Zimbabwe A Level History Text Books:

People and power Andre Proctor, 1991 The Colonial Past in History Textbooks Karel Van Nieuwenhuyse, Joaquim Pires Valentim, 2018-05-01

This book examines the evolving representations of the colonial past from the mid 19th century up to decolonization in the 1960s and 70s the so called era of Modern Imperialism in post war history textbooks from across the world The aim of the book is to examine the evolving outlook of colonial representations in history education and the underpinning explanations for the specific outlook in different former colonizer and colonized countries to be found in collective memory popular historical culture social representations identity building processes and the state of historical knowledge within academia The approach of the book is novel and innovative in different ways First of all given the complexity of the research an original interdisciplinary approach has been implemented which brings together historians history educators and social psychologists to examine representations of colonialism in history education in different countries around the world while drawing on different theoretical frameworks Secondly given the interest in the interplay between collective memory popular historical culture social representations and the state of historical knowledge within academia a diachronic approach is implemented examining the evolving representations of the colonial past and connecting them to developments within society at large and academia This will allow for a deeper understanding of the processes under examination Thirdly studies from various corners of the world are included in the book More specifically the project includes research from three categories of countries former colonizer countries including England Spain Italy France Portugal and Belgium countries having been both colonized and colonizer Chile and former colonized countries including Zimbabwe Malta and Mozambique This selection allows pairing up the countries under review as former colonizing colonized ones for instance Portugal Mozambique United Kingdom Malta allowing for an in depth comparison between the countries involved Before reaching the research core three introductory chapters outline three general issues The book starts with addressing the different approaches and epistemological underpinnings history and social psychology as academic disciplines hold In a second chapter evolutions within international academic colonial historiography are analyzed with a special focus on the recent development of New Imperial History A third chapter analyses history textbooks as cultural tools and political means of transmitting historical knowledge and representations across generations The next ten chapters form the core of the book in which evolving representations of colonial history from mid 19th century until decolonization in the 1960s and 1970s are examined explained and reflected upon for the above mentioned countries This is done through a history textbook analysis in a diachronic perspective For some countries the analysis dates back to textbooks published after the Second World War for other countries the focus will be more limited in time The research presented is done by historians and history educators as well as by social psychologists In a concluding chapter an overall overview is presented in which similarities and differences throughout the case studies are identified interpreted and reflected upon

(Re)Constructing Memory: Textbooks,

Identity, Nation, and State James H. Williams, Wendy D. Bokhorst-Heng, 2016-07-08 This book engages readers in thirteen conversations presented by authors from around the world regarding the role that textbooks play in helping readers imagine membership in the nation. Authors' voices come from a variety of contexts: some historical, some contemporary, some providing analyses over time. But they all consider the changing portrayal of diversity, belonging and exclusion in multiethnic and diverse societies where silenced, invisible, marginalized members have struggled to make their voices heard and to have their identities incorporated into the national narrative. The authors discuss portrayals of past exclusions around religion, ethnicity, sexual orientation as they look at the shifting boundaries of insider and outsider. This book is thus about who we are, not only demographically but also in terms of the past, especially how and whether we teach discredited pasts through textbooks. The concluding chapters provide ways forward in thinking about what can be done to promote curricula that are more inclusive, critical and positively bonding in increasingly larger and more inclusive contexts. People and Power, 1992

Zimbabwe Brian Raftopoulos, Tyrone Savage, 2004 The author is from the Institute of Development Studies at the University of Zimbabwe. He examines the paradox ensuing from the Lancaster House Settlement at Zimbabwe's independence: that whilst colonial rule was ended, the framework was provided for continued white privilege on the basis of control of the economy by this elite and through them transnational capital. He analyses the responses of the ruling, including official elite, the black petty bourgeoisie and the group associated with the former Rhodesian Front. History Gr11 L/b,

People and Power Andre Proctor, 1992 The Palgrave Handbook of Conflict and History Education in the Post-Cold War Era Luigi Cajani, Simone Lässig, Maria Repoussi, 2019-06-28 This Handbook provides a systematic and analytical approach to the various dimensions of international, ethnic and domestic conflict over the uses of national history in education since the end of the Cold War. With an upsurge in political, social and cultural upheaval, particularly since the fall of state socialism in Europe, the importance of history textbooks and curricula as tools for influencing the outlooks of entire generations is thrown into sharp relief. Using case studies from 58 countries, this book explores how history education has had the potential to shape political allegiances and collective identities. The contributors highlight the key issues over which conflict has emerged, including the legacies of socialism and communism, war, dictatorships and genocide, issues which frequently point to tensions between adhering to and challenging the idea of a cohesive national identity and historical narrative. Global in scope, the Handbook will appeal to a diverse academic audience, including historians, political scientists, educationists, psychologists, sociologists and scholars working in the field of cultural and media studies. Zimbabwe Books in Print, 1993 Versions of Zimbabwe. New Approaches to Literature and Culture Robert Muponde, Ranka Primorac, 2005-06-15 The book is the result of a collaboration of scholars from southern Africa and overseas whose work emphasises hitherto overshadowed subjects of literature, exposing new and untried approaches to Zimbabwean writing. The contributors focus on pluralities, inclusiveness and the breaking of boundaries and elucidate how literary texts are betraying multiple versions and opinions of Zimbabwe arguing that only a multiplicity of opinions on Zimbabwe can do the complexity of the society and history justice Peasant Consciousness and Guerilla War in Zimbabwe Terence O. Ranger,T. O. Ranger,1985-01-01 States and the Making of Others Jeanne Bouyat,Amandine Le Bellec,Lucas Puygrenier,2024-06-17

This volume offers a unique interdisciplinary and comparative perspective on contemporary processes of othering by state institutions in relation to dynamics of racism xenophobia sexism homo transphobia as well as ethnic and class based discriminations It focuses on eight original case studies empirically grounded in various domains of the social state in Southern African and Western European contexts the education and health care systems the regulation of work and of procreation rights and institutions in charge of granting asylum The authors provide key insights on how states produce Others and on how othering contributes in turn to the process of state formation and the politicization of public action

Teaching African History in Schools ,2020-11-04 Emerging from the pioneering work of the African Association for History Education AHE Afrika Teaching African History in Schools offers an original Africa centred contribution to international history education research Edited by AHE Afrika s founders and directors the volume thus addresses a notable gap in this field by showcasing otherwise marginalised scholarship from and about Africa Teaching African History in Schools constitutes a unique collection of nine empirical studies interrogating curriculum and textbook contents and teachers and learners voices and experiences as they relate to teaching and learning African history across the continent and beyond Case studies include South Africa Kenya Rwanda Zimbabwe Malawi Cameroon and Tanzania as well as the UK and Canada Contributors are Denise Bantrot Carol Bertram Jean Leonard Buhigiro Annie Fatsereni Chiponda Raymond Nkwenti Fru Marshall Tamuka Maposa Abdul Mohamud Sabrina Moisan Reville Nussey Nancy Rushohora Johan Wassermann and Robin Whitburn National Healing, Integration and Reconciliation in Zimbabwe Ezra Chitando,2019-12-06 This book brings together scholars from diverse backgrounds to provide interdisciplinary perspectives on national healing integration and reconciliation in Zimbabwe Taking into account the complex nature of healing across moral political economic cultural psychological and spiritual dimensions of communities and the nation the chapters discuss approaches disparities tensions and solutions to healing and reconciliation within a multidisciplinary framework Arguing that Zimbabwe s development agenda is severely compromised by the dominance of violence and militancy the contributors analyse the challenges possibilities and opportunities for national healing This book will be of interest to scholars of African studies conflict and reconciliation and development studies The Jaws of A Crocodile Edson Kudzai Mutuwira,2014-05 It is about an orphan girl called Tambudzai Tambudzai stays with her grandmother The two live in abject poverty manifested by a monotonous diet of sadza thick maize meal porridge served with wild vegetables or mufushwa dried cowpeas leaves as relish everyday To break the monotony Tambudzai goes out fishing in a crocodile infested mighty Save River She catches a lot of fish She is attacked by a crocodile The crocodile drags her across a pool in the river and into a tunnel that leads to its nest The crocodile dumps into its nest what it thought was a corpse to feed its young ones The young crocodiles hungrily attack Tambudzai trying to tear off some flesh from her body Tambudzai recovers consciousness and kills all the young crocodiles She burrows her way out of the crocodile nest in a bid to escape On coming to check on its young ones the mother crocodile finds them all dead It follows Tambudzai's foot prints and crawls out of the nest through the same hole Tambudzai had made and used Once outside it sees Tambudzai and it goes after her to avenge for the death of its young ones Tambudzai tries to quicken her step but she cannot run fast because her leg was broken during the attack Tambudzai is saved by some dogs that were chasing a duiker The duiker passed between the crocodile and Tambudzai The dogs saw the crocodile and attacked it This gave Tambudzai a chance to escape from the jaws of the crocodile

History Lessons Dana Lindaman, Kyle Ward, 2006-07-04 A fascinating look at what students in Russia France Iran and other nations are taught about America The New York Times Book Review This timely and important book History News Network gives us a glimpse into classrooms across the globe where opinions about the United States are first formed History Lessons includes selections from textbooks and teaching materials used in Russia France Iran Saudi Arabia Cuba Canada and others covering such events as the American Revolution the Cuban Missile Crisis the Iran hostage crisis and the Korean War providing some alternative viewpoints on the history of the United States from the time of the Viking explorers to the post Cold War era By juxtaposing starkly contrasting versions of the historical events we take for granted History Lessons affords us a sometimes hilarious often sobering look at what the world thinks about America's past A brilliant idea Foreign Affairs

The Presented Past B. L. Molyneux, P. G. Stone, 2003-09-02 The Presented Past is concerned with the differences between the comparatively static well understood way in which the past is presented in schools museums and at historic sites compared to the approaches currently being explored in contemporary archaeology It challenges the all too frequent representation of the past as something finished understood and objective rather than something that is constructed and therefore open to co existing interpretations and constant re interpretation Central to the book is the belief that the presentation of the past in school curricula and in museum and site interpretations will benefit from a greater use of non documentary sources derived from archaeological study and oral histories The book suggests that a view of the past incorporating a larger body of evidence and a wider variety of understanding will help to invigorate the way history is taught The Presented Past will be of interest to teachers archaeologists cultural resource managers in fact anyone who is concerned with how the past is presented

Development Perspectives from the South Munyaradzi Mawere, 2016-12-14 Not so long ago the Economist Newspaper described Africa as a hopeless continent This damning description specifically referred to the development status of Africa While the debate on the political and socio economic under development of Africa had been raging on prior to the Economist's daring but controversial pronouncements it intensified from thereon Many concerned people from within the continent and elsewhere have reprobated the proclamation but mainly in newspapers and the broadcast media Not enough has been done by development scholars to critically reflect on the description and status of Africa's development condition in a nuanced and systematic fashion. Yet it is through incisive reflections and systematic engagements with Africa's situations and circumstances that directions and solutions to the African development predicament could be forged. The present volume is an attempt to open up a constructive dialogue between the Global North and the Global South on the African underdevelopment conundrum. The book is an eye opener to African governments, social scientists, policy makers and development scholars concerned with the urgent need to rethink, reimagine and retheorise Africa's development gridlock. History Gr11

L/b Afrikaans , Educational Policy Borrowing David Phillips, Kimberly Ochs, 2004-05-10. This book builds on the Editors' previous work on the analysis of policy borrowing processes in education. A number of prominent researchers in comparative studies contribute articles describing and analysing policy borrowing in a number of historical contexts, with many of the examples testing aspects of the explanatory models developed by Phillips and Ochs. The countries covered include England, Spain, Germany, France, Austria, Japan and South Africa.
