Victorian and the modernist The Outside Thing presents romance as a heterosexual plot upon which lesbian writers willfully set up camp These writers boldly adopted and adapted the romance genre Roche argues as a means of staking a queer claim on a heteronormative institution Refusing to submit or surrender to the straight traditions of the romance plot they turned the rules to their advantage Drawing upon extensive archival research The Outside Thing is a significant rethinking of the interconnections between queer writing lesbian living and literary modernism Catalogue of Books in the Lower Hall of the Boston Public Library in the Classes of History, Biography, Geography, and Travel Boston Public Library, 1892 Symbolism 21 Florian Klaeger, Klaus Stierstorfer, Marlena Tronicke, 2021-10-25 Special Focus Law and Literature This special focus issue of Symbolism takes a look at the theoretical equation of law and literature and its inherent symbolic dimension The authors all approach the subject from the perspective of literary and book studies foregrounding literature's potential to act as supplementary to a very wide variety of laws spread over historical geographical cultural and spatial grounds The theoretical ground laid here thus posits both literature and law in the narrow sense The articles gathered in this special issue analyse Anglophone literatures from the Renaissance to the present day and cover the three major genres narrative drama and poetry The contributions address questions of the law s psychoanalytic subconscious copyright and censorship literary negotiations of colonial and post colonial territorial laws the European refugee debate and migration narratives fictional debates on climate change contemporary feminist drama and classic 19th century legal narratives This volume includes two insightful analyses of poetic texts with a special focus on the fact that poetry has often been neglected within the field of law and literature research Special Focus editor Franziska Quabeck Westfälische Wilhelms Universität Münster Germany Radclyffe Hall Richard Dellamora,2011-05-31 The Well of Loneliness is probably the most famous lesbian novel ever written and certainly the most widely read It contains no explicit sex scenes yet in 1928 the year in which the novel was published it was deemed obscene in a British court of law for its defense of sexual inversion and was forbidden for sale or import into England Its author Radclyffe Hall was already well known as a writer and West End celebrity but the fame and notoriety of that one book has all but eclipsed a literary output of some half dozen other novels and several volumes of poetry In Radclyffe Hall A Life in the Writing Richard Dellamora offers the first full look at the entire range of Hall s published and unpublished works of fiction poetry and autobiography and reads through them to demonstrate how she continually played with the details of her own life to help fashion her own identity as well as to bring into existence a public lesbian culture Along the way Dellamora revises many of the truisms about Hall that had their origins in the memoirs of her long term partner Una Troubridge and that have found an afterlife in the writings of Hall s biographers In detailing Hall s explorations of the self Dellamora is the first seriously to consider their contexts in Freudian psychoanalysis as understood in England in the 1920s As important he uncovers Hall s involvement with other modes of speculative psychology including Spiritualism Theosophy and an eclectic brand of Christian and Buddhist mysticism Dellamora s Hall is a woman of complex accommodations able to reconcile her marriage to Troubridge with her passionate affairs with other women and her experimental approach to gender and sexuality with her conservative politics and Catholicism She is above all a thinker continually inventive about the connections between selfhood and desire a figure who has much to contribute to our own efforts to understand transgendered and transsexual existence today Russian Montparnasse Maria Rubins,2015-09-29 This book reassesses the role of Russian Montparnasse writers in the articulation of transnational modernism generated by exile Examining their production from a comparative perspective it demonstrates that their response to urban modernity transcended the Russian master narrative and resonated with broader aesthetic trends in interwar Europe Journal of the Royal Institute of British Architects ,1912 The Building News and Engineering Journal ,1888 The Spectator ,1889 Princeton Alumni Weekly ,1933-08-11 Decadent Poetics J. Hall,A. Murray,2013-08-23 Decadent Poetics explores the complex and vexed topic of decadent literature s formal characteristics and interrogates previously held assumptions around the nature of decadent form Writers studied include Oscar Wilde

Charles Baudelaire and Algernon Charles Swinburne as well as A E Housman Arthur Machen and Hubert Crackanthorpe

RIBA Journal Royal Institute of British Architects,1912 Reconsidering Catholic Lay Womanhood Kathryn G. Lamontagne,2023-07-26 This book offers a new perspective on the often overlooked lives of lay women in the English Roman Catholic Church It explores how over a century ago in England some exceptional Catholic lay women Margaret Fletcher Maude Petre Radclyffe Hall and Mabel Batten negotiated non traditional family lives and were actively practicing their faith while not adhering to perceived structures of femininity power and sexuality Focusing on c 1880 1930 a time of dynamism and change in both England and the Church these remarkable women represent a rethinking of what it meant to be a lay women in the English Roman Catholic Church Their pious transgressions demonstrate the multiplicity of ways lay women powerfully asserted aspects of their faith while contravening boundaries traditionally assumed for them in an ostensibly patriarchal religion In fact the Church could be a place for expressions of unconventional religiosity and reinterpretations of womanhood and domesticity Connecting together the lives of these women for the first time this work fills a lacuna in the scholarship of modern Catholic and gender history Drawing from private collections and numerous archives it illustrates the surprising range of modes of Lived Catholicism and devotion to faith Students and scholars of Catholicism gender and LGBTQIA studies will find significant merit in a book that assigns lay women a more prominent role in the English Catholic Church and offers examples of the flexibility of Roman Catholicism

Modernism and the Theater of Censorship Adam Parkes,1996-02-22 Adam Parkes investigates the literary and cultural implications of the censorship encountered by several modern novelists in the early twentieth century He situates modernism in the context of this censorship examining the relations between such authors as D H Lawrence James Joyce Radclyffe Hall and Virginia Woolf and the public controversies generated by their fictional explorations of modern sexual themes These authors located obscenity at the level of stylistic and formal experiment The Rainbow Lady Chatterley's Lover Ulysses and Orlando dramatized problems of sexuality and expression in ways that subverted the moral political and aesthetic premises on which their censors operated In showing how modernism evolved within a culture of
