Implementation and World Politics

Alexander Betts, Phil Orchard, 2014 A significant amount of International Relations scholarship examines the role of international norms in world politics Existing work though focuses mainly on how these norms emerge and the process by which governments sign and ratify them In conventional accounts the story ends there Yet this tells us very little about the conditions under which these norms actually make any difference in practice When do these norms actually change what happens on the ground In order to address this analytical gap the book develops an original conceptual framework for understanding the role of implementation in world politics It applies this framework to explain variation in the impact of a range of people centred norms relating to humanitarianism human rights and development The book explores how the same international norms can have radically different effects in different national and local contexts or within particular organizations and in turn how this variation can have profound effects on people's lives How do international norms change and adapt at implementation Which actors and structures matter for shaping whether implementation actually takes place and on whose terms And what lessons can we derive from this for both International Relations theory and for international public policy makers Collectively the chapters explore these themes by looking at three different types of norms treaty norms principle norms and policy norms across policy fields that include refugees internal displacement crimes against humanity the use of mercenaries humanitarian assistance aid transparency civilian protection and the responsibility to protect

Indigenous Knowledge and Climate Governance Eromose E. Ebhuoma,Llewellyn Leonard,2022-06-04 This book investigates indigenous knowledge systems IKS in sub Saharan Africa thereby highlighting its role in facilitating adaptation to climate variability and change and also demystifying the challenges that prevent it from being integrated with scientific knowledge in climate governance schemes Indigenous people and their priceless knowledge rarely feature when decision makers prepare for future climate change This book showcases how Indigenous knowledge facilitates adaptation to climate change including how collaborations with scientific knowledge have cascaded into building people's resilience to climatic risks. This book also pays delicate attention to the factors fueling epistemic injustice towards Indigenous knowledge which hampers it from featuring in climate governance schemes across sub-Saharan Africa. The key insights shared in this book illuminate the issues that contribute meaningfully towards the actualisation of the UN SDG 13 and promote mechanisms for raising capacity for effective climate change related planning and management in sub-Saharan Africa.

Handbook of Nature-Based Solutions to Mitigation and Adaptation to Climate Change Gustavo J. Nagy, Desalegn Yayeh Ayal, 2025-11-04 Over recent years nature based solutions NbS have gained popularity as tools to ameliorate the effects of climate change while slowing down the global warming process. More specifically the potential of NbS has been explored in terms of meeting greenhouse gas emissions targets and fostering climate change adaptation. NbS are methods that use and enhance nature to improve social and environmental challenges. They involve several multifaceted actions that work sustainably to restore and protect the natural environment while helping people. Therefore these solutions are useful in climate change adaptation and mitigation. There are 3 main areas which NbS may target namely reducing exposure, reducing sensitivity and supporting adaptive capacity. Reducing exposure refers to protecting areas from existing climate change effects. There is thus a perceived need to document and promote experiences related to NbS and to apply these in different contexts. It is against this background that the Handbook of Nature Based Solutions to Mitigation and Adaptation to Climate Change is being produced. The publication will showcase experiences related to NbS from around the world. In particular it will gather examples of projects, studies and the latest thinking on NbS which can serve the purpose of inspiring and fostering further works in this key area. Thanks to its scope and thematic diversity the book will be of special interest to representatives from government organisations, researchers and students from a wide range of natural and social sciences courses. It will also provide useful information to practitioners and representatives from non governmental organisations.

Les jeunes non scolarisés d'Afrique subsaharienne Keiko Inoue, Emanuela di Gropello, Yesim Sayin Taylor, James Gresham, 2015-07-14 The economic and social prospects are daunting for the 89 million out of school youth who comprise nearly half of all youth in Sub-Saharan Africa. Within the next decade when this cohort becomes the core of the labor market an estimated 40 million more youth will drop out and will face an uncertain future with limited work and life skills. Furthermore out of school youth often are policy orphans positioned between sectors with little data, low implementation capacity, lack of interest in long term sustainability of programs, insufficient funds and little coordination across the different government agencies. This report provides a diagnostic analysis of the state of out of school youth in Sub-Saharan Africa focusing on the 12 to 24 year old cohort. This report also examines the decision path youth take as they progress through the education system and the factors that explain youth's school and work choices. It finds that individual and household characteristics, social norms and characteristics of the school system all matter in understanding why youth drop out and remain out of school. In particular six key factors characterize out of school youth i most out of school youth drop out before secondary school ii early marriage for female youth and iii rural residence increase the likelihood of being out of school iv parental education level and v the number of working adults are important household factors and vi lack of school access and low educational quality are binding supply side constraints Policy discussions on out of school youth are framed by these six key factors along with three entry points for intervention retention remediation and integration This report also reviews policies and programs in place for out of school youth across the continent Ultimately this report aims to inform public discussion policy formulation and development practitioners actions working with youth in Sub Saharan Africa India & World Geography YCT Expert Team, 2021 22

In 2013 almost half of Africa's top aid recipients were ruled by authoritarian regimes. While the West may claim to promote democracy and human rights in practice major bilateral and international donors such as USAID DFID the World Bank and the European Commission have seen their aid policies become ever more entangled with the survival of their authoritarian protégés. Local citizens thus find themselves at the receiving end of a compromise between aid agencies and government elites in which development policies are shaped in the interests of maintaining the status quo. Aid and Authoritarianism in Africa sheds light on the political intricacies and moral dilemmas raised by the relationship between foreign aid and autocratic rule in Africa. Through contributions by leading experts exploring the revival of authoritarian development politics in Ethiopia Uganda Rwanda Cameroon Mozambique and Angola the book exposes shifting donor interests and rhetoric as well as the impact of foreign aid on military assistance rural development electoral processes and domestic politics. In the process it raises an urgent and too often neglected question to what extent are foreign aid programmes actually perpetuating authoritarian rule. African Language Digital Media and Communication Abiodun Salawu, 2018-10-03.
