Zimsec Physics Paper November 23:

Indigenous and institutional profile: Limpopo River Basin Anton Earle, Jaqui Goldin, Rose Machiridza, Daniel Malzbender, Emmanuel Manzungu, Tiego Mpho, 2006-10-17 This paper presents an overview of water related governance structures and institutions in the Limpopo Basin. The Basin is of critical socio economic importance to the 14 million people distributed across the four riparian states of Botswana, Mozambique, South Africa and Zimbabwe. Urban centers mostly in Botswana and South Africa are major water users supplying industries, power stations and municipalities. Water is also used in rural areas for domestic livestock watering and irrigation purposes. While irrigated agricultural activities are largely concentrated in South Africa and Zimbabwe, the majority of rural populations engage in rain fed agriculture which does not guarantee secure livelihoods. This is due in large part to the region's semi arid climate where only two out of every five agricultural seasons produce reasonable crop yields. These climatic conditions emphasize the need for effective management of transboundary water resources and effective governance structures, delivery and control mechanisms. Appropriate institutional frameworks and governance structures have a pivotal role in defining the socio economic situation of the people in the Basin.

The Zimbabwe Science News, 1999 Zimbabwe National Bibliography, 1985 Dare to Invent the Future Clapperton Chakanetsa Mavhunga, 2023-11-21 A rallying manifesto for the innovative problem solving we need to build a better, more verdant and sustainable planetary existence. Academics are letting Africa down. With all that we know, what do we have to show for it? Whose lives have been changed for the better by it? What have we done for and with our communities lately? In this provocative book, the first in a trilogy, Clapperton Chakanetsa Mavhunga argues that our critical thinkers must become actual thinkers. Taking its title from one of Thomas Sankara's most inspirational speeches, Dare to Invent the Future looks for moments in Africa's story where precedents of critical thought and knowledge in service of problem solving are evident to inspire readers to dare to invent such a knowledge system. Mavhunga revisits insights from Edward Wilmot Blyden, Booker T. Washington, Aimé Césaire, Frantz Fanon, Amílcar Cabral, Julius Nyerere and Thomas Sankara to illustrate how the academic disciplines have been and could be deployed in the service of and through problem solving, building on what people are doing and know. At its core, he writes, knowledge in the service of and through problem solving derives from reading the past for new questions, doing due diligence in the present and contriving an anticipatory approach toward the future. Questioning the fundamental premises of Western and white knowledge production, especially regarding science and technology, Mavhunga proposes in this book refreshingly new approaches to thinking, doing that stem from African realities in the hopes of inspiring a generation that will run toward not away from problems to solve them.

Resources in Education, 1990 The Zambezi River Basin Jonathan Lautze, Zebediah Phiri, Vladimir Smakhtin, Davison Saruchera, 2017-07-28 The Zambezi river is the fourth longest in Africa, crossing or bordering Zambia, Angola, Namibia, Botswana, Zimbabwe and Mozambique. The river basin is widely recognised as one of the most important basins in southern Africa and is the focus of contested development including water for hydropower and for agriculture and the environment This book provides a thorough review of water and sustainable development in the Zambezi in order to identify critical issues and propose constructive ways forward The book first reviews the availability and use of water resources in the basin outlines the basin s economic potential and highlights key concerns related to climate vulnerability and risk Focus is then devoted to hydropower and the water energy food WEF nexus sustainable agricultural water management and threats and opportunities related to provision of ecosystem services The impact of urbanisation and water quality is also examined as well as ways to enhance transboundary water cooperation Last the book assesses the level of water security in the basin and provides suggestions for achieving Sustainable Development Goal SDG 6 Throughout emphasis is placed on entry points for basin level management to foster improved paths forward

Derman,2017-05-19 For the past two decades Integrated Water Resources Management IWRM has been the dominant paradigm in water resources This book explores how ideas of IWRM are being translated and adapted in Mozambique South Africa Tanzania Uganda and Zimbabwe Grounded in social science theory and research it highlights the importance of politics history and culture in shaping water management practices and reform and demonstrates how Africa has clearly been a laboratory for IWRM While a new cadre of professionals made IWRM their mission we show that poor women and men may not have always benefitted In some cases IWRM has also offered a distraction from more critical issues such as water and land grabs privatisation the negative impacts of water permits and a range of institutional ambiguities that prevent water allocations to small and poor water users By critically examining the interpretations and challenges of IWRM the book contributes to improving water policies and practices and making them more locally appropriate in Africa and beyond
