Scenes and Stories of the Rhine Matilda Betham-Edwards,1863 The British Toy Business Kenneth D. Brown,1996-01-01 At its height British toymaking was a significant industry with famous names such as Britains and Meccano known throughout the world While in essence a specialised form of small scale engineering its products and market have always been unique reflecting the current priorities of both parents and children Yet while individual toys and marques have been catalogued extensively no previous history of toymaking as a whole exists The British Toy Business provides a fascinating example of the development of a specific industry Many early early toys were home made From the eighteenth century with its growing recognition of children as something other than small adults date the beginnings of specialised toys usually produced by small workshops and sold by street sellers The nineteenth century with its industrial growth and middle class prosperity saw an expansion of toymaking The 1960s and 1970s were the most successful years of British toymaking with companies like Lesney making record profits Yet British toy makers failed to solve a number of fundamental problems Following an unexpected sudden downturn in sales at a time of high interest rates the major names in British toy making Lesney Airfix Mettoy and Dunbee Combex Marx all collapsed between 1979 and 1985 leaving the business to be dominated largely by importers British Toy Boats 1920 Onwards Roger Gillham,2022 A concise yet comprehensive record of products of the major manufacturers of British waterborne toy boats from 1920 onwards featuring 564 detailed images mainly in colour plus a listing and description of all models made Also includes a fascinating look at many of the smaller lesser known manufacturers British and Colonial Printer and Stationer ,1919 Mamma's morning gossips; or, Little bits for little birds Frances Freeling Broderip,1866 Children's Literature and Culture of the First World War Lissa Paul,Rosemary R. and the Global South during the First World War and surrounding years By engaging with developments in Children's Literature War Studies and Education and mining newly available archival resources including letters written by children the contributors to this volume demonstrate how perceptions of childhood changed in the period Children who had been constructed as Romantic innocents playing safely in secure gardens were transformed into socially responsible children actively committing themselves to the war effort In order to foreground cross cultural connections across what had been perceived as enemy lines perspectives on German American British Australian and Canadian children's literature and culture are situated so that they work in conversation with each other The multidisciplinary multinational range of contributors to this volume make it distinctive and a particularly valuable contribution to emerging studies on the impact of war on the lives of children
