Alex, 2007 Contributed papers presented at two ecocriticism conferences organized by Indian Association for Studies in Contemporary Literature in English et al The Hungry Tide Amitav Ghosh, 2005 From the author of The Glass Palace the widely acclaimed bestseller The Hungry Tide is a rich exotic saga set in Calcutta and in the vast archipelago of islands in the Bay of Bengal Local Natures, Global Responsibilities Laurenz Volkmann, 2010 Laurenz Volkmann is Professor of EFL Teaching at Friedrich Schiller University Jena where Nancy Grimm and Katrin Thomson also teach Ines Detmers is a lecturer in English literature at the Technical University of Chemnitz Book Jacket The Construction of Place in Amitav Ghosh's "The Hungry Tide" Marnie Hensler, 2020-10-09 Seminar paper from the year 2020 in the subject Literature Asia University of Freiburg English Department course On the Beach Narrating Littoral Space in Literature language English abstract This paper claims that the space of the tide country as perceived by the protagonists in The Hungry Tide is constructed through two major embedded narratives The first narrative is the legend of the goddess Bon Bibi Passed down orally from generation to generation the rhythmic legend sediments itself in the minds of the tide country people defines how they see their homeland and thus actively and repeatedly constructs and reconstructs the space of the tide country The second narrative is Nirmal's recollection of his repeated adventures to Morichjhapi Unlike the legend of Bon Bibi his adventures are transmitted in writing through his notebook Accessible to Kanai and the reader only its content shapes and constructs how both character and reader perceive and construct the space of the historical island However it also works the other way around The place of the tide country also influences the narratives that evolve around it The Bon Bibi legend is as fluid as the tide country being reinterpreted from generation to generation Nirmal's notebook as well reflects the main characteristics of the tide country as it travels on water on the Megha and ultimately also disappears in water like the tide country eventually will as well In this paper a close textual analysis of both embedded narratives reveals how they manage to re-construct the space of the tide country for both characters and readers i.e. which narrative strategies are used etc. and what distinct topographical characteristics of the tide country can be found within them In sum this paper claims that narratives have the ability to construct the space we live in Cultural geography examines how places and identities are produced It looks into how people of a certain culture and place perceive their homeland or inverse how they construct it with the help of cultural artefacts Cultural artefacts like folktales or songs can contribute to the construction of space since they describe and determine how people view and perceive the places around them Whatever cultural artefacts people produce give insight into how they see their space Narratives as cultural artefacts for example can thus show us how spaces are perceived by those who tell and consume them

History and Redemption in Amitav Ghosh's the Hungry Tide Yi-Ting Kuo, 2016 The Cambridge Introduction to Literature and the Environment Timothy Clark, 2011-01-06 The degrading environment of the planet is something that touches everyone This 2011 book offers an introductory overview of literary and cultural criticism that concerns environmental crisis in some form Both as a way of reading texts and as a theoretical approach to culture more generally ecocriticism is a varied and fast changing set of practices which challenges inherited thinking and practice in the reading of literature and culture This introduction defines what ecocriticism is its methods arguments and concepts and will enable students to look at texts in a wholly new way Boxed sections explain key critical terms and contemporary debates in the field with hands on examples and comparisons Timothy Clark's thoughtful approach makes this an ideal first encounter with environmental readings of literature The US and the World We Inhabit Anastasia Cardone, Paola Loreto, Adele Tiengo, 2019-11-29 Environmental and global outlooks are currently at the center of the most lively and urgent international scholarship This volume serves to overcome the self-referentiality of American studies by intersecting the study of American literature and history with the questions and concerns raised by these perspectives It re-conceptualizes the mutual and shifting positions of center's and margin's and subject's and object's in terms of relation and an inclusive structure of relations based on an ecological ethics The contributions here explore many methodological hypotheses ranging from Christa Greve Vollp's work on eco-cosmopolitanism to Peter Bardaglio's report on US climate activism as well as the ecocritical and ecofeminist viewpoints of Scott Slovic and Greta Gaard respectively. In addition to contributing to academic discourse, the essays written by both young and established international scholars and coherently arranged into four thematic sections explore topics that are of interest to the broader public. The issues discussed here include identity and new forms of belonging, migration and the environment, ecolanguage, ecopoetry and ecopoetics, translation and multilingualism, animal studies, environmental activism, shifting geographies and ecofeminism. Amitabh Ghosh BIBHASH CHOUDHURY, 2009-06-08 Indian Writing in English has proliferated over the last few decades and has made a huge impact on English readers. Not only do the works of Indian authors writing in English find a place on the best seller list, they are also receiving critical acclaim across the world. Starting from Rabindranath Tagore, Sarojni Naidu, R. K. Narayan, Raja Rao, Mulk Raj Anand to V. S. Naipaul, Salman Rushdie, Vikram Seth and Amitav Ghosh, we have an array of writers adorning the literary horizon. All these writers have considerable following in the English speaking countries and Amitav Ghosh certainly occupies an important place among them and is much acclaimed for his literary style and content. One of the most prolific postcolonial writers writing today, Amitav Ghosh has received many awards: The Circle of Reason winning the Prix Medici Etranger, one of France's top literary awards; The Shadow Lines winning the Sahitya Akademi Award; and The Calcutta Chromosome bagging the Arthur C. Clarke Award for 1997. His latest novel, Sea of Poppies, too has been highly appreciated. This book, which is an anthology of critical essays, deals with fictional as well as non-fictional works of Amitav Ghosh. It focuses on Ghosh's idea and theory of the novel, postcolonial rationality in The Circle of Reason, nationalism in the context of Partition in The Shadow Lines, and East-West encounter in The Calcutta Chromosome. Besides, it also discusses power structure operating within the narrative of The Glass Palace and the question of space, identity and cultural difference in The Hungry Tide. Though different from each other, some of the essays take up common themes for discussion and offer new insights into Ghosh's works. The essays are thoughtful, incisive and refreshing. This book is meant for the undergraduate and postgraduate students of English literature. Besides, all those readers who wish to delve deeper into the works of Amitav Ghosh will find reading the text extremely informative, stimulating and useful.
