War by Other Means Robert D. Blackwill, Jennifer M. Harris, 2016-04-11 A Foreign Affairs Best Book of 2016 Today nations increasingly carry out geopolitical combat through economic means Policies governing everything from trade and investment to energy and exchange rates are wielded as tools to win diplomatic allies punish adversaries and coerce those in between Not so in the United States however America still too often reaches for the gun over the purse to advance its interests abroad The result is a playing field sharply tilting against the United States Geoeconomics the use of economic instruments to advance foreign policy goals has long been a staple of great power politics In this impressive policy manifesto Blackwill and Harris argue that in recent decades the United States has tended to neglect this form of statecraft while China Russia and other illiberal states have increasingly employed it to Washington's disadvantage G John Ikenberry Foreign Affairs A readable and lucid primer The book defines the extensive topic and opens readers eyes to its prevalence throughout history Presidential candidates who care more about protecting American interests would be wise to heed the advice of War by Other Means and take our geoeconomic toolkit more seriously Jordan Schneider Weekly Standard

OECD Food and Agricultural Reviews Agricultural Policies in the Philippines OECD, 2017-04-07 This report analyses Philippine agricultural policy Agriculture provides 30% of total employment in the Philippines and represents 11% of its Gross Domestic Product The Philippines has had notable recent overall economic success yet improving agricultural performance remains challenging

Labour and Economic Change in Southern Africa c.1900-2000 Rory Pilosof, Andrew Cohen, 2021-06-03 This book explores the social and economic development of Zimbabwe Zambia and Malawi over the course of the twentieth century These three countries have long shared and interconnected pasts All three were drawn into the British Empire at a similar time and the formation of the ill fated Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland formally linked these countries together for a decade in the mid twentieth century This formal political relationship created dynamics that resulted in yet closer economic and social links After Federation the economic realities of industry transport and labour supplies meant that these three countries continued to be intricately interconnected Yet despite these connected pasts comparative work on the economic histories of Malawi Zambia and Zimbabwe and how these change over time is rare This book addresses the gap by providing the first comprehensive collection of labour and census data across the twentieth century for these three countries The different economic models and performances of these states offer good comparison allowing researchers to look at different models of development and how these played out over the long term The book provides data on population growth and change industrial and occupational structure and the various shifts in what the economically active population did It will be useful for historians economists development studies scholars and non governmental organisations working on twentieth century and contemporary southern Africa

Non-Migration Amidst Zimbabwe's Economic Meltdown Rose Jaji, 2023-02-13
Non Migration Amidst Zimbabwe s Economic Meltdown addresses the complexities surrounding non migration in Zimbabwe within the context of protracted political and economic uncertainty Rose Jaji discusses how individual subjectivities mediate macroeconomic factors and critiques simplistic explanations of non migration paying particular attention the complexities and contradictions involved in the decision not to migrate The book ends with a discussion of the synergistic relationship between non migration and migration demonstrating how one can morph into the other in response to evolving individual circumstances and macroeconomic factors

Farm Labor Struggles in Zimbabwe Blair Rutherford, 2016-12-19
In the early twenty first century white owned farms in Zimbabwe were subject to large scale occupations by black urban dwellers in an increasingly violent struggle between national electoral politics land reform and contestations over democracy Were the black occupiers being freed from racist bondage as cheap laborers by the state supported massive land redistribution or were they victims of state violence who had been denied access to their homes social services and jobs Blair Rutherford examines the unequal social and power relations shaping the lives livelihoods and struggles of some of the farm workers during this momentous period in Zimbabwean history His analysis is anchored in the time he spent on a horticultural farm just east of Harare the capital of Zimbabwe that was embroiled in the tumult of political violence associated with jamba the democratization movement Rutherford complicates this analysis by showing that there was far more in play than political oppression by a corrupt and authoritarian regime and a movement to rectify racial and colonial land imbalances as dominant narratives would have it Instead he reveals farm worker livelihoods access to land gendered violence and conflicting promises of rights and sovereignty played a more important role in the political economy of citizenship and labor than had been imagined

Agriculture, Autonomous Development, and Prospects for Industrialization in Africa Emmanuel Ndhlovu, 2025-03-06
The book investigates the intersection of agriculture and development in Africa and how it impacts rural industrialisation prospects It provides a comprehensive view of the position of agriculture in African socio economic activities and the agricultural sector s potential as the source for continental development and industrialisation prospects Significant research has been done on African development with a focus placed on the problematic role played by slavery colonialism and later by incompetent African leaders who failed to steer development of the type that delivers a progressive sustained and sustainable transformation of lives and societies There is limited focus on the possibility of agriculture being the potential basis of African development and the chance for industrialisation This is a matter of concern considering the dominance of agriculture as a livelihood and income source for many people on the continent In contributing to the debate on development in Africa this book aims to show how agriculture can serve as the basis for African development and industrialisation This will be achieved by i providing a detailed historical description of the position of agriculture in African socio economic activities ii outlining the trajectory of African development with a focus on agriculture innovation and mechanisation iii identifying challenges to the development of African agriculture iv exploring the opportunities for agricultural development in Africa and v providing practical and policy recommendations to improve African agriculture and make it the engine for development and industrialisation Utilising a multidisciplinary approach which combines political economy social policy financial inclusion and empowerment approaches the book also shows how engagement of youth and women digitalisation and the provision of support by public and private actors can jump start agriculture as the engine of African development and industrialisation Taken together with this conscious effort to promote a multi disciplinary discussion the book is valuable reading for students policymakers and activists interested in emerging new directions in African development thinking and research

African Women in the Fourth Industrial Revolution Tinuade Adekunbi Ojo,Bhaso Ndzendze,2024-12-02 This book investigates how women in Africa are being impacted by the Fourth Industrial Revolution which describes the twenty first century proliferation of mobile internet machine learning and artificial intelligence The move towards digitalization brings fundamental changes in the way people work live and generally relate to each other However in many areas of Africa women face digital inclusion challenges and their lack of access to the internet limits their social political and economic participation in globalization This book considers the different policy approaches taken in African countries and their preparedness for enabling women s participation in the Fourth Industrial Revolution across a range of sectors By discussing key topics such as artificial intelligence technological adaptation drones entrepreneurship education and financial inclusion the book identifies positive policy approaches to ensure equitable progress towards the fourth industrial revolution at all structural levels Making a powerful case for the benefits of inclusive digital innovation this book will be of interest to researchers of women and technology in Africa

Fostering Long-Term Sustainable Development in Africa David Mhlanga,Mufaro Dzingirai,2024-08-31 This book provides a broad and insightful guide to the economic social and environmental concerns seen within Africa It highlights the central economic challenges faced by African countries and outlines ways in which long term sustainable development in Africa can be achieved A particular focus is given to issues of poverty inequality and unemployment and how poor infrastructure limited healthcare and education and environmental deterioration are exacerbating these issues By looking at the limited effectiveness of traditional development initiatives a new framework for economic development is presented that focuses on community ownership and long term sustainability and which acknowledges the history of colonisation economic exploitation and political instability that has held Africa back in the past This book takes hope from countries within the Global South that have moved towards sustainable development and sets out ways in which other countries can follow them It will be relevant to students researchers and policymakers interested in development and environmental economics The Conservation of Violence Tafadzwa Mushonga, 2025-07-14 The Conservation of Violence explores the governance of protected forests in Zimbabwe highlighting the structural and operational mechanism through which violent tactics are produced employed and sustained to promote nature conservation Drawing on political ecology geography and environmental politics it examines the central role of the state in conserving conservation violence The book presents contemporary cases studies of violence in conservation and introduces the concept of conservation of violence as an alternative framework for understanding the tenacity of violence in conservation areas across Africa It also delves into the constitutionalisation of environmental rights illustrating how these rights have been leveraged to enable and preserve conservation violence as well as the ways in which militarisation fosters and circulates violence By offering new ways for investigating violence in conservation the book interrogates the complexities of dismantling entrenched systems of violence and provides insights into the theoretical and practical obstacles of transforming conservation ideologies The explored include coloniality nature culture dichotomies resource governance extraction capitalism sustainability policy and conservation law regulation and policing environmental rights and environmental justice The Conservation of Violence will be a significant contribution to the fields of political ecology geography development environmental justice and the broader environmental humanities
