School Science Practical Work in Africa Umesh Ramnarain, 2020-06-01 School Science Practical Work in Africa presents the scope of research and practice of science practical work in African schools. It brings together prominent science educators and researchers from Africa to share their experience and findings on pedagogical innovations and research informed practices on school science practical work. The book highlights trends and patterns in the enactment and role of practical work across African countries. Practical work is regarded as intrinsic to science teaching and learning and the form of practical work that is strongly advocated is inquiry based learning which signals a definite paradigm shift from the traditional teacher dominated to a learner centered approach. The book provides empirical research on approaches to practical work, contextual factors in the enactment of practical work and professional development in teaching practical work. This book will be of great interest to academics, researchers and post graduate students in the fields of science education and educational policy.

The World of Science Education Femi S. Otulaja, Meshach B. Ogunniyi, 2017-09-12 Each volume in the 7 volume series The World of Science Education reviews research in a key region of the world. These regions include North America, South and Latin America, Asia, Australia and New Zealand, Europe and Israel, North Africa and the Middle East and Sub Saharan Africa. The focus of this Handbook is on research in science education in mostly former British colonies in Sub Saharan Africa and the scholarship that most closely support this program. The reviews of the research situate what has been accomplished within a given field in Sub Saharan Africa rather than an international context. The purpose therefore is to articulate and exhibit regional networks and trends that produced specific forms of science education. The thrust lies in identifying the roots of research programs and sketching trajectories focusing the changing face of problems and solutions within regional contexts. The approach allows readers to review what has been done and accomplished, what is missing and what might be done next.

COVID-19 and Sovereign Debt: The case of SADC Daniel D. Bradlow, Magalie L. Masamba, 2022-02-23. This multi-disciplinary publication focuses on the issue of African sovereign debt management and renegotiation/restructuring with a particular concentration on the countries that are members of the Southern Africa Development Community (SADC). It contains a series of essays that were initially presented in several workshops held at the height of the pandemic in 2020. These essays seek to both understand the debt challenges facing these countries and to offer some policy-oriented suggestions on how they can more effectively address these. They include contributions by global and regional scholars who are seasoned experts and newer researchers and discuss the complexities on debt management and restructuring within the context of the global COVID-19 pandemic. In particular, this presented an opportunity for junior researchers from the region to contribute to international discussions on a topic in which the views of young Africans are not heard as often or as clearly as they should be, especially given the importance of the topic to Africa and its future. Further, this book is expected to stimulate debate among academics, activists, policy makers and practitioners on how SADC should manage its debt.

The Idea of Matabeleland in Digital Spaces Khanyile Mlotshwa, Mphathisi Ndlovu, 2022-06-01. The Idea of Matabeleland in Digital Spaces: Genealogies, Discourses and Epistemic Struggles establishes a debate and dialogue between critical and post-decolonial approaches in the study of subalternity in online media representations. Editors Khanyile Mlotshwa and Mphathisi Ndlovu curate chapters that deal specifically with the intersectional subalternity of Matabeleland, a political and geographical region in the Southwest part of Zimbabwe comprising of three provinces: Matabeleland South, Matabeleland North and Bulawayo metropolitan province. The subalternity of this region emerges in politics and popular culture, including media, as intersectional in terms of ethnicity, region, gender, class and beyond. This book argues that in online spaces the liberatory politics of Matabeleland emerges as trapped in coloniality.

COVID-19 et la dette souveraine: Cas de la SADC Daniel D. Bradlow, Magalie L. Masamba, 2022-01-01. Cette publication pluridisciplinaire se concentre sur la question de la gestion et de la renégociation/restructuration de la dette souveraine africaine avec une attention particulière pour les pays membres de la Communauté de Développement de l'Afrique Australe (SADC). Ces essais cherchent la fois à comprendre les défis de la dette auxquels ces pays sont confrontés et à offrir des suggestions orientées vers la politique sur la manière dont ils peuvent y faire face plus efficacement. Ils comprennent des contributions de spécialistes mondiaux et régionaux experts chevronnés et chercheurs plus récents et abordent les complexités de la gestion et de la restructuration de la dette dans le contexte de la pandémie mondiale de COVID 19. Il s'agit en particulier d'une opportunité pour les jeunes chercheurs de la région de contribuer aux discussions internationales sur un sujet où les opinions des jeunes Africains ne sont pas entendues aussi souvent ou aussi clairement qu'elles devraient l'être, surtout compte tenu de l'importance du sujet pour l'Afrique et son avenir. En outre, ce livre devrait stimuler le débat entre les universitaires, les militants, les décideurs et les praticiens sur la manière dont la SADC devrait gérer sa dette.
