Changing Pedagogy Xin-min Zheng,Chris Davison,2008-02-20 China's growing economic military and political stability have for the first time started to gain international recognition As China increasingly opens up to the world its unique role in the context of economic globalization is becoming more pronounced which is exemplified by its recent membership of the WTO and Beijing's successful bid to host the Olympic Games Unsurprisingly this has resulted in an explosion in the popularity of English language learning in China which has in turn led to radical reform of the curricula teaching methods teacher education and assessment system in China in order to improve standards This fascinating monograph explores the nature of the implemented English language curriculum in China focussing in particular on the pedagogy of secondary school teachers There follows an insightful analysis into how such teachers in different situations and with different backgrounds and motivations make decisions about what and how they teach and the extent to which they adapt the promoted methods in the their individual teaching environments The authors then use their findings to propose an innovative and coherent framework which has far reaching consequences for pedagogy in China and across the world
