Development of Writing Skills in Children in Diverse Cultural Contexts Alina Galvão Spinillo, Carmen

Sotomayor, 2023-06-16 This book brings together multiple theoretical perspectives and disciplinary approaches to study the acquisition and development of written language by children as well as the implications for teaching and learning of writing practices in a variety of languages and cultural contexts Chapters in this contributed volume present both theoretical contributions and results of research carried out with students and teachers from 11 countries Belgium Brazil Chile Israel Italy Mexico the Netherlands Portugal Spain UK and USA who speak seven different languages Portuguese Spanish English Italian French Dutch and Hebrew By bringing together research developed in diverse cultural contexts it enriches the debates in the interdisciplinary field of writing studies by analyzing a wide range of topics at the interface between research and educational implications for the teaching and learning of writing by children The book consists of five parts each one addressing a specific set of topics Part I presents studies on topics related to written language representation systems phonological and morphological awareness and on the relationship between grammar and the quality of texts of different genres Part II includes studies related to compositional processes of writing texts and the factors involved in these processes Part III focuses on the difficulties faced by students during the acquisition and development of writing Part IV is dedicated to chapters that discuss and compare writing practices in different social environments Finally chapters in part V deal with teaching and learning of writing in the school setting Development of Writing Skills in Children in Diverse Cultural Contexts Contributions to Teaching and Learning will be of interest to researchers and students in the fields of psychology education and linguistics as well as to other social scientists in the broader interdisciplinary field of writing studies

Language and Chronology, 2019-09-02 In Language and Chronology Toner and Han apply innovative Machine Learning techniques to the problem of the dating of literary texts Many ancient and medieval literatures lack reliable chronologies which could aid scholars in locating texts in their historical context The new machine learning method presented here uses chronological information gleaned from annalistic records to date a wide range of texts The method is also applied to multi layered texts to aid the identification of different chronological strata within single copies While the algorithm is here applied to medieval Irish material of the period c 700 c 1700 it can be extended to written texts in any language or alphabet The authors approach presents a step change in Digital Humanities moving us beyond simple querying of electronic texts towards the production of a sophisticated tool for literary and historical studies

Dynamics of Sensorimotor Interactions in Embodied Cognition

Guillaume T. Vallet, Benoit Riou, Lionel Brunel, Nicolas Vermeulen, 2016-04-15 We interact with our environment through perception and action Perception is based on sensory components while actions are based on motor components It is commonly accepted that these sensorimotor components constitute the foundation of knowledge i.e. percepts and concepts action and emotion. However, whether or not these components remain part of knowledge action and emotion is still being debated (see Glenberg, Witt, Corveleyn, Lopez, Moliner, Vermeulen et al., 2013). Despite the accumulation of empirical evidence showing that perception, memory, action, and emotion interact together, less is known about the dynamics of these interactions. It remains to be precise the temporal dynamic when these interactions occur, the neural underlying networks, and the factors that modulate these interactions. The present research topic focuses on the dynamic relationship between present and absent sensorimotor components across perception, memory, action, and emotion in a grounded cognition perspective. This research topic aims: 1) to demonstrate the validity of the embodied cognition theories; 2) to highlight the dynamics of emergence of conceptual knowledge action and emotion; 3) to provide a comprehensive state of the art theoretical explanation and/or models.

How to Enhance Learning Efficiency When Online Learning is Popular and Indispensable: Theory, Research and Practice Rong Lian, Chang Liu, Juzhe Xi, 2024-07-17

Online learning has become more and more common globally, whether for comfort adapting to work hours or just having the freedom to study from anywhere. And now, under the coronavirus pandemic, as people are having to stay at home, it has become more important than ever. Although the popularity of wireless network and portable smart device makes it possible for people to acquire and learn knowledge anytime and anywhere, it does not necessarily mean an increased learning performance. Relevant research in cognitive science has revealed possible limitations in online learning. For example, the knowledge acquired through online learning tends to be fragmented and lacks guidance for integrated thinking among different subjects, which makes it difficult for learners to form a systematic knowledge structure. Learners may experience cognitive overload, metacognitive illusion, and low learning efficiency in self-regulated learning. It follows that in the post-COVID-19 era, online learning puts forward new requirements and challenges to contemporary students, not only to their learning strategies but positive character traits in learning. Most of the current learning theories were developed in the early 20th century and may not fit in well with the current situation, then possibly leading to inefficient learning and increased learning burden. Therefore, it is necessary and important to reexplore the influencing factors and mechanisms that affect the learning efficiency of students at all levels nowadays, based on which we could construct a theoretical model of efficient learning model.

Researching and Teaching Speech Acts with Young L2 Learners Milica Savić, Anders Myrset, Maria Economidou-Kogetsidis, 2024-12-10

This book introduces the main concepts of pragmatics as they relate to the young English language learner classroom and research with young second language learners (YLLs). It considers the speech acts which are particularly relevant to YLLs and presents research findings on learners' development of speech act perception and production. It provides pre- and in-service second language L2 teachers, teacher educators, and researchers with an understanding of young learners' pragmatic development.

and with ideas for research based approaches and specific classroom activities to help foster speech act development in the YLL classroom Moving beyond the research methods traditionally employed in L2 pragmatics research it also demonstrates how participant centred data elicitation methods can be effective when conducting research with children This book will appeal to researchers advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students in applied linguistics and TESOL as well as pre and in service primary school L2 teachers and teacher educators

Developing Writers Across the Primary and Secondary Years Honglin Chen, Debra Myhill, Helen Lewis, 2020-03-09 Writing development and pedagogy is a high priority area particularly with standardised testing showing declines in writing across time and through the years of schooling However to date there are relatively few texts for teachers and teacher educators which detail how best to enable the children to become confident autonomous and agentic writers of the future Developing Writers Across the Primary and Secondary Years provides cumulative insights into how writing develops and how it can be taught across years of compulsory schooling This edited collection is a timely and original contribution addressing a significant literacy need for teachers of writing across three key stages of writing development covering early 4 7 years old primary 7 12 years old and secondary years 12 16 years old in Anglophone countries Each section addresses two broader themes becoming a writer with a child oriented focus and writing pedagogy with a teacher oriented focus Together the book brings to bear rigorous research and deep professional understanding of the writing classroom It offers a novel approach conceiving of writing development as a dynamic and multidimensional concept Such an integrated interdisciplinary understanding enables pedagogical thinking and development to address more holistically the complex act of writing

Literacy Essentials Regie Routman, 2023-10-10 In her practical and inspirational book Literacy Essentials Engagement Excellence and Equity for All Learners author Regie Routman guides K 12 teachers to create a trusting intellectual and equitable classroom culture that allows all learners to thrive as self directed readers writers thinkers and responsible citizens Over the course of three sections Routman provides numerous Take Action ideas for implementing authentic and responsive teaching assessing and learning This book poses a key question How do we rise to the challenge of providing an engaging excellent equitable education for all learners including those from high poverty and underserved schools Teaching for Engagement Many high performing schools are characterized by a thriving school culture built on a network of authentic communication Teachers can strengthen classroom engagement by building a trusting and welcoming environment where all students can have a safe and collaborative space to grow and develop Pursuing Excellence Routman identifies 10 key factors that describe an excellent teacher ranging from intellectual curiosity to creativity and explains how carrying yourself as a role model contributes to an inclusive caring empathic and fair classroom She also stresses the importance for school leaders to make job embedded professional development a top priority Dismantling Unequal Education The huge gap in the quality of education in high vs low income communities is the civil rights issue of the 21st century according to Routman She spells out specific actions educators can take to create more equitable schools and classrooms such as diversifying texts used in curriculums and ensuring all students have access to opportunities to discuss reflect and engage with important ideas From the author I wrote Literacy Essentials because I saw a need to simplify teaching raise expectations and make expert teaching possible for all of us I saw a need to emphasize how a school culture of kindness trust respect and curiosity is essential to any lasting achievement I saw a need to demonstrate and discuss how and why the beliefs actions knowledge we hold determine the potential for many of our students Equal opportunity to learn depends on a culture of engagement and equity which under lies a relentless pursuit of excellence

Students at Risk of School Failure José Jesús Gázquez, José Carlos Núñez, 2018-10-18 The main objective of this Research Topic is to determine the conditions that place students at risk of school failure identifying student and context variables In spite of the fact that there is currently little doubt about how one learns and how to teach in some countries of the developed world there is still there is a high rate of school failure Although the term school failure is a very complex construct insofar as its causes consequences and development from the field of educational psychology the construct student engagement has recently gained special interest in an attempt to deal with the serious problem of school failure School engagement builds on the anatomy of the students involvement in school and describes their feelings behaviors and thoughts about their school experiences So engagement is an important component of students school experience with a close relationship to achievement and school failure Children who self set academic goals attend school regularly and on time behave well in class complete their homework and study at home are likely to interact adequately with the school social and physical environments and perform well in school In contrast children who miss school are more likely to display disruptive behaviors in class miss homework frequently exhibit violent behaviors on the playground fail subjects be retained and if the behaviors persist quit school Moreover engagement should also be considered as an important school outcome eliciting more or less supportive reactions from educators For example children who display school engaged behaviors are likely to receive motivational and instructional support from their teachers The opposite may also be true But what makes student engage more or less The relevant literature indicates that personal variables e g sensory motor neurodevelopmental cognitive motivational emotional behavior problems learning difficulties addictions social and or cultural variables e g negative family conditions child abuse cultural deprivation ethnic conditions immigration or school variables e g coexistence at school bullying cyberbullying may concurrently hinder engagement preventing the student from acquiring the learnings in the same conditions as the rest of the classmates 2015 International Building Code Illustrated Handbook International Code Council, 2015-08-05 An easy to use visual guide to the 2015 International Building Code Thoroughly revised to reflect the International Code Council's 2015 International Building Code this full color guide makes it easy to understand and apply complex IBC provisions and achieve compliance With an emphasis on structural and fire and life safety requirements this practical resource has been designed to save time and money The 2015 International Building Code Illustrated Handbook
