Oseguera,2017-09-08 Educational policies explicitly implemented in order to reduce educational gaps and promote access and success for disenfranchised youth can backfire and often have the unintended result of widening those gaps In this interdisciplinary collection of case studies contributors examine cases of policy backfire when policies don t work have unintended consequences and when policies help Although policy reform is thought of as an effective way to improve schooling structures and to diminish the achievement gap many such attempts to reform the system do not adequately address the legacy of unequal policies and the historic and pervasive inequalities that persist in schools Exploring the roots of school inequality and examining often ignored negative policy outcomes contributors illuminate the causes and consequences of poor policymaking decisions and demonstrate how policies can backfire fail or have unintended success common for academics to engage with pressing and contentious moral issues and we pay tribute to our eighteen contributors for leading the way

Detournement as Pedagogical Praxis James Trier,2014-09-11 The Situationist International SI was a Paris based artistic and political avant garde group that formed in 1957 went through three distinct phases during its existence and dissolved in 1972 In 1967 SI leader Guy Debord published his book The Society of the Spectacle which presents his theory of how the Spectacle i e the Capitalist system in its totality works endlessly though not always successfully to transform people into spectators whose sole purposes are to consume commodities and to live de politicized passive isolated and contemplative lives To challenge and subvert the Spectacle Debord and his SI associates theorized and practiced the anti spectacular critical art they called detournement which entails reusing existing artistic and mass produced elements to create new combinations or ensembles As Debord wrote in 1956 detournement has the potential to be a powerful cultural weapon in the service of real class struggle In this edited book the authors contribute chapters about how they created their own detournements and used them as central audio visual texts in critical projects that they designed and carried out in a variety of pedagogical situations Most of the projects involved preservice teachers in teacher education courses and the anti spectacular purposes include challenging Hollywood s problematic representations of Native Americans subverting the racist stereotypes of Latin s in a popular children s book and critiquing the neoliberal agenda of the charter school movement This book offers readers detailed accounts of pedagogical projects that can serve as examples of the critical possibilities of detournement
