You are responsible for knowing the information covered in the assigned readings and in class lectures and discussions. However, by focusing on the items listed below, you should find few surprises on the exam. You should, of course, be able to provide responses to these questions and understand what those responses mean.

Remember that you are allowed to use an 8 ½ by 11 inch information sheet with notes on one side (and only one side) during the exam. Be sure to follow the guidelines for creating the information sheet that were listed on the course syllabus and discussed in class.
