The Lightweight Fighter Program David C. Aronstein, Albert C. Piccirillo, 1996 This case study outlines the development of the Lightweight Fighter program including the development technology and flight test history of the YF 16 and YF 17 The streamlined and highly successful Lightweight Fighter program effectively used experimental prototypes to introduce a set of new and advanced technologies to fighter aircraft and serves as an excellent example of technology management risk reduction in the development process and acquisition philosophy

Lavi John W. Golan, 2016-01-01 The Lavi fighter program the largest weapons development effort ever undertaken by the State of Israel envisioned a new generation of high performance aircraft In a controversial strategy Israel Aircraft Industries intended to develop and manufacture the fighters in Israel with American financial support The sophisticated planes developed in the mid 1980s were unique in design and intended to make up the majority of the Israeli air force Though considerable prestige and money were at stake developmental costs increased and doubts arose as to whether the Lavi could indeed be the warplane it was meant to be Eventually the program became a microcosm for the ambitions fears and internal divisions that shaped both the U S Israeli relationship and Israeli society itself But the fighter never made it to operational service and until now the full breadth and significance of the Lavi story have never been examined and presented Lavi The United States Israel and a Controversial Fighter Jet traces the evolution of the Lavi fighter from its genesis in the 1970s to its scrapping in August 1987 John W Golan examines the roles of Israeli military icons and political leaders such as Ezer Weizman Ariel Sharon Menachem Begin and Yitzhak Rabin in the program and in relation to their counterparts in the United States On the American side Golan traces the evolution of government policy toward the program detailing the complex picture of the U S foreign policy apparatus and of U S Israeli relations in general from President Reagan s public endorsement of the program on the White House lawn to Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger s unremitting attempts to cancel it in succeeding years

Air Force Disappointments, Mistakes, and Failures Kenneth Werrell, 2024-06-18 While successful developments in aviation receive considerable attention the projects that failed or otherwise did not live up to expectations receive far less if any scrutiny Typically unsuccessful efforts are briefer in duration and have a less visible paper trail Thus while the literature is rich in success stories we tend to forget or simply bury our failures And as one observer has suggested that there were failures mistakes and wrong turns reminds us that progress is not inevitable that acknowledged error can be as instructive as success and that roads not taken impose a price all their own Here author Kenneth P Werrell tells of a race to overcome obstacles politics resources competing technologies timing in the quest to deliver quality if not war winning machinery The focus of Air Force Disappointments Mistakes and Failures 1940 1990 is on aircraft e g bombers fighters transports and missiles e g cruise missiles standoff missiles ballistic missiles surface to air missiles air to air missiles An intelligence system is also evaluated These case studies give the context and details of the development testing and as appropriate operational service Highlighting the problems and criticisms of these systems then provides an opportunity to determine what went wrong The reasons for the failures of these systems vary from the obvious money delays technical problems to more complex reasons such as the foe s reaction politics new technologies and timing The tale of these disappointments is a heretofore untold story These projects in which the US Air Force stumbled are outliers within the overall success of the service and fortunately its successes outnumber the failures Technical Publications for Army Air Forces Field Technical Libraries, 1943
