Zimsec November 2014 Geography Paper 2 Questions:

Reanimating Regions James Riding, Martin Jones, 2017-05-12 Writing regions undertaking a regional study was once a standard form of geographic communication and critique This was until the quantitative revolution in the middle of the previous century and more definitively the critical turn in human geography towards the end of the twentieth century From then on writing regions as they were experienced phenomenologically or arguing culturally historically and politically with regions was deemed to be old fashioned Yet the region is and always will be a central geographical concept and thinking about regions can tell us a lot about the history of the discipline called geography Despite taking up an identifiable place within the geographical imagination in scholarship and beyond region remains a relatively forgotten under used and in part under theorised term Reanimating Regions marks the continued reinvigoration of a set of disciplinary debates surrounding regions the regional and regional geography Across 18 chapters from international interdisciplinary scholars this book writes and performs region as a temporary permanence something held stable not fixed and absolute at different points in time for different purposes There is as this expansive volume outlines no single reading of a region Reanimating Regions collectively rebalances the region within geography and geographical thought In renewing the geography of regions as not only a site of investigation but also as an analytical framework through which to write the world what emerges is a powerful reworking of the geographic imagination Read against one another the chapters weave together timely commentaries on region and regions across the globe with a particular emphasis upon the regional as played out in the United Kingdom and regional worlds both within and beyond Europe offering chapters from Africa and South America Addressing both the political and the cultural this volume responds to the need for a consolidated and considered reflection on region the regional and regional geography speaking directly to broader intellectual concerns with performance aesthetics identity mobilities the environment and the body

Everyday Economic Survival in Myanmar Ardeth Maung Thawnghmung, 2019-01-22 Reforms in Myanmar formerly Burma have eased restrictions on citizens political activities Yet for most Burmese Ardeth Maung Thawnghmung shows eking out a living from day to day leaves little time for civic engagement Citizens have coped with extreme hardship through great resourcefulness But by making bad situations more tolerable in the short term these coping strategies may hinder the emergence of the democratic values needed to sustain the country's transition to a more open political environment Thawnghmung conducted in depth interviews and surveys of 372 individuals from all walks of life and across geographical locations in Myanmar between 2008 and 2015 To frame her analysis she provides context from countries with comparable political and economic situations Her findings will be welcomed by political scientists and policy analysts as well by journalists and humanitarian activists looking for substantive reliable information about everyday life in a country that remains largely in the shadows

Tourism and Development in Sub-Saharan Africa Marina Novelli, 2015-09-16 Over the past 20 years the perception of tourism as an effective contributor to socio economic development in the developing world has propagated with many viewing tourism as a provider for poverty alleviation and towards other UN Millennium Development Goals Over the same period readers have become familiar with the paradoxes complexities and inequalities of tourism in relation to development wealth creation growth redistribution governance and hosts guests relationships This volume further extends this critical debate with a much needed cohesive publication on Sub Sahara Africa SSA In an era of fluctuating tourist arrivals at global level the growth of tourism in SSA requires deeper consideration in terms of its inconsistent and questionable implications at local level Taking as a central theme the debate on whether tourism should be used in development efforts this book examines the way in which tourism has controversially become the way forward to development in several SSA locations and assesses bottlenecks to sustainable development as well as dilemmas and challenges faced by those SSA destinations seeking to achieve development through tourism It offers an explicit set of chapters adopting a multi disciplinary approach drawing upon tourism studies human geography sociology anthropology political economy development and environmental studies and integrates case studies authored by local African practitioners and academics to produce a book that gave voice to local experts on local realities Combining an overview of key theories concepts contemporary issues and debates as well as practical insights from a wide range of regions in SSA this book will be a valuable resource for those investigating the role of tourism in development The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Imperialism and Anti-Imperialism Immanuel Ness, Zak Cope, 2016-04-29 The Palgrave Encyclopedia Imperialism and Anti Imperialism objectively presents the prominent themes epochal events theoretical explanations and historical accounts of imperialism from 1776 to the present It is the most historically and academically comprehensive examination of the subject to date

Carbon Conflicts and Forest Landscapes in Africa Melissa Leach, Ian Scoones, 2015-06-05 Amidst the pressing challenges of global climate change the last decade has seen a wave of forest carbon projects across the world designed to conserve and enhance forest carbon stocks in order to reduce carbon emissions from deforestation and offset emissions elsewhere Exploring a set of new empirical case studies Carbon Conflicts and Forest Landscapes in Africa examines how these projects are unfolding their effects and who is gaining and losing Situating forest carbon approaches as part of more general moves to address environmental problems by attaching market values to nature and ecosystems it examines how new projects interact with forest landscapes and their longer histories of intervention The book asks what difference does carbon make What political and ecological dynamics are unleashed by these new commodified marketized approaches and how are local forest users experiencing and responding to them The book s case studies cover a wide range of African ecologies project types and national political economic contexts By examining these cases in a comparative framework and within an understanding of the national regional and global institutional arrangements shaping forest carbon commoditisation the book provides a rich and compelling account of how and why carbon conflicts are emerging and how they might be avoided in future This book will be of interest to students of development studies environmental sciences geography economics development studies and anthropology as well as practitioners and policy makers Tourism, Change and the Global South Jarkko Saarinen, Jayne M. Rogerson, 2021-06-16 This significant volume is the first to focus on both the changing nature of tourism and the capacity of tourism to effect change especially in the Global South Geographically this changing nature of tourism is based on the transforming relationships between demand supply and location While this is nothing new in tourism recent decades have intensified the changing characteristics of global tourism From another perspective tourism represents a change and nowadays many localities and regions aim to use tourism as a tool for positive change i.e. development However this has turned out to be a challenging task in practice especially in the Global South context where the relationship between tourism growth and local development has often been controversial This book looks at a host of critical concepts in one volume such as growth and development adaptation and resilience sustainability and responsibility governance and planning and heritage and destination management strategies By understanding the drivers of change this book sheds new insight into the promise and role of sustainability and responsibility in tourism development This book will be of great interest to all upper level students academics and researchers in the fields of Tourism Geography and Cultural and Heritage studies Geographies of Development Robert Potter, Tony Binns, Jennifer Elliott, Etienne Nel, David Smith, 2019-03-07 Now in its fourth edition Geographies of Development An Introduction to Development Studies remains a core balanced and comprehensive introductory textbook for students of Development Studies Development Geography and related fields This clear and concise text encourages critical engagement by integrating theory alongside practice and related key topics throughout It demonstrates informatively that ideas concerning development have been many and varied and highly contested varying from time to time and from place to place Clearly written and accessible for students who have no prior knowledge of development the book provides the basics in terms of a geographical approach to development what situation is where when and why Over 200 maps charts tables textboxes and pictures break up the text and offer alternative ways of showing the information The text is further enhanced by a range of pedagogical features chapter outlines case studies key thinkers critical reflections key points and summaries discussion topics and further reading Geographies of Development continues to be an invaluable introductory text not only for geography students but also anyone in area studies international studies and development studies Urban Food Systems Governance and Poverty in African Cities Jane Battersby, Vanessa Watson, 2018-08-22 As Africa urbanises and the focus of poverty shifts to urban centres there is an imperative to address poverty in African cities This is particularly the case in smaller cities which are often the most rapidly urbanising but the least able to cope with this growth This book argues that an examination of the food system and food security provides a valuable lens to interrogate urban poverty Chapters examine the linkages between poverty urban food systems and local governance with a focus on case studies from three smaller or secondary cities in Africa Kisumu Kenya Kitwe Zambia and Epworth Zimbabwe The book makes a wider contribution to debates on urban studies and urban governance in Africa through analysis of the causes and consequences of the paucity of urban scale data for decision makers and by presenting potential methodological innovations to address this paucity As the global development agenda is increasingly focusing on urban issues most notably the urban goal of the new Sustainable Development Goals and the New Urban Agenda the work is timely The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.tandfebooks.com/doi/view/10.4324/9781315191195> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

The Right to Be Rural Karen R. Foster, Jennifer Jarman, 2022-03-03 In this collection researchers analyze rural societies economies and governance in North America Europe Africa and Asia through the lens of rights and citizenship across such varied domains as education employment and health The provocative concept of a right to be rural illuminates not only the challenges faced by rural communities worldwide but also underappreciated facets of community resilience in the face of these challenges The book's central question is there a right to be rural offers insights into how these communities are created maintained and challenged The authors illustrate that citizenship rights have a spatial character and that this observation is critical to studying and understanding rural life in the twenty first century Scholars and policymakers concerned with the health and well being of rural communities will be interested in this book Contributors Ray Bollman Clement Chipenda Innocent Chirisa Logan Cochrane Pallavi Das Laura Domingo Pe afiel Laura Farr Riera Jens Kaae Fisker Karen R Foster Lesley Frank Greg Hadley Stacey Haugen Jennifer Jarman Kathleen Kevany Eshetayehu Kinfu Al Lauzon Katie MacLeod Jeofrey Matai Ilona Matysiak Kayla McCarney Rachel McLay Egon Noe Howard Ramos Katja Rinne Koski Sulevi Riukulehto Sarah Rudrum Ario Seto Nuria Simo Gil Peggy Smith Sara Teitelbaum Annette Aagaard Thuesen Tom Tom Ashleigh Weeden Satenia Zimmermann

Indigenous Knowledge and Climate Governance Eromose E. Ebhuoma, Llewellyn Leonard, 2022-06-04 This book investigates indigenous knowledge systems IKS in sub Saharan Africa thereby highlighting its role in facilitating adaptation to climate variability and change and also demystifying the challenges that prevent it from being integrated with scientific knowledge in climate governance schemes Indigenous people and their priceless knowledge rarely feature when decision makers prepare for future climate change This book showcases how Indigenous knowledge facilitates adaptation to climate change including how collaborations with scientific knowledge have cascaded into building people's resilience to climatic risks This book also pays delicate attention to the factors fueling epistemic injustice towards Indigenous knowledge which hampers it from featuring in climate governance schemes across sub Saharan Africa The key insights shared in this book illuminate the issues that contribute meaningfully towards the actualisation of the UN SDG 13 and promote mechanisms for raising capacity for effective climate change related planning and management in sub Saharan Africa

Revolution without Revolutionaries Asef Bayat, 2023-05-25 A study of the Arab Spring and its aftermath alongside the revolutions of the 1970s The revolutionary wave that swept the Middle East in 2011 was marked by spectacular mobilization spreading within and between countries with extraordinary speed Several years on however it has caused limited shifts in structures of power leaving much of the old political and social order intact In this book noted author Asef Bayat whose Life as Politics anticipated the Arab Spring uncovers why this occurred and what made these uprisings so distinct from those that came before Revolution without Revolutionaries is both a history of the Arab Spring and a history of revolution writ broadly Setting the 2011 uprisings side by side with the revolutions of the 1970s particularly the Iranian Revolution Bayat reveals a profound global shift in the nature of protest as acceptance of neoliberal policy has spread radical revolutionary impulses have diminished Protestors call for reform rather than fundamental transformation By tracing the contours and illuminating the meaning of the 2011 uprisings Bayat gives us the book needed to explain and understand our post Arab Spring world Praise for Revolution without Revolutionaries Bayat is in the vanguard of a subtle and original theorization of social movements and social change in the Middle East His attention to the lives of the urban poor his extensive field work in very different countries within the region and his ability to see over the horizon of current paradigms make his work essential reading Juan Cole University of Michigan An astute analyst of the Middle East Asef Bayat is one of the very few researchers equipped to historicize the region's contemporary uprisings In Revolution without Revolutionaries he deftly and sympathetically employs his own observations of Iran immediately before and after the 1979 revolution to reflect on the epochal shifts that have re-worked the political regimes economic structures and revolutionary imaginaries across the region today Arang Keshavarzian New York University Bayat provocatively questions the Arab Spring's apparent moderation tracing its softness to decades of neoliberalism that have undermined the national state and discarded old fashioned forms of revolutionary violence This groundbreaking book is not an obituary for the Arab Spring but a hopeful glimpse at its future Olivier Roy author of The Failure of Political Islam Climate Vulnerability

,2013-03-15 Climate change has been the subject of thousands of books and magazines scientific journals and newspaper articles daily It's a subject that can be very political and emotional often blurring the lines between fact and fiction The vast majority of research studies projections and recommendations tend to focus on the human influence on climate change and global warming as the result of CO2 emissions often to the exclusion of other threats that include population growth and the stress placed on energy sources due to emerging global affluence Climate Vulnerability Five Volume Set seeks to strip away the politics and emotion that surround climate change and will assess the broad range of threats using the bottom up approach including CO2 emissions population growth emerging affluence and many others to our five most critical resources water food ecosystems energy and human health Inclusively determining what these threats are while seeking preventive measures and adaptations is at the heart of this unique reference work Takes a Bottom Up approach addressing climate change and the threat to our key resources at the local level first and globally second providing a more accurate and inclusive approach Includes extensive cross referencing which is key to readers as new connections between factors can be discovered Cuts across a number of disciplines and will appeal to Biological Science Earth Environmental Science Ecology and Social Science comprehensively addressing climate change and other threats to our key resources from multiple perspectives
