I Can't Fall In Love (English Edition) Renée Conte,2025-08-21 Five years had passed since Andrea and Beatrice had last seen each other in person and if it hadn t been for that incomplete message she had sent him by mistake they probably wouldn t have met again The two young people had met when they were still children during their summer holidays on the beach at Follonica A sincere and innocent friendship was immediately born between them which grew stronger every summer until as teenagers they realized that that friendship had turned into a tender infatuation especially on Andrea s part But their beautiful friendship did not continue due to the break off of the engagement between Beatrice s mother and her partner who no longer allowed her to return to Follonica Although Beatrice and Andrea both lived in Milan they never had the chance to meet During the year Andrea he used to study in Switzerland in the summer he spent his holidays in Follonica Then once he graduated from high school he moved to New York to continue his studies A distance that is difficult to bridge Then even their phone calls which were frequent at first became increasingly rare over time until they stopped altogether Therefore that delicate feeling that had united them as teenagers seemed destined to remain only a beautiful memory At the age of 19 and having put aside her crush on Andrea unlike her peers Beatrice still didn t have a boyfriend and was not interested in having one She preferred to avoid sentimental complications so as not to be conditioned by the expectations and decisions of others She had goals to achieve before she could fall in love first of all her studies then her career and last but not least her independence Beatrice knew the pain her mother had suffered for always putting love first She didn t want to make the same mistake But in love there are no rules it is practically impossible to choose when and with whom to fall in love because love is an instinctive feeling that arises when you least expect it that absorbs you body and soul that makes you do stupid things even and you cannot love or not love on command to avoid them Despite her stubbornness Beatrice s intentions are shattered when after receiving that message Andrea asks to see her again It takes little to awaken in the boy the strong feeling he had felt years before for his young friend at the same time Giorgio Beatrice s lifelong friend also declares to her that he feels something that goes far beyond mere friendship However she is not ready to start a romantic relationship neither with Andrea nor with Giorgio for whom she nevertheless feels a deep affection In order not to disappoint either of them and not to make any decisions about their statements she is convinced that she will be able to manage the friendship of both of them Without emotional involvement but it is only an illusion and the sentimental complications she so badly wanted to avoid will come crashing down on her without her realising

it With love also comes jealousy which will make her make bad decisions And it is from that moment that things really start to get complicated

Art of the Everyday Ruth Bernard Yeazell, 2008 Realist novels are celebrated for their detailed attention to ordinary life But two hundred years before the rise of literary realism Dutch painters had already made an art of the everyday pictures that served as a compelling model for the novelists who followed By the mid 1800s seventeenth century Dutch painting figured virtually everywhere in the British and French fiction we esteem today as the vanguard of realism Why were such writers drawn to this art of two centuries before What does this tell us about the nature of realism In this beautifully illustrated and elegantly written book Ruth Yeazell explores the nineteenth century's fascination with Dutch painting as well as its doubts about an art that had long challenged traditional values After showing how persistent tensions between high theory and low genre shaped criticism of novels and pictures alike Art of the Everyday turns to four major novelists Honor de Balzac George Eliot Thomas Hardy and Marcel Proust who strongly identified their work with Dutch painting For all these writers Dutch art provided a model for training themselves to look closely at the particulars of middle class life Yet even as nineteenth century novelists strove to create illusions of the real by modeling their narratives on Dutch pictures Yeazell argues they chafed at the model A concluding chapter on Proust explains why the nineteenth century associated such realism with the past and shows how the rediscovery of Vermeer helped resolve the longstanding conflict between humble details and the aspirations of high art
