Encyclopedia of Nordic Crime Fiction Mitzi M. Brunsdale, 2016-05-12 Since the late 1960s the novels of Sjöwall and Wahlöö's Martin Beck detective series along with the works of Henning Mankell, Hakan Nesser, and Stieg Larsson have sparked an explosion of Nordic crime fiction: grim police procedurals treating urgent sociopolitical issues affecting the contemporary world. Steeped in noir techniques and viewpoints, many of these novels are reaching international audiences through film and television adaptations. This reference guide introduces the world of Nordic crime fiction to English-speaking readers. Caught between the demands of conscience and societal strictures, the detectives in these stories like the heroes of Norse mythology know that they and their world must perish but fight on regardless of cost. At a time of bleak eventualities, Nordic crime fiction interprets the bitter end as a celebration of the indomitable human spirit.

Útrásarvíkingar! Alaric Hall, 2020 As the global banking boom of the early twenty-first century expanded towards implosion, Icelandic media began calling the country's celebrity financiers trásarvíkingar (raiding vikings). This new coinage encapsulated the macho medievalist nationalism which underwrote Iceland's exponential financialisation. Yet within a few days in October 2008, Iceland saw all its main banks collapse beneath debts worth nearly ten times the country's GDP. Hall charts how Icelandic novelists and poets grappled with the Crash over the ensuing decade. As the first English language monograph devoted to twenty-first century Icelandic literature, it provides Anglophone readers with an introduction to one of the world's liveliest literary scenes. It also contributes a key case study for understanding global artistic responses to the early twenty-first century crisis of runaway, unregulated capitalism, exploring the struggles of writers to adapt realist forms of art to surreal times. As Iceland's biggest crisis since their independence from Denmark in 1944, the effect of the Crash on the national self-image was as seismic as its effects on the economy. This study analyses the centrality of whiteness and the abjection of the developing world in Iceland's post-colonial identity and shows how Crash writing explores the collisions of Iceland's traditional nationalist medievalism with a dystopian, Orientalist medievalism associated with the Islamic world. The Crash in Iceland was instantly recognised as offering important economic insights. This book shows how Iceland also helps us to understand the cultural convulsions that have followed the Financial Crisis widely in the West.

Collective Memory in Post-Soviet Kaliningrad Oblast Miłosz J. Cordes, 2025-06-16. This volume presents the way the discourse of memory and identity in the post-Soviet territory of Kaliningrad Oblast has altered over time, examining the ways in which politically motivated German myths about East Prussia which emerged after the unification of Germany in 1871 were reused and adapted after 1991, and the role the region has played in wider memory policies of the Russian Federation, particularly since Vladimir Putin's third presidential term began in 2012. Kaliningrad Oblast is Russia's westernmost region, maintaining a direct maritime but no land connection with the rest of the country. The region was part of East Prussia, which became a crucial element of the German national mythology after 1871. In 1945, East Prussia became one of the Soviet Union's most important war trophies. Ever since its complex political, cultural, ethnic, and religious history has presented a challenge to the central Soviet and Russian authorities. Ever since the emergence of a deep internal crisis in the Soviet system in the 1980s, the role of the Oblast's past has been subject to intense public debate, reflecting the intricacies of post-Soviet Russian memory politics. Collective Memory in Post-Soviet Kaliningrad Oblast is intended for scholars interested in collective memory in the post-Soviet space, as well as the role that the history of Kaliningrad Oblast has played in establishing the so-called neoconservative narrative in today's Russia.

La mujer a 1000º Hallgrímur Helgason, 2013-06-13. Con un tono cústico e irreverente, una mujer entrada en la tercera edad nos cuenta su vida desde un s'tano de la ciudad de Reykjavik. Vivo sola en un garaje y solo tengo a mano mi ordenador portátil y una vieja granada de mano. Hay pocas ventanas aquí pero veo el mundo a través de la pantalla. Los emails van y vienen, mis viejos amigos de Facebook me siguen como la vida misma y yo no me pierdo detalle. Así empieza La mujer a 1000 grados y quien habla es Herra, una anciana de ochenta años que ha decidido vivir en un s'tano de Reykjavik, conectándose con el mundo entero a través de internet. Nieta del primer presidente de Islandia, la mujer pasó los años de la Guerra en Dinamarca y Alemania, para luego viajar y pecar a gusto en ciudades como Nueva York y Hamburgo. Cansada de tanto traqueteo, volvió finalmente a Islandia y allí, según sus propias palabras, tuvo tres hijos de nueve hombres distintos. Fumadora empedernida, Herra sufrió un cáncer de pulmón a los sesenta y tres años y los médicos le dieron un año de vida, pero aquí está y ha tomado una decisión: no quiere pasar otra Navidad sin compañía y por lo tanto ha dispuesto su muerte y la manera en que va a morir. Se ha decantado por la cremación y pretende que el horno esté a 1000 grados el día exacto en que

ella tenga a bien irse de este mundo Tras consultar con distintas funerarias v a mail ya lo tiene todo dispuesto y mientras espera a que el horno se caliente nos cuenta su vida y la vida entera del siglo XX Qu hace una anciana en un garaje Mirar el mundo y re rse de nosotros
