Socialising the Biomedical Turn in HIV Prevention Susan Kippax,Niamh Stephenson,2016-06-28 This book concerns HIV prevention In it the authors argue that until the world focuses its attention on the social issues carried and revealed by AIDS it is unlikely that HIV transmission will be eradicated or even significantly reduced The book argues that we are currently witnessing the remedicalisation or the continuing biomedicalisation of HIV prevention which began in earnest after the development of successful HIV treatment and that this biomedical trajectory continues with the increasing push to use HIV treatments as prevention undermining what has been in many countries a successful prevention response This wide ranging study argues that HIV prevention involves enabling people and communities to discuss sex sexuality and drug use and informed by these discussion devising locally effective strategies for promoting safe sexual and drug injection practices

The Young Earth Euan G. Nisbet, 2012-12-06 What are we going to do with a parcel of old stones wrote the director of an African museum a century and a half ago when one of my ancestors presented him with a splendid collection of fossils of mammal like reptiles Old stones however intriguing are difficult to interpret dusty and do not fit well in the neatly ordered contents of a house of learning Archaean geology which is the study of the Earth s history in the period from after 9 the end of planetary accretion 4 5 4 4 x 10 years ago up to the beginning 9 of the Proterozoic 2 5 x 10 years ago is much the same a parcel of old stones seemingly impossible to understand Yet these stones contain the history of our origins they can tell us a story that is interesting not just to the geologist for whom this book is primarily written but instead addresses the human condition in general

Broken Promises Edward C Green, 2016-12-05 Ideological blinders have led to millions of preventable AIDS deaths in Africa Dr Edward C Green former director of the Harvard AIDS Prevention Project describes how Western AIDS experts stubbornly pursued ineffective remedies and sabotaged the most successful AIDS prevention program on that ravaged continent Drawing on 30 years of conducting research in Africa Southeast Asia and other parts of the world in international health Green offers a set of evidence based and experience rich solutions to the AIDS crisis He calls for new emphasis on promoting sexual fidelity the only strategy shown by research to work Controversial but important findings for health researchers international development specialists and policy makers

Biodiversity and Conservation , Witches, Westerners, and HIV Alexander Rödlach,2016-09-17 A witch s curse an imperialist conspiracy a racist plot HIV AIDS is a catastrophic health crisis with complex cultural dimensions From small villages to the international system explanations of where it comes from who gets it and who dies are tied to political agendas religious beliefs and the psychology of devastating grief Frequently these explanations conflict with science and clash with prevention and treatment programs In Witches Westerners and HIV Alexander R dlach draws on a decade of research and work in Zimbabwe to compare beliefs about witchcraft and conspiracy theories surrounding HIV AIDS in Africa He shows how both types of beliefs are part of a process of blaming others for AIDS a process that occurs around the globe but takes on local culturally specific forms He also demonstrates the impact of these beliefs on public health and advocacy programs arguing that cultural misunderstandings contribute to the failure of many well intentioned efforts This insightful book provides a cultural perspective essential for everyone interested in AIDS and cross cultural health issues Conservation Agriculture for Africa Amir H Kassam,Saidi Mkomwa,Theodor Friedrich,2016-12-14 Tillage agriculture has led to widespread soil and ecosystem degradation globally This is especially so in Africa where traditional and modern tillage based agricultural practices have become unsustainable due to severe disturbance and exploitation of natural resources with negative impacts on the environment and rural livelihoods In addition agriculture in Africa today faces major challenges including increased costs of production and energy the effects of climate change and the lack of an effective paradigm for sustainable intensification especially for small and medium size holdings Africa is facing a serious challenge to food security and as a continent has not advanced towards eradicating hunger In addition the population is still growing much faster than on most other continents This pressure has led to the emergence of no till conservation agriculture as a serious alternative sustainable agriculture paradigm In Africa in recent years conservation agriculture techniques and methods have spread to many countries as greater development education and research effort are directed towards its extension and uptake This book is aimed at agricultural researchers and scientists educationalists and agricultural service providers institutional leaders and policy makers working in the fields of sustainable agriculture and international development and also at agroecologists conservation scientists and those working on ecosystem services Integrated Pest Management Jay Lawrence Apple,Ray Fred Smith,1976 The Routledge Handbook of Disability in Southern Africa Tsitsi Chataika,2018-07-27 This comprehensive ground breaking southern African centred collection spans the breadth of disability research and practice Reputable and emerging scholars together with disability advocates adopt a critical and

Mushrooms in Forests and Woodlands Anthony B. Cunningham,Xuefei Yang,2012-06-25 Many mushrooms or the fruits of fungi are extremely valuable wild gathered products which are utilised for both their medicinal properties and as food In many of the world s tropical and temperate forests they are the primary source of income for the people who live there These forests range from temperate woodlands and small forests to high altitude forests in the Himalaya and tropical miombo woodlands in south central Africa In south west China over 200 species of wild fungi in 64 genera are commercially traded while in Europe and North America woodlands and small forests are the source of many highly prized mushrooms and an essential resource for many small enterprises and collectors Yet the increased demand for timber has resulted in the rapid expansion of forestry which in turn has destroyed the natural habitat of many fungi unbalancing both forest economics and ecology Despite the economic social and cultural values of fungi there is a general lack of understanding of their importance to local livelihoods and forest ecology This book aims to fill this gap and extends the People and Plants Conservation Series beyond the plant kingdom into the related world of fungi and mushrooms It demonstrates the crucial roles that fungi play in maintaining forest ecosystems and the livelihoods of rural people throughout the world while providing good practice guidelines for the sustainable management of this resource and an assessment of economic value It brings together the perspectives of biologists anthropologists and forest and woodland managers to provide a unique inter disciplinary and international overview of the
