The Way Of Beauty Five Meditations For Spiritual:

The Way of Beauty François Cheng, 2009-06-25 Five meditations on the role of beauty in human life and its direct connection with the sacred Looks at how beauty has the power to elevate and counterbalance the negative side of the reality facing us Presents the role of beauty in transforming individuals and transforming the world from a Taoist perspective In a time of mindless violence and widespread ecological and natural catastrophes François Cheng asks if talking about beauty may not seem incongruous even scandalous Yet this is actually the most appropriate time to revisit a subject that was a philosophical mainstay for millennia The power of beauty to elevate and transcend counterbalances the negative side of the reality facing us As John Keats noted in Ode on a Grecian Urn beauty is inseparable from truth Beauty is truth truth beauty that is all Ye know on earth and all ye need to know The ultimate human reality pivots on these two extremes of the living universe beauty and evil Cheng begins his teachings with the intrinsic sense of beauty revealed by the landscape symbolized by the staggeringly beautiful Lu Mountain of his native province in China His five meditations carry the reader from the understanding of beauty being in the mind of the beholder to its intimate relationship with the sacred both from a Western and Taoist perspective He shows that the most telling indication of the importance of beauty in human life and for individual spiritual realization can be grasped by simply imagining a world without it psychotherapy psychology and psychiatry methodologies and practices established and developed in Europe since the nineteenth century Ever since the birth of art and poetry its purpose has been to inspire stir and move people This handbook addresses the valuable role aesthetics plays in psychotherapy and psychiatry exploring both theory and practice Ten Years of Idiographic Science Sergio Salvatore, Jaan Valsiner, 2023-01-01 The first volume of the Yearbook of Idiographic Science YIS was published on 2009 In a nutshell the idea at the grounds of the YIS project is that idiography and nomothetic are not juxtaposed logics and that the science cannot but be both nomothetic in the aim and idiographic in the modes About thirteen years later the sense and the direction of the YIS project envisaged in the first volume s introduction together with the difficulties to pursue it are still alive and valid Thus to both celebrate the milestone of the tenth issue and to plan the future we asked to some colleagues almost all contributors of previous volumes to discuss what idiographic science means today and what can mean tomorrow The works they have generously provided are very instructive each of them pictures a peculiar perspective on idiography that enables to recognize old and new challenges thus paving the way to innovative ideas and directions American Aesthetics Walter B. Gulick, Gary Slater, 2020-05-01 Although there are distinctly American artists Walt Whitman Herman Melville Grandma Moses Thomas Hart Benton and Andy Warhol for example very little attention has been devoted to formulating any distinctively American characteristics of aesthetic judgment and practice This volume takes a step in this direction presenting an introductory essay on the possibility of such a distinctly American tradition and a collection of essays exploring particular examples from a variety of angles Some of the essays in this collection extend pragmatist and process insights about the important place aesthetics has in molding and assessing experience Other essays examine the place of American aesthetics in relation to such particular forms of art as painting literature music and film Three essays attend to the aesthetic aspects of a flourishing life In each of the essays American aesthetics is understood to arise out of deeply felt personal historical and cultural backgrounds Consequently not only are such relatively abstract notions as harmony fit elegance proportion and the like involved in aesthetic judgment but also religious political and social factors become embroiled in aesthetic discernment Thus the ongoing pattern of American aesthetics is shown to be distinguishable from such other varieties of aesthetic thought as analytic aesthetics New Criticism and postmodern approaches to aesthetics Upheavals in the Psychoanalytical Institutions II Manuela Utrilla Robles, 2018-05-01 This is a scholarly study in which the author explores a difficult subject matter that has been a tabooed topic in psychoanalysis She undertakes a serious study of the underlying arguments as to why psychoanalysts have seldom been able to live in harmony with each other In a very lucid and systematic manner the author examines how a discipline in this case psychoanalysis can be manipulated to its detriment She explains the disquieting processes that take place which impede the development of psychoanalysis These influences insidiously infiltrate the organisational ranks as a kind of arguing which should ostensibly enrich psychoanalysis but instead deprives it of its creativity For a discipline to prosper it is necessary to have the freedom to air doubts ask questions raise hypotheses and contrast discoveries by sharing them with others debating different positions to reflect on the discussions and to change one's views if necessary

Five Meditations on Death François Cheng, 2016-06-16 Philosophical discussions on the ways that death makes life meaningful and sacred Reveals how being conscious of death gives our fate its full meaning inviting the reader to contemplate life in the light of their own death Examines the author's experience of ancestor worship in his native China and the beliefs that underlie it Explains how death is a transition in a longer living process not visible from the modern black and white view of life and death Translated by award winning translator Jody Gladding Born from intimate discussions with friends these five meditations on death from poet philosopher François Cheng examine the multiple ways the prospect of death significantly shapes life and is in fact what makes life meaningful and sacred Written at the age of 84 in the twilight of life these meditations each approach the human understanding of death from different yet intertwined perspectives effortlessly returning to certain themes and ideas questioning them again more deeply with each passing The author shows that death is a transition in a longer living process not visible from the modern black and white view of life and death He examines his experience of ancestor worship in his native China and the beliefs that underlies it Our ancestors are alive in another form that what is living can never die and what is dead has never lived Cheng looks at the consequences of a world that has abandoned the sacred and avoids the mention of death a world now blindly staggering through the chaos it has created yet which can return to balance if we once again embrace the essential sacredness of life as well as death Throughout these five heart baring meditations Cheng invites us to contemplate life in the light of our own death He reveals that to be conscious of death gives our fate its full meaning Our death is an integral part of our great adventure in becoming For if birth is a seed then death is the fruit the final sacred product of a life well lived

Humanities Perspectives in Peace Education Nicole L. Johnson, 2021-08-01 In Humanities Perspectives in Peace Education: Re-Engaging the Heart of Peace Studies scholar teachers across a variety of humanities fields explore the content methods and pedagogies that are unique to their respective disciplines in contributing to the study of peace and justice In recent decades even as peace scholarship has burgeoned many peace studies texts including those that purport to be interdisciplinary in nature have emphasized social science perspectives and in some cases have foregone exploration of the role of the humanities altogether in comprehensive peace education While humanities scholars continue to stake out space for peace scholarship within their fields no volume has attempted to collect the wisdom of multiple humanities disciplines in order to make the case for their critical role in authentic peace education Humanities Perspectives in Peace Education addresses that shortcoming in the field of peace studies by exploring the ways in which the humanities are uniquely situated to contribute particular content knowledge skills and values required of comprehensive peace education scholarship and activism These include the development of empathy and understanding creative vision and imagination personal and communal transformation toward the good in society such as the pursuit of justice nonviolence freedom and human thriving and field specific analytical lenses of their own among other contributions Both teachers and students of peace will find value in this interdisciplinary humanities volume Each chapter of Humanities Perspectives in Peace Education offers a deep dive into a particular humanities field including philosophy literature language and culture studies rhetoric religion history and music to mine the field s unique contributions to peace and justice studies Scholars ask What are we missing in peace education if we fail to include this academic discipline Chapters include suggestions for peace pedagogies within the humanities field as well as bibliographies and suggestions for further reading

Proust, China and Intertextual Engagement Shuangyi Li, 2017-08-25 The book traces the literary journey that Proust s work made to China and back by means of translation intertextual engagement and the creation of a transcultural dialogue through migrant literature It begins with a translation history of Proust s work in China and studies the different re translations and editions of La Recherche highlighting their culturally conditioned thematic emphases and negligence such as time and memory over anti-Semitism and homosexuality The book then moves on to explore three contemporary mainland Chinese writers creative intertextual engagement with Proust against the backdrop of China s explosive development from modernity to post modernity in the 1990s Finally back to France the book examines the multifarious literary relations between Proust and the Franco-Chinese migrant writer Fran ois Cheng It demonstrates how the cultural heritages of China and the West can be re negotiated and put into dialogue through the fictional and creative medium of literature as well as providing a means of understanding the economic political and cultural exchanges in our current global context

Otherness in a Fragmented World Michela Gecele, 2025-04-20 This book explores a key theme both for humanity and for psychotherapy how we can understand ourselves as a web of relational connections within the wider world that shapes us all Grounds are the often invisible scenery of our life They are all that concern us as human beings the sum total of relationships events all that happens and has happened our conquests and our connections together with what is unfinished and what has yet to emerge Moving within a horizon of phenomenology and Gestalt therapy the author explores how we are continuously built and kept alive through our unceasing engagement with otherness whether cultural social linguistic gender or otherwise and so how humanity is intrinsically made by otherness novelty and challenging experiences that transform us in a way we can never anticipate At the same time we also define ourselves by identifying with certain groups which become part of who we see ourselves as being Her aim is to describe and connect the forms of suffering and the creative adjustments found today with the grounds from which they emerge rather than with the figures that stand out more visibly and can blind us Drawing on extensive clinical practice and a deep understanding of Gestalt Therapy this is essential reading for all psychotherapists and anyone seeking to understanding how we exist as human beings and as part of a plurality of affiliations and non affiliations

Multilingual Literature as World Literature Jane Hiddleston, Wen-chin Ouyang, 2021-05-06 Multilingual Literature as World Literature examines and adjusts current theories and practices of world literature particularly the conceptions of world global and local reflecting on the ways that multilingualism opens up the borders of language nation and genre and makes visible different modes of circulation across languages nations media and cultures The contributors to Multilingual Literature as World Literature examine four major areas of critical research First by looking at how engaging with multilingualism as a mode of reading makes visible the multiple pathways of circulation including as aesthetics or poetics emerging in the literary world when languages come into contact with each other Second by exploring how politics and ethics contribute to shaping multilingual texts at a particular time and place with a focus on the local as a site for the interrogation of global concerns and a call for diversity Third by engaging with translation and untranslatability in order to consider the ways in which ideas and concepts elude capture in one language but must be read comparatively across multiple languages And finally by proposing a new vision for linguistic creativity beyond the binary structure of monolingualism versus multilingualism

Travel, Translation and Transmedia Aesthetics Shuangyi Li, 2022-01-03 This book examines the works of four contemporary first generation Chinese migrant writer artists in France Fran ois CHENG GAO Xingjian DAI Sijie and SHAN Sa They were all born in China moved to France in their adulthood to pursue their literary and artistic ambitions and have enjoyed the highest French and Western institutional recognitions from the Grand Prix de la Francophonie to the Nobel Prize in Literature They have established themselves not only as writers but also as translators calligraphers painters playwrights and filmmakers mainly in their host country French has become their dominant but not only language of literary creation except for Gao yet linguistic idioms poetic imagery and classical thought from Chinese cultural heritage permeate their French texts and visual artworks reflecting a strong translingual and transmedial sensibility The book provides not only distinctive literary and artistic examples beyond existing studies of intercultural encounter French postcolonial and Chinese diasporic enquiries more importantly it formulates a theoretical model that captures the creative dynamics between the French francophone and Chinese sinophone spaces of articulation thereby contributing to contemporary debates about literary and artistic production interpretation and circulation in the global development of comparative world literature as well as intermediality studies

Art and Enchantment Patrick Curry, 2023-03-17 This book concerns the experience of enchantment in art Considering the essential characteristics dynamics and conditions of the experience of enchantment in relation to art including liminality it offers studies of different kinds of artistic experience and activity including painting music fiction and poetry before exploring the possibility of a life oriented to enchantment as the activity of art itself With attention to the complex relationship between wonder in art and the programmatic disenchantment to which it is often subject the author draws on the thought of a diverse range of philosophers sociological theorists and artists to offer an understanding of art through the idea of enchantment and enchantment through art An accessible study richly illustrated with experience both that of the author and others Art and Enchantment will appeal to scholars and students of sociology anthropology philosophy and anyone with interests in the nature of aesthetic experience The
