Royal Commission on Divorce and Matrimonial Causes,1912 Faith and Slavery in the Presbyterian Diaspora William Harrison Taylor,Peter C. Messer,2016-01-28 Faith and Slavery in the Presbyterian Diaspora considers how in areas as diverse as the New Hebrides Scotland the United States and East Central Africa men's and women's shared Presbyterian faith conditioned their interpretations of and interactions with the institution of chattel slavery The chapters highlight how Presbyterians reactions to slavery which ranged from abolitionism to indifference to support reflected their considered application of the principles of the Reformed Tradition to the institution Consequently this collection reveals how the particular ways in which Presbyterians framed the Reformed Tradition made slavery an especially problematic and fraught issue for adherents to the faith Faith and Slavery by situating slavery at the nexus of Presbyterian theology and practice offers a fresh perspective on the relationship between religion and slavery It reverses the all too common assumption that religion primarily served to buttress existing views on slavery by illustrating how groups and individuals reactions to slavery emerged from their understanding of the Presbyterian faith The collection s geographic reach encompassing the experiences of people from Europe Africa America and the Pacific filtered through the lens of Presbyterianism also highlights the global dimensions of slavery and the debates surrounding it The institution and the challenges it presented Faith and Slavery stresses reflected less the peculiar conditions of a particular place and time than the broader human condition as people attempt to understand and shape their world
