Justice of the Peace and Local Government Review ,1845 Routledge Handbook on Offenders with Special Needs Kimberly D. Dodson, 2018-05-11 Current estimates indicate that approximately 2.2 million people are incarcerated in federal state and local correctional facilities across the United States There are another 5 million under community correctional supervision Many of these individuals fall into the classification of special needs or special populations e.g. women juveniles substance abusers mentally ill aging chronically or terminally ill offenders Medical care and treatment costs represent the largest portion of correctional budgets and estimates suggest that these costs will continue to rise In the community probation and parole officers are responsible for helping special needs offenders find appropriate treatment resources. Therefore it is important to understand the needs of these special populations and how to effectively care for and address their individual concerns. The Routledge Handbook of Offenders with Special Needs is an in depth examination of offenders with special needs such as those who are learning challenged, developmentally disabled and mentally ill as well as substance abusers, sex offenders, women, juveniles and chronically and terminally ill offenders. Areas that previously have been unexamined or examined in a limited way are explored. For example, this text carefully examines the treatment of gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender offenders and racial and gender disparities in health care delivery as well as pregnancy and parenthood behind bars, homelessness and the incarceration of veterans and immigrants. In addition, the book presents legal and management issues related to the treatment and rehabilitation of special populations in prisons, jails and the community including police/citizen interactions, diversion through specialty courts, obstacles and challenges related to reentry and reintegration and the need for the development and implementation of evidence based criminal justice policies and practices. This is a key collection for students taking courses in prisons, penology, criminal justice, criminology and related areas of study and an essential resource for academics and practitioners working with offenders with special needs.

Restorative Justice and Practices in the 21st Century Vah Seliskar, Holli, 2023-04-25. Restorative justice is a conceptual and practical framework for repairing any harm that may have been caused either to people, property or things. It is essential to investigate examples, scenarios, perspectives, strategies and implications for the use of restorative justice in diverse settings including K-12 settings, colleges and universities, the workplace and within public safety organizations and departments. Emphasis must also be placed on diversity, equity, belonging and inclusion and how restorative practices foster the use of inclusive practices and accessibility for all persons. Restorative Justice and Practices in the 21st Century offers broad perspectives across numerous disciplines and professions and provides restorative practitioners with a timely account of what restorative justice and practices may offer to their respective organizations, school or agency. It provides possible strategies and actions to implement restorative practices as well as how restorative practices can provide different strategies and methods in handling conflict, disputes and discipline. Covering topics such as equity and inequalities, pedagogical reflection and indigenous roots, this premier reference source is an essential resource for administrators and educators of both K-12 and higher education, public safety officials, law enforcement, corrections officers, students of higher education, librarians, researchers and academicians.
