Never blame anyone in your life.
Good people give you happiness.
Bad people give you experience.
Worst people give you a lesson.
Best people give you memories.

Life Lessons from Zig Ziglar

1. If you can't drive it, you can't achieve it.
2. A goal properly said is halfway reached.
3. If you want to reach a goal, you must take the "back way" in your own mind before you actually arrive at your goal.
4. Expect the best. Prepare for the worst. Capitalize on what comes.
5. Every choice you make has an end result.
6. It's not what you've got that counts; it's what you can do with it.
7. If you don't see yourself as a winner, you won't be.
8. Positive thinking will let you do everything better than negative thinking will.
9. You cannot take away the situations in life, but you can take away the attitude to the those situations.
10. If you turn from defeat, you haven't really lost.
11. Failure is a detour, not a dead-end corner.
12. Remember that failure is only a word with no meaning.
13. People often say "excuse me" doesn't exist, but it does. It's a word that is often used with...

FAILURE IS A DETOUR, NOT A DEAD-END
STREET.

Zig Ziglar

Lack of direction, not lack of time, is the problem. We all have twenty-four hour days.

— Zig Ziglar

Far too many people have no idea of what they can do
because all they have been told is what they can't do.

Raising Respectful Children in a Disrespectful World Jill Rigby, 2006-08-01 Author and speaker Jill Rigby maintains that our society has substituted self esteem for self respect and in the process we've lost our manners In this inspirational and practical book she tells parents how to instill character and purpose in their children without erecting walls of rebellion In an effort to raise children with a healthy view of themselves parents have focused on self esteem rather than self respect And author Jill Rigby says there's a big difference. It's the difference between self-centered and others-centered children, the difference between performance-driven and purpose-focused teenagers. This book also examines three different styles of parenting: parent-centered, child-centered, and character-centered. Parent-centered parents are more concerned with their own agenda than their child's best interest. Child-centered parents are more concerned with their child's approval than their child's well-being. Character-centered parents are more concerned with their child's character than their child's comfort. A chapter on the School of Respect gives guidance for tots to teens and what the goal for each age group is and what training is necessary to reach that goal. This chapter also includes thirty-six ways to cultivate a house of respect. Drawing a distinction between performance and purpose, this book maintains that rather than asking what you want your child to do, you ask what you want your child to become. In delineating the difference between being a coach to your child vs. being a cheerleader, the author teaches parents the difference in offering false and genuine praise and applauding mediocrity vs. engendering excellence. With wisdom and insight, Jill Rigby shares age-appropriate ways to set boundaries with children without building walls of separation. Finally, she calls for parents to discipline, teach their children, rather than punish them.
