Zimsec 20geography Paper 1

Deborah Helen Potts

Zimsec 20geography Paper 1:

Urban Geography in Postcolonial Zimbabwe Abraham R. Matamanda, Verna Nel, Innocent Chirisa, 2021-05-07 This interdisciplinary book provides a cross sectoral and multi dimensional exploration and assessment of the urban geography perspectives in Zimbabwe Drawing on work from different disciplines the book not only contributes to academia but also seeks to inform urban policy with the view of contributing to the national aspirations of Zimbabwe attaining middle income status by 2030 Adopting a multi dimensional assessment that transcends disciplines such as urban and regional planning human and physical geography urban governance political science economics and development studies the book provides a background for co production concerning urban development in the Global South The book contributes into its analysis of the institutional and legislative framework that relates to the urban geography of Zimbabwe as these are responsible for the evolution of the urban system in the country The connections among different sectors and issues such as environment economy politics and the wider objectives of the SDGs especially goal 11 aspiring to create sustainable communities by 2030 are explored The success stories relating to urban geography in Zimbabwe are identified together with the best possible practices that may inform urban planning policy and management Zimbabwe: Mired in Transition V. Masunungure, M. Shumba, 2014-04-02 Three years after the advent of Zimbabwe's Inclusive Government in February 2009 the country still awaits the elections that people hope will lead to a more enduring political settlement Zimbabwe Mired in Transition reviews the experience of recent years assesses the progress that has been made What is the public mood and how has it changed What steps have been taken to reform the media How important is a new constitution Although the economy has stabilised to some extent with the adoption of a multi currency regime industrial and agricultural production are depressed and investment inflows are limited what spaces exist for fiscal reform Are local authority structures and the state bureaucracy equipped to handle the tasks that will be asked of them In terms of two important areas the book extends its analysis further back than 2009 First is the issue of emigration Estimates of the number of Zimbabweans in the diaspora range from three to four million what impact does this have on national development and to what extent might the trend of migration be reversed The second concerns young people the chapter on which concludes We already have a lost generation those who were once called the born frees Unless positive changes are made we will still have another This collection of eleven essays examines in detail some of the pressing questions which Zimbabweans must ask as they chart a way forward Extractive Industry Indigenisation in Zimbabwe Kennedy Manduna, 2025-09-25 This book explains how and why Zimbabwe's extractive industry Indigenisation over promised its benefits yet under delivered upon implementation This book traces the history of uneven development in Zimbabwe from the initial days of colonialism to the present using the extractive industry as the unit of analysis to carve out a granular and empirical analysis of the preponderance of transnational corporate control and ownership in the country Indigenisation of Zimbabwe's extractive industries was intended to address mining inequalities by transferring wealth from rich non Indigenous mining capital to disadvantaged Indigenous citizens and communities This policy however was a response to political economic and social crises posed by the international isolation of Zimbabwe s government following the controversial Fast Track Land Reform Programme in 2000 2003 An intervention therefore which promised to address inequalities has thus been hampered by corruption co optation and collusion which has led to it not only failing to address uneven development but in actual fact worsening the situation By examining the hidden structures and infrastructures of power capital and minerals and placing extractive industry Indigenisation in capitalism this book makes a crucial scholarly contribution to the renewed and burgeoning debates around the resurgence of resource nationalism in general and the struggle for economic sovereignty in particular This book steers readers more broadly to look for new and diversified ways of empowering Indigenous populations and their communities through mining Indigenisation in ways that do not threaten economic and political stability This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of the extractive industries natural resource management African politics and African development

The State of Food Insecurity in Harare, Zimbabwe Tawodzera, Godfrey, Zanamwe, Lazarus, 2016-10-17 Harare is at the epicentre of the economic meltdown and political crisis that has devastated Zimbabwe over the last decade and led to a mass exodus from the country Those who remained in Zimbabwe s largest city and capital endured unprecedented hardship as the formal economy collapsed unemployment soared and poverty deepened Household surveys conducted in Harare with official sanction between 2003 and 2009 appear to demonstrate that food insecurity was not a particularly serious problem a conclusion sharply at odds with reality In 2008 at the height of the crisis AFSUN therefore implemented its own baseline food security survey in Harare using a well tested and reliable methodology This paper presents and discusses the results of that survey and shows that Harare had become the most food insecure city in the SADC region by 2008 Levels of food insecurity were extraordinarily high as poor households struggled to find the income to purchase what little food was available in the shops and informal markets The paper demonstrates that participation in the informal food economy was the major response to the crisis providing poor households with a modicum of food and income Urban agriculture for home consumption also grew in importance as a crisis response While the political and economic situation in Zimbabwe has stabilised somewhat since 2008 the long term impact of many years of enforced food insecurity on the city population is incalculable This paper concludes with the recommendation that ongoing monitoring of the urban food security situation in Harare is essential in order to begin to develop national and municipal policies that could ensure a food secure future for the city

Zimbabwe Books in Print ,1993

Beyond the Enclave Godfrey Kanyenze, Timothy Kondo, 2011-07-26 Beyond the Enclave sets out to unravel the contradiction of a country Zimbabwe where a rich diverse resource base co exists with endemic poverty One reason lies in the colonial economy which was predicated on an ideology of white supremacy creating an enclave formal economy employing one fifth of the labour force Yet over three decades after independence the non formal segment has become even more entrenched This book assesses Zimbabwe's economy through three main phases 1980-90 when a strong social policy framework proved difficult to sustain due to erratic growth and 1991-96 when structural adjustment demanded a market driven approach to development. The third phase is characterized by crisis management leading to policy inconsistencies and reversals. Not surprisingly such incoherence saw the economy descend into hyperinflation and paralysis in 2007-2008 leading to the signing of the Global Political Agreement in September 2008. In the absence of formal dollarization economic recovery after the adoption of the multi currency regime has remained fragile leaving an estimated 70 per cent of the population outside the banking system. This has further entrenched uneven enclave growth as the economy remains locked in a low income poverty trap. There is a need to facilitate transition towards formality to promote decent jobs. Furthermore a strategic developmental role for the state in the economy is now widely recognized as vital for development. Beyond the Enclave argues for a new approach to development in Zimbabwe based on pro poor and inclusive strategies which will contribute to the well being of all of its citizens and wise stewardship of its resources. It offers suggestions on policy formulation implementation monitoring and evaluation in all sectors designed to promote inclusive growth and humane development.

Lived Experiences of Borderland Communities in Zimbabwe Nedson Popphiwa, Joshua Matanzima, Kirk Helliker, 2023-06-27. This book examines the national borders and borderlands of Zimbabwe through the presentation of empirically rich case studies. It delves into the lived experiences both past and present of populations residing along the borders between Zimbabwe and its neighbours i.e. Zambia Botswana South Africa and Mozambique. It locates these lived experiences within the political economy of Zimbabwe and highlights a wide range of themes pertinent to borders including health COVID 19 marginalisation resource access conservation human wildlife conflicts civil wars politico economic crises border jumping and cross border trade. The borderland communities discussed also include ethnic minorities such as the Tonga San Ndau Shangane and Kalanga. Overall the book demonstrates the centrality of borders to the Zimbabwean nation state and the importance of reading history politics and society from the borderlands. The book fits into the wider prevailing literature of border and borderlands in Africa and beyond and thus has appeal far beyond Zimbabwe. Its diverse themes also relate to topics covered in multiple disciplines including history anthropology and sociology. Academics development specialists and policy makers will benefit in different ways from the depth and breadth of the analysis in the book.

Zimbabwe National Bibliography, 1994. Marginality in Space - Past, Present and Future Heikki Jussila, Roser Majoral, Chris C. Mutambirwa, 2019-01-15. Published in 1999 this book discusses the role that marginality has had in the past has today and will have in the future. The Commission on Dynamics of Marginal and Critical Regions held its annual conference in Harare Zimbabwe in July 1997. This volume represents a carefully selected revised and reviewed selection of the papers presented at this conference. The articles reflect the various aspects of marginality currently existing in the world and it is the intention of the Commission to pursue research that would eventually result in a more coherent approach towards the issues of marginality in space. The articles in the book are grouped into three main parts The first part discusses the role of theory and also methodological aspects and approaches towards the question of marginality The second part gives a time space perspective by examining the past present and future aspects of marginality The third part is dedicated to empirical evidence about the changes in existing marginality and its possible future implementations The conclusions of the book summarize the various and sometimes conflicting aspects of marginality and its images both in space and in time

Development from Within D. R. F. Taylor, Fiona Mackenzie, 2024-09-30 The decade of 1980s was one of crisis for Africa Neither African governments nor development agencies made a significant impact on the quality of life of rural people The enormous range of contexts in Africa social economic political cultural and environmental limits the value of the search for universal solutions to endemic problems First published in 1992 Development from Within examines an alternative framework arguing for flexibility and specificity The authors use case studies to explore the complex social relationships of power from the household to the state They argue for the knowledge and skill of African people and illustrate the diverse means by which men and women in rural Africa struggle to survive This book will be a beneficial read for students and researchers of African studies development studies economics and sociology

Globalization and Marginality in Geographical Space Heikki Jussila, Roser Majoral, Fernanda Delgado-Cravidao, 2017-07-05 This title was first published in 2001 An examination of globalization and marginality in geographical space it discusses the issue of marginalization and the effects that economic globalization have on marginal and critical regions from the point of view of politics and policies and the shift from economic to social issues of development

Bibliography on Land-locked States, Economic Development and International Law Martin Ira Glassner, 2019-07-23 Now fully revised and expanded this is the only available bibliography on the subject of land lockedness and its effects on economic development Reflecting its expanded title this new edition includes not only updated information on the plight of land locked countries but also their current levels of economic development and their role in international law such as the International Law of the Sea Kyoto Protocol on Greenhouse Gas Emissions and international pipeline agreements The volume lists thousands of primary and secondary source materials for research including books monographs journals governmental reports NGO publications and unpublished materials The book is truly international in scope with listings in 29 languages

Nationalism and National Projects in Southern Africa Ndlovu-Gatsheni, Sabelo J., Ndhlovu, Finex, 2013 Despite the fact that nationalism and its national projects have in recent years been severely criticised by postcolonial theorists for being fundamentalist and essentialist by feminists for being patriarchal and exclusive by global financial institutions for being antagonistic to development and globalisation by Pan Africanists for being anticontinental unity and by those Africans born after decolonisation for being irrelevant Sabelo J Ndlovu Gatsheni and Finex Ndhlovu s book convincingly argues that nationalism has defied its death and displayed remarkable resilience and resonance Since the end of the Cold War what has been poignant has been the enduring contest tensions and contradictions between the growth of various forms of transnationalism on the one hand and a resurgence of territorial as well as other narrow and xenophobic forms of nationalism on the other In this important book Ndlovu Gatsheni and Ndhlovu provide new critical reflections on nationalism and its national projects in southern Africa covering South Africa Zimbabwe and the Democratic Republic of Congo DRC a member of SADC The national question is interrogated from different disciplinary vantage points to reveal how it impinges on contemporary challenges of nation building development devolution of power language questions and citizenship on the one hand and ethnicity nativism and xenophobia on the other

Circular Migration in Zimbabwe & Contemporary Sub-Saharan Africa Deborah Helen Potts, 2010 The World Bank insists that the urban share of sub Saharan Africa s population is rapidly increasing this study shows that in many countries this is no longer true as migration strategies have adapted in response to economic and political change Circular migration whereby rural migrants do not remain permanently in town has particular significance in the academic literature on development and urbanization in Africa often having negative connotations in southern Africanist studies due to its links with an iniquitous migrant labour system Literature on other African regions often views circular migration more positively This book reviews the current evidence about circular migration and urbanization in sub Saharan Africa The author challenges the dominant view that rural urban migration continues unabated and shows that circular migration has continued and has adapted with faster out migration in the face of declining urban economic opportunities The empirical core of the book illustrates these trends through a detailed examination of the case of Zimbabwe based on the author s longstanding research on Harare The political and economic changes in Zimbabwe since the 1980s transformed Harare from one of the best African cities to live in over this period to one of the worst Harare citizens livelihoods exemplify in microcosm the central theme of the book the re invention of circulation and rural urban links in response to economic change Deborah Potts is a Senior Lecturer in the Geography Department of King s College London She works in the broad research field of urbanization and migration in sub Saharan Africa particularly southern Africa and has conducted research on these themes in Harare in Zimbabwe since 1985 Southern Africa South Africa Botswana Lesotho Swaziland Namibia and Zimbabwe University of Cape Town Press PB

Transport Systems, Policy and Planning Rodney Tolley, Brian John Turton, 2014-07-15 Provides a unique review of the major spatial aspects of transport systems a detailed analysis of transport problems in urban and rural areas an evaluation of social and environmental impacts and a planning and policy overview Divided into four parts each considering a different aspect of transport geography The first part outlines the basic geography of transport and examines transport and spatial structures focusing upon the varying contributions made by transport to industrial agricultural and urban development Part two moves to consider specific transport systems at both national and international scales drawing on studies from industrialised and developing nations and discussing the effects upon transport of the political changes in the former USSR and Eastern Europe The third part examines some of the many problems of transport and urban and rural areas using specific examples to illustrate the contrasting difficulties and evaluate current urban transportation planning methods Resources in Education ,1996 Chiefs of the Plantation Lincoln Addison,2019-08-15 South African agriculture is characterized by growing labour unrest evinced in recent years by high profile strikes but little is known about the sources and forms of day to day struggle In Chiefs of the Plantation Lincoln Addison examines how labour conflict is fuelled by changing management practices and how workers respond and resist across spatial sexual and spiritual domains Depicting in rich ethnographic detail daily life on a plantation Addison describes how agriculture has been restructured in the post apartheid era through a delegation of authority from white landowners to black intermediaries He explains that while this labour regime enables the profitability of plantations it gives rise to a fragile moral economy in which perceptions of what is tolerable and what is exploitation frequently clash In this environment transactional sex and Christian worship emerge as important terrains of gendered and spiritual contestation where women and low ranking workers remain resilient in the face of unequal power relations Meanwhile plantations project an appearance of benevolent paternalism particularly in the narratives and self identity of white landowners This book reveals how in the everyday life of the community both the plantation and the compound where the workers live serve as central grounds for the negotiation of labour relations A groundbreaking study that uncovers how migrant plantation workers challenge their exploitation Chiefs of the Plantation is a rare glimpse into the often hidden world of labour struggle on contemporary plantations Geographical Journal of Zimbabwe ,1987 Contemporary Development Ethics from an African Perspective Beatrice Okyere-Manu,Stephen Nkansah Morgan,Ovett Nwosimiri,2023-07-29 This book offers fresh academic insights reflections questions issues and approaches to development ethics taking into account African values and ethics Development ethics is an area of applied ethics that examines the moral issues involved in global social and economic transformation While it is a relatively new discipline there have been numerous scholarly publications on it from Western perspectives However only a few studies that focused on development ethics from the African perspective To address this gap the book seeks to answer critical questions such as What does development mean to Africans How can we measure development Who gets to decide and What constitutes just development in Africa With contributions from African scholars from diverse backgrounds the book covers various development themes such as Theories and approaches to development ethics in Africa Environmental Ethics and African Development Ethics Politics and African Development Migration and African development Gender Ethics and Socio economic Development in Africa Education Ethics and African development It is an essential resource for researchers lecturers and students interested in political philosophy and African culture studies

The Conservation of Violence Tafadzwa Mushonga,2025-07-14 The Conservation of Violence explores the governance of protected forests in Zimbabwe highlighting the structural and operational mechanism through which violent tactics are produced employed and sustained to promote nature conservation Drawing on political ecology geography and environmental politics it examines the central role of the state in conserving conservation violence The book presents contemporary cases studies of violence in conservation and introduces the concept of conservation of violence as an alternative framework for understanding the tenacity of violence in conservation areas across Africa It also delves into the constitutionalisation of environmental rights illustrating how these rights have been leveraged to enable and preserve conservation violence as well as the ways in which militarisation fosters and circulates violence By offering new ways for investigating violence in conservation the book interrogates the complexities of dismantling entrenched systems of violence and provides insights into the theoretical and practical obstacles of transforming conservation ideologies The explored include coloniality nature culture dichotomies resource governance extraction capitalism sustainability policy and conservation law regulation and policing environmental rights and environmental justice The Conservation of Violence will be a significant contribution to the fields of political ecology geography development environmental justice and the broader environmental humanities
